Plans Launched For Countywide Spelling Events

Plans have been launched for the annual spelling bees in the public and parochial school systems of Columbiana County.

Thirty - two winners from the various events again will compete in the countywide finals April 22 at the auditorium of David Anderson High School in Lisbon to select the five who will advance to regional competition at Canton in May. The Canton winner, in turn, will move on to the national finals at Washington, D. C., June 10-15.

The East Liverpool Review and the Salem News again will cosponsor the county contests, with the Canton Repository sponsoring the Canton spelldown. The Review, the News and the Repository are members of Brush - Moore Newspapers, Inc.

Eight elimination divisions again have been set up for the county leading to the finals at Lisbon. The systems and the number of contestants each will advance to the county bee follow:

East Liverpool public schools, 8; county schools, 8; Salem public schools, 5; Wellsville public schools, 3; Lisbon, Columbiana and Leetonia public schools, 2 each; county parochial schools, 2.

Bee officials have requested that the various divisions wind up their individual eliminations no later than April 15 to permit adequate preparation for the event at Lisbon. This will be the fourth countywide bee.

Taking part in the countywide parochial bee at St. Aloysius School here will be spellers from St. Aloysius, Immaculate Conception of Wellsville, St. Paul's of Salem, St. Patrick's of Leetonia and Our Lady of Lourdes of East Palestine.

Each parochial school will hold individual spelldowns to select the three finalists which each will send here.

The date for the finals in the county school system has been set tentatively for April 5. The dates and the sites of the other contests will be announced as they are established.

Thirty-eight spellers again are scheduled to compete in the regional finals at Canton May 3 at Timken vocational High School.

In addition to Columbiana County's five representatives, there will be seven from Canton, one from North Canton, 12 from Stark County, two from Massillon, two from Alliance, one from Carrollton, one from Carroll County, five from Tuscarawas County and two from Holmes County.

Cut In Taxes Urged Again By Kennedy

Sees Economy Dip If Congress Fails To Act Promptly

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy says U.S. economy "will inevitably move into a downturn" —perhaps this year—if Congress doesn't act promptly to cut taxes.

Kennedy told his news conference Thursday the congressional battle over tax legislation will be "a hard fight." But he was optimistic about getting an acceptable bill by the end of the session.

"We are going to get a bill for a tax reduction which will provide a consensus," Kennedy forecast. "It won't be perhaps the bill we sent up, but I think it will be a good bill."

In a special message to Congress Jan. 24, Kennedy proposed a combination of rate cuts and tax revisions that would produce, over the next three years, a net tax reduction of $10.2 billion.

Besides renewing and strengthening his plea for action on the tax package, Kennedy made these major points:

The United States is doing more than the Europeans to defend Europe and intends to maintain its present combat strength there. However, troops will be withdrawn if they wear out their welcome—though Kennedy sees no sign of that.

He definitely plans no economic or political reprisals against President Charles de Gaulle of France who shook the Western alliance by quashing British entry into the European Common Market and by spurning U.S. proposals for a multination nuclear force in Europe.

In remarks directed both at his Republican critics at home—specifically Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York—and friendly nations abroad, Kennedy said: "It is a mistake always to assume that the United States is wrong, and that by being disagreeable to the United States, it is always possible to compel the United States to succumb."

He said "our primary mission

1 Or More Generals In Group Held

Rifle Fitted With Telescopic Sight Weapon To Be Used

PARIS (AP)—Six high-ranking army officers were arrested early today and accused of plotting to kill President Charles de Gaulle. It was the fourth assassination plot reported against the president in 17 months.

Police reports said the officers planned to kill the 72-year-old chief of state with a rifle fitted with a telescopic sight when he visited a military school this morning.

Some unconfirmed reports said one or more generals were among those arrested and that one officer detained was on the official reception committee for the president's visit. De Gaulle visited the school on schedule.

A French woman who taught English at the school also was arrested in the series of night raids that rounded up the alleged ringleaders, police reports said.

The Interior Ministry refused to issue any detailed information, but details began leaking out from unofficial sources as the investigation went into high gear.

A reinforced security guard was on duty at the school—on the Left Bank of the Seine in the shadow of the Eiffel Tower—when De Gaulle made his visit. He stayed two hours 20 minutes, inspecting installations and addressing students and teachers. There were no incidents.

Unofficial sources said the plotters were in contact with a man named Watin—known as "The Limper"—who is accused of taking part in the unsuccessful machine gun attack on De Gaulle's life last August. This would link the plotters with rightists who opposed his policy of independence for Algeria.

250 Attend GOP Lincoln Day Fete

LISBON — "If government will only get out of our hair, we will do much better than under regulations and controls," U.S. Sen. Peter Dominick told Columbiana County Republicans Thursday evening.

Addressing approximately 250 at the GOP's annual Lincoln Day dinner in the First Methodist Church, he attacked the Democratic administration's policies on almost every level.

"EVERY piece of legislation introduced since 1961 has had the idea of further centralizing the power of government in Washington," the senator declared in his attack on the Kennedy regime.

He pointed out the United States has a national debt equal to the combined debts of all other countries in the world, and asked, "How are we going to maintain confidence overseas, if we continue to spend like a drunken sailor and at the same time talk about a balanced budget?"

Sen. Dominick described the administration's attempts to seize more power, concluding, "It is time that we rededicate ourselves to the principle in this statement that Lincoln made, 'our defense is in the preservation of the spirit which prizes liberty as the heritage of all men in all lands everywhere'."

Destroyers, Bombers Hunt Freighter

Castro Offers Asylum To Reds Who Hijacked Venezuelan Ship

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Fidel Castros regime offered asylum today to Communist hijackers of the Venezuelan freighter Anzoategui as Venezuelan destroyers and jet bombers hunted the fugitive vessel across the Caribbean.

Three Venezuelan destroyers were reported on the track of the captive ship. But if its position was known, it was kept secret by Venezuelan authorities.

The Castro government, in a statement broadcast by Havana Radio, said if the ship arrived at any Cuban port, "the revolutionary government will grant asylum to Venezuelan revolutionaries and members of the crew who solicit such."

The broadcast said the ship and the rest of the crew would be turned over to U.N. Secretary-General U Thant.

Reliable sources said U.S. Navy planes spotted the freighter Thursday midway between Venezuela and the Dominican Republic. Shipping circles in Caracas said the motorship Sucre later reported sighting the Anzoategui in about the same position.

This would have placed the freighter about 450 miles southeast of Santiago, which is 40 miles from the big U.S. naval base at Guantanamo.

Some observers believed the hijackers had not decided whether to try for the Cuban port or for Mexico. The freighter has a top speed of 15 knots, considerably less than the pursuing destroyers. But it had a considerable start on the pursuers.

President Romulo Betancourt ordered an all-out effort to intercept the hjackers, identified as nine members of the Armed Forces for National Liberation, a Communist organization with links to Fidel Castro's regime. Betancourt called on friendly nations in the area to help.

The Communists boasted of seizing the freighter Wednesday to dramatize their fight against Betancourt and to force him to call off a trip to Washington next week for talks with President Kennedy. Betancourt showed no inclination to cancel his trip, even though the sea action was accompanied by mounting terrorism in Caracas and other Venezuelan cities.

A Caracas radio station announced that U.S. warships from Guantanamo joined in the search for the Anzoategui, but diplomats here doubted it. They interpreted Betancourt's appeal for help from nations around the Caribbean as meaning he wanted them to keep watch on the freighter.

Informants in Washington said if U.S. ships or planes sight the freighter, they will report her position to Caracas. These sources suggested a Venezuelan request to intercept the ship will be honored, but the State Department and the Navy were silent on this point.

Interior Minister Carlos Andres Perez called the hijackers pirates and said all nations under international law are obligated to help capture them.

Andres Perez derided a reported broadcast offer by the hijackers to trade the captain of the Anzoategui and his crew of 35 for pardons for imprisoned Venezuelan terrorists.

"It's ridiculous propaganda because they have to surrender the ship eventually," he said.

The U.S. Coast Guard picked up a radio message from the freighter Thursday night which said:

"Cannot give position. Am being threatened," came the reply.

The ship was en route to Houston and New Orleans to pick up cargo when it was seized. It had sailed Tuesday, its hold empty, from La Guaira, the port of Caracas.

Council Ups Budget

Street Crew And Police Due Pay Hike In Midland

Although the millage will remain the same, Midland Borough Council tentatively approved a $491,630 budget providing wage increases for employes of the street and police departments at its meeting Thursday night.

Council also launched plans to repay the $10 occupational tax which was declared invalid last year by the Pennsylvania Supreme Court.

A 13-mill property tax and a 1 per cent wage tax were renewed by Council.

Neither street department employes nor policemen have had an increase in two years, Mayor Eli Corak pointed out.

The boost will amount to approximately $25 per month per employe with the street crew's increase being broken down to an hourly hike of approximately 14 cents.

Council instructed Mrs. C. K. O'Hara, borough secretary, and Rudolph Presutti, tax collector, to set up procedures to repay the occupational tax.

It probably will take several months to prepare the machinery but an announcement will be made as to how and when the money will be refunded, Mayor Corak said.

Corak pointed out when the occupational tax was enacted in 1961 under Pennsylvania Law 481, the "tax everything" bill, borough officials were confident the tax was valid after approval by the borough solicitor.

When the tax was challenged, Beaver County Court upheld the validity of the tax but its decision was appealed to higher courts.

While the tax was being challenged, Corak said he and Council agreed voluntarily to repay any money collected if the tax was ruled invalid. By the end of this year, the borough will have gone "quite a way" toward repaying the funds for which it is obligated, he declared.

Will Bury Capitalism, Khrushchev Declares

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev declared tonight that when the time comes for communism to bury capitalism, the Soviet Union and Communist China together will throw in the last spadeful of earth.

Khrushchev told correspondents across a table at a reception given by the King of Laos that cooperation between Communist China and the Soviet Union is old, is continuing, and will continue.

Education Council To Oppose Tax Bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Legislation that would permit local school districts to levy income taxes to finance education will be opposed by the Ohio Council for Education.

The council said in a statement Thursday that the bill pending in the General Assembly provides no equalization formula to distribute money collected by districts according to need.

GOP Critics Get Challenge By President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has challenged Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and other Republicans to offer alternatives for administration foreign policies they criticize.

Kennedy told his news conference Thursday he shares the suspicion that the New York governor wants to be the Republican candidate against him in next year's presidential election.

Pointing up what had the appearance of a concerted Democratic attack on Rockefeller, Kennedy said "it is a mistake to assume that the United States is wrong" everytime it has a disagreement with a foreign country.

This obviously was aimed at the New York governor's Feb. 9 contention that the Kennedy administration is to blame for "the present disarray within the Atlantic alliance." His statement paralleled similar criticisms by Republican leaders in Congress.

Rockefeller had no immediate comment.

Columbiana's GOP Primary Unnecessary

The need for a Republican primary in Columbiana village May 7 was eliminated today when W. Roy Guy, 109 Elm St., sent a letter to the County Election Board withdrawing as a GOP candidate for one of two Council nominations.

As Guy's withdrawal eliminated the only GOP contest in the village, the need for primary balloting was obviated.

Under Ohio's "no contest" election law, a party primary need not be held in a community if no contests develop in the candidates' filings. Earlier, the need for a Democratic primary at Columbiana had been eliminated. Democrats entered a slate with no contests prior to the filing deadline Feb. 6.

The Election Board pointed out that today's development means there will be no primaries in any village in the county. Earlier, the

An acetylene torch and all the related equipment needed for a safe-opening job were stolen in a burglary Thursday night or early today at a garage at the city's sanitary landfill trash dump in Bloomfield.

Supt. John Melvin said the intruders obtained a torch, cutting tips, tanks of gas, gauges and the hoses for connecting up the equipment. He estimated the value at "well over $200."

Chief Americo J. Radeschi conceded it is possible the burglary was staged by would - be safe robbers gathering equipment for a job.

Capt. Robert H. Pyle and Patrolman Charles A. Winters made an investigation on behalf of the city, although the dump's location in St. Clair Township places it within the sphere of two other law enforcement agencies.

The sheriff's department at Lisbon and the St. Clair Township constables' office also were notified. The entry was discovered this morning.

The landfill lies in a vast tract of empty ground between St. Clair Ave. and Routes 7-30.

The welding and cutting equipment was taken from a garage used to house a bulldozer. Entrance was gained by using a crowbar or some other heavy tool to pry off the lock, Melvin said. Air gauges for truck tires also were stolen. The incinerator department uses the welding equipment in maintenance and repair of equipment.

The intruders also broke into the small office building at the dump by forcing open a window. The office was ransacked, but apparently nothing of value was taken.

Man Reported Near Area Of Replane Body

BALTIMORE (AP)—State police say a man and woman from nearby Ellicott City have reported seeing a man parked in a car near the wooded area where the frozen body of Allene Carroll Replane was found.

Mr. and Mrs. David Bortle said Thursday they saw the man the morning after Mrs. Replane disappeared.

Mrs. Replane, a Laurel school teacher, failed to return from teaching a night class Jan. 21. Her husband, William, found her car parked by the highway near their apartment and called police.

The woman's body was found in a wooded area near Ellicott City 17 days later.

Bortle told police Thursday that the man pulled a newspaper in front of his face as Bortle and his wife drove by. He said he had not reported the incident sooner be-

'About Zero' Tonight Forecast For District

A cold wave that has been two days in the making will deepen into a possible zero tonight for the Tri-State District but the falling temperatures apparently have cut off the intermittent snow.

The city had a low of 24 Thursday morning, 9 above this morning and is promised a reading of about zero tonight. The mercury may not go above 10 to 15 today, with diminishing winds and snow flurries, before starting another plunge tonight.

Saturday will not be quite so cold, beginning of a slow moderation over the weekend, but the district faces temperatures 5 to 8 degrees below normal through Wednesday. There will be occasional periods of snow the first of the week.

Nine Stark Deputies Indicted For Thievery

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — The Stark County Grand Jury indicted nine deputy sheriffs and a bail bondsman today on charges of thievery.

Nine of the men were arrested after the secret indictments was returned. The investigation started Jan. 29, when Sheriff W. J. Hine announced he had discharged seven deputies, all members of the uniform road patrol, on departmental charges.

Destroyers, Bombers Hunt Freighter

Castro Offers Asylum To Reds Who Hijacked Venezuelan Ship

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Fidel Castros regime offered asylum today to Communist hijackers of the Venezuelan freighter Anzoategui as Venezuelan destroyers and jet bombers hunted the fugitive vessel across the Caribbean.

Three Venezuelan destroyers were reported on the track of the captive ship. But if its position was known, it was kept secret by Venezuelan authorities.

The Castro government, in a statement broadcast by Havana Radio, said if the ship arrived at any Cuban port, "the revolutionary government will grant asylum to Venezuelan revolutionaries and members of the crew who solicit such."

The broadcast said the ship and the rest of the crew would be turned over to U.N. Secretary-General U Thant.

Reliable sources said U.S. Navy planes spotted the freighter Thursday midway between Venezuela and the Dominican Republic. Shipping circles in Caracas said the motorship Sucre later reported sighting the Anzoategui in about the same position.

This would have placed the freighter about 450 miles southeast of Santiago, which is 40 miles from the big U.S. naval base at Guantanamo.

Some observers believed the hijackers had not decided whether to try for the Cuban port or for Mexico. The freighter has a top speed of 15 knots, considerably less than the pursuing destroyers. But it had a considerable start on the pursuers.

President Romulo Betancourt ordered an all-out effort to intercept the hjackers, identified as nine members of the Armed Forces for National Liberation, a Communist organization with links to Fidel Castro's regime. Betancourt called on friendly nations in the area to help.

The Communists boasted of seizing the freighter Wednesday to dramatize their fight against Betancourt and to force him to call off a trip to Washington next week for talks with President Kennedy. Betancourt showed no inclination to cancel his trip, even though the sea action was accompanied by mounting terrorism in Caracas and other Venezuelan cities.

A Caracas radio station announced that U.S. warships from Guantanamo joined in the search for the Anzoategui, but diplomats here doubted it. They interpreted Betancourt's appeal for help from nations around the Caribbean as meaning he wanted them to keep watch on the freighter.

Informants in Washington said if U.S. ships or planes sight the freighter, they will report her position to Caracas. These sources suggested a Venezuelan request to intercept the ship will be honored, but the State Department and the Navy were silent on this point.

Interior Minister Carlos Andres Perez called the hijackers pirates and said all nations under international law are obligated to help capture them.

Andres Perez derided a reported broadcast offer by the hijackers to trade the captain of the Anzoategui and his crew of 35 for pardons for imprisoned Venezuelan terrorists.

The U.S. Coast Guard picked up a radio message from the freighter Thursday night which said:

"Cannot give position. Am being threatened," came the reply.

The ship was en route to Houston and New Orleans to pick up cargo when it was seized. It had sailed Tuesday, its hold empty, from La Guaira, the port of Caracas.

The landfill lies in a vast tract of empty ground between St. Clair Ave. and Routes 7-30.

The welding and cutting equipment was taken from a garage used to house a bulldozer. Entrance was gained by using a crowbar or some other heavy tool to pry off the lock, Melvin said. Air gauges for truck tires also were stolen. The incinerator department uses the welding equipment in maintenance and repair of equipment.

The intruders also broke into the small office building at the dump by forcing open a window. The office was ransacked, but apparently nothing of value was taken.

Man Reported Near Area Of Replane Body

BALTIMORE (AP)—State police say a man and woman from nearby Ellicott City have reported seeing a man parked in a car near the wooded area where the frozen body of Allene Carroll Replane was found.

Mr. and Mrs. David Bortle said Thursday they saw the man the morning after Mrs. Replane disappeared.

Mrs. Replane, a Laurel school teacher, failed to return from teaching a night class Jan. 21. Her husband, William, found her car parked by the highway near their apartment and called police.

The woman's body was found in a wooded area near Ellicott City 17 days later.

Bortle told police Thursday that the man pulled a newspaper in front of his face as Bortle and his wife drove by. He said he had not reported the incident sooner be-

1 Or More Generals In Group Held

Rifle Fitted With Telescopic Sight Weapon To Be Used

PARIS (AP)—Six high-ranking army officers were arrested early today and accused of plotting to kill President Charles de Gaulle. It was the fourth assassination plot reported against the president in 17 months.

Police reports said the officers planned to kill the 72-year-old chief of state with a rifle fitted with a telescopic sight when he visited a military school this morning.

Some unconfirmed reports said one or more generals were among those arrested and that one officer detained was on the official reception committee for the president's visit. De Gaulle visited the school on schedule.

A French woman who taught English at the school also was arrested in the series of night raids that rounded up the alleged ringleaders, police reports said.

The Interior Ministry refused to issue any detailed information, but details began leaking out from unofficial sources as the investigation went into high gear.

A reinforced security guard was on duty at the school—on the Left Bank of the Seine in the shadow of the Eiffel Tower—when De Gaulle made his visit. He stayed two hours 20 minutes, inspecting installations and addressing students and teachers. There were no incidents.

Unofficial sources said the plotters were in contact with a man named Watin—known as "The Limper"—who is accused of taking part in the unsuccessful machine gun attack on De Gaulle's life last August. This would link the plotters with rightists who opposed his policy of independence for Algeria.

'About Zero' Tonight Forecast For District

A cold wave that has been two days in the making will deepen into a possible zero tonight for the Tri-State District but the falling temperatures apparently have cut off the intermittent snow.

The city had a low of 24 Thursday morning, 9 above this morning and is promised a reading of about zero tonight. The mercury may not go above 10 to 15 today, with diminishing winds and snow flurries, before starting another plunge tonight.

Saturday will not be quite so cold, beginning of a slow moderation over the weekend, but the district faces temperatures 5 to 8 degrees below normal through Wednesday. There will be occasional periods of snow the first of the week.

Nine Stark Deputies Indicted For Thievery

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — The Stark County Grand Jury indicted nine deputy sheriffs and a bail bondsman today on charges of thievery.

Nine of the men were arrested after the secret indictments was returned. The investigation started Jan. 29, when Sheriff W. J. Hine announced he had discharged seven deputies, all members of the uniform road patrol, on departmental charges.

Game Postponed

A seige of flu-type illness in Weirton has caused Weirton Madonna to postpone its basketball game against Wellsville Saturday night. Don Lowe, WHS faculty manager, said the game has been re-scheduled for Feb. 22 at Beacom Memorial Gym. Tonight's game between Wellsville and Toronto will be played at Toronto as scheduled, Lowe reported.

School Board Borrowing Of $16,000 Set

Authorization to borrow $16,000 to meet payrolls and current expenses was granted Thursday night by the Fairfield - Waterford Board of Education at its meeting at Crestview High School.

The loan is necessary because no funds have been disbursed from the county auditor's office because of the delay in collecting real estate taxes due to the reappraisal, Joseph Driscoll, executive head, said.

The board approved 1963 appropriations totaling $461,458, including $365,403 in the general fund, $58,950 for bond retirement and $37,085 in the lunchroom account.

The appropriation is $13,016 higher than the 1962 appropriation of $448,442 because of a balance in encumbered funds at the end of last year and an increase in state foundation funds as a result of a boost in enrollment, Driscoll reported.

Salaries of secretaries were adjusted effective March 1. The board agreed to pay the secretary to Driscoll $2,600 for 11 months; the upper elementary secretary, $2,400 for 11 months, and the lower elementary secretary, $1,600 for nine months.

The board also approved two final payments to contractors for work at the new high school, which completes all payments on the building.

The payments included $100 to the Bowling Green Equipment Co. of Bowling Green for cabinets in the home economics room, and $163 to the Whisler Plumbing & Heating Co. of Massillon for replacing five tile in the storm sewer.

It accepted the bid of the O. S. Hill & Co. of Lisbon to furnish two 66 - passenger International buses at a total cost of $13,730, including trade - in allowance.

Bids to buy a 1951 four - door Chevrolet sedan, a surplus driver training car, will be accepted until the next meeting March 14 at 8 p.m. The car can be inspected at the Fairfield Building.

The board also approved purchase and globes for the elementary buildings at a cost of $385.

Driscoll and Richard Hutira, high school industrial arts instructor, were authorized to visit the surplus warehouse in Columbus to obtain electronics equipment for shop classes.

Driscoll told the board the Education for Survival class will begin the first Tuesday after supplies are received from Columbus. The class will meet two hours one night a week for six weeks. Arno Holderead of Columbiana will be the instructor.

The calendar of coming events in the school district includes a basketball homecoming dance Saturday night at Crestview High School; New Waterford Parent-Teacher Organization meeting Monday night; a round and square dance from 9 to midnight Feb. 23 sponsored by the Athletic Boosters Club at Crestview School.

Crestview will meet Leetonia at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 27 at Struthers Fieldhouse in a sectional basketball tournament game.

There will be no school on Feb. 22 and the fourth grading period will end March 1.

The Fairfield PTO will meet March 4 and the first pre - school immunization clinic will be held the same day at 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. at the Fairfield School.

Team Freezes Itself Into 4-To-1 Defeat

PRINCE FREDERICK, Md. (AP) — Calvert County High School's basketball team follows orders explicity.

Thursday night the team was under instructions from Coach Gordon Wright to freeze the ball against La Plate High—and it did. Calvert County did not attempt a single field goal.

New Law Makes Federal Offense Of Use Of Slugs

A new law makes it a federal offense to use slugs in most types of coin-operated devices, including parking meters, municipal officials warned today.

Safety - Service Director Robert Owen and Police Chief Americo J. Radeschi issued the warning after receiving copies of the new statute, known as Public Law 87-667, enacted by the last Congress. It provides maximum penalties of a $1,000 fine or a year in jail.

In addition to parking meters, the law specifically bans the use of coin-size metal objects to operate vending machines, pay telephones, toll booths and coin changers, such as those found in unattended public laundries.

Officials said slugs still are found occasionally in the city's parking meters, but their use is not widespread. When the meters first were installed in 1947, a curious public tried them on a "diet" of everything from a Seattle streetcar token to a Chinese coin.

New Brighton Youth Dies From Gunshot

NEW BRIGHTON — A 17-year-old youth died early this morning as he arrived at Mercy Hospital in Pittsburgh after being accidentally shot in a weird accident in the apartment of a companion.

William Conrad Myers III of Pulaski Township was pronounced dead at 1:12 a. m. at the Pittsburgh hospital after being transferred from Beaver Valley General Hospital where he had been taken after being struck in the left forehead by a blast from a 20-gauge shotgun.

Authorities said Myers and Victor Janectic, 18, were in the second-floor apartment of James Masters, 17, when a suggestion was made they go out to play cards.

Masters went to a steel cabinet to get his piggy bank. When the door stuck slightly, he yanked on it and the loaded shotgun fell out and discharged. The blast narrowly missed Janectic and struck Myers standing 28 feet away in the hallway, authorities were told.

Blasting Called More Of Art Than Science

Woman, 86, Hurt In Fall From Bed

A woman hurt in a fall from bed was treated this morning at City Hospital where three area residents were treated Thursday after separate mishaps.

Mrs. Maria Fulmer, 86, of Chester R. D. 1 suffered a laceration of the forehead in the fall from bed and was treated this morning at 7 and released.

Frank Skrinjar, 49, of Oak Grove Rd., Wellsville, was treated yesterday afternoon for bruises of the knees suffered in a fall on ice.

Randy Myers, 9, son of Winston Myers, 1205 Pennsylvania Ave., received mouth injuries when he struck a sled.

Lack Of Jurisdiction Seen In Support Case

After a lenghtly investigation, Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff decided today his court lacked jurisdiction in a non-support action filed by a woman against her former husband because the payments he allegedly failed to make were provided for as part of a Hancock County divorce action.

The defendant was identified as Harold L. Johnson of Ceramic St. and the complaining witness was identified as Carole Johnson of Fisher Ave. Issued July 5, 1962, the warrant alleged Johnson had not provided support for his minor daughter since May. The Hancock County order later was transferred to Juvenile Court at Lisbon, he said.

Johnson was arrested Thursday at 1:20 p. m. by Patrolman J. A. Walsh and Jerry Adkins, police said. Johnson told the court he returned recently from Atlanta, Ga., where he had gone in July. He said he has been unemployed since October. The judge advised the former wife to seek a remedy in the Lisbon court.

Columbiana Autoist To Appeal Conviction

LISBON — Jerry Molner, 51, of Columbiana R. D. 2 was fined $500 and sentenced to six months in the County Jail Thursday by Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp for driving while intoxicated. Judge Sharp suspended $400 of the fine and five months of sentence providing he is not cited again.

Molner's counsel filed a motion for new trial, before sentencing, but Judge Sharp noted that a jury convicted Molner Feb. 5 and that the motion had not been filed within the three-day period.

The defendant's counsel then said he would file an appeal to the 7th District Court of Appeals. Judge Sharp then set $1,000 bond and Molner was released pending his appeal.

Beaver Band And Glee Club Will Present 'Pop Concert'

A "Pop Concert" will be presented at Beaver Local High School Wednesday night at 7:30 by the school's concert band and the Girls Glee Club in the first such musical program held at the school.

Rocco DeMart, director, said the glee club will open the program with selections from Richard Rodgers, Oscar Hammerstein and Cole Porter productions.

A novelty, "The Three Blind Mice," will highlight the vocal program, featuring a trio consisting of Cheryl Smith, Nancy Williams and Sue Williams.

Lorna Elliott and Cynthia Smith are accompanists.

The high school band's selections will include "Seventy - six Trombones," "Jubilee," a spiritual, a Sousa March, "Stars and Strips Forever," featuring Sheila Green on the flute.

Diana Baker will narrate another novelty, "The Three Bears." Raymond Holt and the percussion session will be spotlighted in "I Trocadero," and a routine will be staged by the majorettes.

cause he was "afraid of retaliation."

"I've been lying awake at nights thinking about this. I had to get it off my chest," he said.

Bortle said the man was wearing a brown topcoat and hat and wore dark horn-rimmed glasses.

William Replane is a former Midland resident and his wife was a native of Burgettstown where funeral services were held Saturday.

Not Even Their Cat

TOPEKA (AP) — Burglars who entered the John C. Graham home here fed the cat but didn't put it out. A member of the family returned home to find $5 missing, the house in disarray and a stray cat lapping a saucer of milk that had been poured by the burglars in the kitchen.

A woman hurt in a fall from bed was treated this morning at City Hospital where three area residents were treated Thursday after separate mishaps.

Mrs. Maria Fulmer, 86, of Chester R. D. 1 suffered a laceration of the forehead in the fall from bed and was treated this morning at 7 and released.

Randy Myers, 9, son of Winston Myers, 1205 Pennsylvania Ave., received mouth injuries when he struck a sled.

Lack Of Jurisdiction Seen In Support Case

After a lenghtly investigation, Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff decided today his court lacked jurisdiction in a non-support action filed by a woman against her former husband because the payments he allegedly failed to make were provided for as part of a Hancock County divorce action.

The defendant was identified as Harold L. Johnson of Ceramic St. and the complaining witness was identified as Carole Johnson of Fisher Ave. Issued July 5, 1962 the warrant alleged Johnson had not provided support for his minor daughter since May. The Hancock County order later was transferred to Juvenile Court at Lisbon, he said.

Johnson was arrested Thursday at 1:20 p. m. by Patrolman J. A. Walsh and Jerry Adkins, police said. Johnson told the court he returned recently from Atlanta, Ga., where he had gone in July. He said he has been unemployed since October. The judge advised the former wife to seek a remedy in the Lisbon court.

Columbiana Autoist To Appeal Conviction

LISBON — Jerry Molner, 51, of Columbiana R. D. 2 was fined $500 and sentenced to six months in the County Jail Thursday by Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp for driving while intoxicated. Judge Sharp suspended $400 of the fine and five months of sentence providing he is not cited again.

Molner's counsel filed a motion for new trial, before sentencing, but Judge Sharp noted that a jury convicted Molner Feb. 5 and that the motion had not been filed within the three-day period.

The defendant's counsel then said he would file an appeal to the 7th District Court of Appeals. Judge Sharp then set $1,000 bond and Molner was released pending his appeal.

Franklin PTA To Meet

SUMMITVILLE — Mrs. Betty Carlariello of Salem will speak on first aid at a meeting of the Franklin Parent-Teacher Organizaton Monday night at 8 at the Summitville School.

Beaver Band And Glee Club Will Present 'Pop Concert'

A "Pop Concert" will be presented at Beaver Local High School Wednesday night at 7:30 by the school's concert band and the Girls Glee Club in the first such musical program held at the school.

Rocco DeMart, director, said the glee club will open the program with selections from Richard Rodgers, Oscar Hammerstein and Cole Porter productions.

A novelty, "The Three Blind Mice," will highlight the vocal program, featuring a trio consisting of Cheryl Smith, Nancy Williams and Sue Williams.

Lorna Elliott and Cynthia Smith are accompanists.

The high school band's selections will include "Seventy - six Trombones," "Jubilee," a spiritual, a Sousa March, "Stars and Strips Forever," featuring Sheila Green on the flute.

Diana Baker will narrate another novelty, "The Three Bears." Raymond Holt and the percussion session will be spotlighted in "I Trocadero," and a routine will be staged by the majorettes.

A highlight of the concert will be an overture, "Flambeau," by Olivadoti.

Lisbon Priest To Talk

Fr. William H. Hohman, pastor of St. George Catholic Church of Lisbon, will be the speaker at the Lincoln-Washington coverdish dinner Sunday evening, sponsored by the Cardinal Mercier Assembly of Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus.

The affair will be held at the K. of C. home here.

Francis J. Schlueter of Negley is chairman. About 100 are expected to attend.

"I've been lying awake at nights thinking about this. I had to get it off my chest," he said.

Bortle said the man was wearing a brown topcoat and hat and wore dark horn-rimmed glasses.

William Replane is a former Midland resident and his wife was a native of Burgettstown where funeral services were held Saturday.

Not Even Their Cat

TOPEKA (AP) — Burglars who entered the John C. Graham home here fed the cat but didn't put it out. A member of the family returned home to find $5 missing, the house in disarray and a stray cat lapping a saucer of milk that had been poured by the burglars in the kitchen.

Relief In Sight For Pedestrians

A complete storm drainage system—something notably lacking for years—will be one of the "fringe benefits" of the $400,000 project for construction of a 36-foot concrete roadway on outer St. Clair Ave.

As a Henry Ave. woman pointed out in a letter to the editor Thursday, storm sewer service is virtually non-existent on outer St. Clair Ave. Lack of proper drainage is particularly apparent in the Maplewood area, where the water lies in deep puddles against the curb and sometimes reaches such a depth that it covers the entire pavement.

Commuters waiting at bus stops run for nearby lawns at the approach of an auto, knowing there will be a cascade of water hurled from beneath its wheels. City officials have been told of instances of children showered with cold, dirty water while on their way to school. The only remedy was a trip home for dry, clean clothing.

The plans for the new roadway stretching from Princeton Ave. to the city limits call for an adequate storm sewer system, with plenty of catch basins.

The project thus will help eliminate a problem that has plagued pedestrians for many years.

It's another "fringe benefit" the property-owners along St. Clair will reap for the $10-a-foot assessment the majority has agreed to assume to help cover the cost of the project.

Adequate drainage also will mean longer life for the new roadway. Without proper drainage, water damage would take its toll on the 36-foot pavement as it did on the present narrow blacktop surface. Engineers have a maxim that "a road is no better than its drainage" because they know water will damage the base and eventually harm the pavement itself.

The State Highway Department's estimate that a contract may be let in May or June was good news to East Liverpool generally and St. Clair residents in particular.

Washington Is Always Ready

Start with the assumption that something extraordinary needs to be done about American youth.

But balance this with the assumption that something extraordinary always has needed to be done about American youth.

Grant that these are extraordinary times, calling for special measures — things even more extraordinary than usual.

Balance this with the thought that all times have been extraordinary to those who lived in them; that the past seems ordinary, placid and problem-free only to those who look back on it with no direct knowledge of what it was like.

Then consider President Kennedy's wrap-up of his ideas for doing something extraordinary about American youth and its problems.

He has submitted a program for congressional consideration that would range from a new version of the depression-days Civilian Conservation Corps to a completely new "national service corps" — a domestic counterpart of the Overseas Peace Corps, which Mr. Kennedy would like to have beefed up.

He also would like to start a "home town youth corps," underwritten with federal money, to enable boys and girls with a desire to lend a hand to hospitals, schools, parks and settlement houses to make themselves useful. Uncle Sam would go paternalistic to the jingle-jangle of 10,000 cash registers.

Simply the thought that all of it, except the Overseas Peace Corps, could be done better by localities and states than it could be done by saddling the federal government with another enormous spending program to swell the federal deficit and the national debt.

Washington is always ready to offer its expensive services — to help the old, the young, the middle - aged, the deserving poor, the deserving little people, even the deserving big people. The more votes the merrier as long as the federal hand is quicker than the taxpaying eye.

Every dollar spent by Washington comes either from the localities in the form of taxes or in the form of interest-bearing additions to the national debt.

Youth needs extraordinary help, as always, but whatever needs to be done would cost infinitely less if it were done without federal intervention.

Communists And Empty Bellies

When U.S. protests are voiced against spending more than $1½ million of United Naitons money to start an agricultural research station in Cuba, the charge will be made that this country is waging cold war with Communism out of bounds.

It will be argued that the hungry bellies of Cubans have no connection with the U.S. program to topple Fidel Castro and make things tough for Communists to carry out their obvious intention of turning Cuba into a New World Communist base.

Bosh!

The Cubans' hungry bellies are a prime weapon in toppling Castro and giving Communists fits. In the entire history of their phony revolution, the Communists never filled any bellies but their own. Cuba will be no exception, unless the United States goes soft in the head.

But no U.S. dollars would be used out of the U.N. Special Fund, where the money is going to come from, it is explained. This fund is presided over by Paul G. Hoffman, the businessman - turned - public philanthropist with other people's money. It midwifed 205 projects in 67 countries its first three years of existence, to the tune of $173 million of U.N. money.

About every other dollar of U.N. money comes from the United States. Therefore, to make sure that no U.S. money is used to help the Communists' food problem in Cuba, why not subtract from the U.S. dues to the United Nations half the cost of the proposed experimental research station in Cuba?

When it was put that way, we'll bet Director Hoffman would be first to grasp the logic of the U.S. position. The United States is not about to help Commies feed Cubans. It can be as tough about things like this as the Soviet Union if it gets sore.

Improvement

By Truman Twill

One thing that keeps my faith strong when things in Washington are going badly is a belief in the inevitability of improvement of government.

It is such a balled-up mess to begin with that it can't help but get better. There is no copyrighted merit in one system of government as opposed to another — everything depends on what kind of men have their hands on the power — but it is a fact that some systems are easier to get along with than others.

One particular thing in the British system always has seemed to me to be worth copying here. There is no reason it shouldn't be or couldn't be, either, because there is infinite latitude in what is permissible under the U.S. Constitution. It does not spell out the way things must be done, only what things can and cannot be done at all.

In Britain, the head of the government —the prime minister — must stand before the House of Commons and explain what he has been doing. He can pick the subject matter of his report. But he knows if he tries to be coy or use evasive tactics his political opponents will corner him and demand straight answers, so he beats them to the punch.

The net result is that he and the House of Commons are on an even footing day by day. The head of the government does not have the option of hiding from questioners and facing the music only when he feels like singing.

One especially good thing this does is to bring out the answers to the questions everybody is asking, without waiting for some newshawk in a mob-scene press conference to ask them in an atmosphere of frenzy and possibly get trampled in the rush.

The presidential press conference as it is carried on here has no counterpart in British government. Whatever needs to be known there is made known as a matter of government routine in the House of Commons. There is no need to have a mob scene; no rush to get on TV so the boss will know who's on the job and who isn't.

I can imagine what would happen if the chief executive of the Unied States had to level with an audience of congressmen, knowing he might be interrupted by a pointed question, or thrown off stride by a rude remark.

I can imagine how much better things would be if every official act here were subject to on-the-spot review by the political opposition.

Anything would be an improvement, and as time goes on it will be desirable to move around the furniture.

I want the chief executive of the United States to be officially answerable to Congress not only for his official acts but for his reasons, excuses, alibis and philosophy. And don't say it can't be done. Anything can be done that promises to be an improvement, if politicians feel like doing it. It is the people's job to make them feel like doing it.

This and That

During the past century, people have been growing in stature and weight. Men are two inches and women more than one and one-fifth inch taller. Better nutrition and medical care are responsible, and industry is now foreseeing future theater seats, cars, and even standard beds designed for longer legs.

Favorite item of fare for the tourist stopping for a snack along the highway is still the hamburger. Second in popularity for lunch are the salad sandwiches — egg, ham, tuna. Followirg this, travelers choose roast beef, corned beef and bacon, lettuce and tomato.

Snails are luscious tidbits to many Europeans, notably the French, who consume some 600 millions of a garden species of snail yearly. Gourmets eat them out of the shell with a special, narrow, hooked fork.

Congress Eyes Law On Desegregation

By DAVID LAWRENCE

David Lawrence

Since the 1954 desegregation decisions of the Supreme Court, it has often been pointed out that the 14th Amendment specifically provides that Congress alone may enact laws to enforce the provisions of that amendment. Somehow, during the last nine years, no such law has been enacted by Congress to require desegration in the public schools.

It is refreshing, therefore, to see homage paid at last to the idea that Congress should pass a law on the subject. Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., has just introduced a bill which, if passed, would require every school district to file a desegregation plan within three years, and the plan would be put into effect unless it was challenged in the courts as inadequate.

When asked why no such measure had been passed heretofore, Sen. Clark replied that a somewhat similar proposal has been sponsored for several years now by Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., in his civil rights bills but these died in committee. He explained that the new bill "would give legislative teeth to the 1954 decision and make it possible through legislative action to implement what the Supreme Court had ruled in its opinion."

THE PENNSYLVANIA senator said that he had been asked by Mr. Kennedy after the 1960 election to prepare legislation to carry out the Democratic platform pledge on school desegregation.

Sen. Clark was asked why he and others felt that legislation was necessary, especially since, up till now, the Department of Justice seems to have had no hesitancy about using numerous court orders on desegregation which have been as sweeping as if they had been derived from specific statutes. Mr. Clark said:

"It seemed to me, frankly, that the executive has taken a pretty effective and aggressive lead in this business of assuring rights which are set forth in the 14th and 15th Amendments, that the judiciary has similarly moved, and that the legislature has been the laggard—and that those rights cannot be assured or secured, in the words of the Declaration of Independence, unless the legislature also acts to implement the actions of the judiciary and of the executive.

"My philosophical argument is that, under our system of checks and balances, when you undertake to implement a constitutional mandate which has been pretty well ignored for nearly a hundred years, all the various elements of government — executive, legislature and judiciary—must cooperate to that end if the result is going to be effective."

AT LEAST it can be said that Sen. Clark's proposed legislation is more in line with constitutional theory than was the Supreme Court decision of 1954 for this was a ruling based primarily on sociological doctrine and not on constitutional law or precedent.

To put before Congress now a concrete piece of legislation on the integration-desegregation issue is to give the representatives of the American people a chance to vote on the question. If they decide in favor of such a law, the sentiment for enforcing it will at least be supported by a statute, and there would no longer be much discussion of the merits of the court decision itself.

Unhappily, however, even if Congress passed a law requiring desegregation in the public schools, this would not dispose of all of the points raised in the controversy over constitutionalism.

"Ratification" of the 14th Amendment itself was a plain fraud. It was an illegal procedure. Historians do not dispute the facts, though they excuse them as due to the emotional atmosphere of postwar days in 1868.

ODDLY ENOUGH, the Supreme Court has never passed specifically on the legality of the strange method used to "adopt" the 14th Amendment. It has dealt with hundreds of cases arising out of the wording of the amendment itself, but has refused to take any case involving the validity of the irregular and arbitrary procedures used to declare the 14th Amendment "ratified."

The court has simply said that the question is "political." But within the last few years, the Supreme Court broke precedent and accepted cases on the reapportionment of congressional districts, even though this had for decades been characterized by the court itself as a "political" question.

Maybe the way has been opened either for a Supreme Court decision on the legality of the "ratification" process used for the 14th Amendment or to the adoption of a revised 14th Amendment by Congress and the states in the manner prescribed by the Constitution. This would dispose of one of the worst violations of the Constitution ever recorded in the history of the United States.

To use troops, for instance, to compel a legislature to do the bidding of Congress, and for Congress itself to deprive senators and representatives of their seats while a constitutional amendment was voted on—as was done in 1868—is something many Americans would wish to see superseded now by the use of the proper process.

Then maybe the oft-heard phrase, "the law of the land," will have real meaning.

New York Harbors Red Propagandists

By VICTOR RIESEL

New York City, which boasts of having the most of everything, certainly is right on one score—it has the most officially registered Communist foreign agents of all cities in the land.

Victor Riesel

Preaching that capitalism is in its "twilight" zone, the bulk of 79 Communist-bloc agents incessantly pour Sino-Soviet propaganda onto the streets and into other cities.

These 79 propagandists are the official agents of Communist governments. They are registered under the Foreign Agents Registration Act of 1938. I do not report here on the many secret or camouflaged or front operations of pro-Soviet groups.

With characteristic daring — or perhaps gall would be more descriptive — the Mao Tse-tung Peking government actually has four agents officially operating in the United States, three of them here. The Soviet Union has 29.

Fidel Castro's government has 11 agents; Poland operates through nine offices; Yugoslavia has eight; Hungary, relieved from darkness only for a moment by the flashing courage of the 1956 Freedom Fighters, has six.

Czechoslovakia, which now provides Cuba with most of its small arms and machinery, has four agents in the United States; Romania has three. East Germany and Mao's ally Albania each have two. Bulgaria has one.

It is the most politically immoral material I've encountered. Many of the agents pass themselves off as newsmen, publicists, "radio" correspondents and book store operators.

They insult us. They demean the United States as a trigger-happy imperialist. They talk of the inevitable victory of "scientific" socialism.

But the most fascinating operation of all those listed in the most recent registry, issued late in '62, is that of the czar of them all. Chap by name of Edwin S. Smith.

HE IS Foreign Agent 723 on this list. Labor men have a special interest in this man. He is operating out of 24 West 45th St., New York City. They recall the disagreements they had with him when he was a most influential member of the National Labor Relations Board.

He was a power on that board for a long time. Then he dropped out of the public view and the labor men forgot him. Some years ago he turned up as a specialist in the representation of foreign governments. Certain foreign governments, that is.

Look at his accounts: Bulgaria, U.S.S.R., Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Poland, Hungary, Romania, Communist China. And being an eclectic in such Communist circles, he has also taken on Yugoslavia as a client.

For Peking, he specializes in selling the "China Photo Service."

He is in the same service for the U.S.S.R. in addition to handling its official magazine here.

FOR HUNGARY he handles the "Interfoto M.T.I." of Budapest. This is his specialty. He also is front man here for the Sofia Bulgarska Photographia.

The Communist Chinese government also pours books into the them through two special agents.

What did all this printed tonnage say? Attorney General Robert Kennedy put it this way:

"Red China propaganda was disseminated during the year by Imported Publications and Products, New York, and China Books and Periodicals, Chicago. Included in this material were the 'Peking Review', a weekly news magazine; two illustrated monthlies, 'China Pictorial' and 'China Reconstructs'; 'Women of China'; numerous bound works by Mao Tse-tung, politically slanted novels, ghost stories and songs."

There is a recurring theme in these publications of the Communist Chinese, now actually shooting at our troops in several Asian lands. In our cities, on our streets, they have been able to sell the line of "American imperialist invasion" of new nations.

IN THESE publications, not too long ago, were the words that praised the Soviet Union for its decision to resume nuclear testing as a "cooling dose for hot-headed war plotters." They meant us, of course.

Just suppose we attempted to sell such attacks on Communist China on the streets of Shanghai, Canton and Peking.

Why, if we permit their propaganda to be peddled here, don't we insist that the source be clearly labeled?

Great Understatement

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

One of the greatest understatements of the year was President Kennedy's remark that he has a "suspicion" New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller wants the Republican presidential nomination in 1964.

Rockefeller is running so hard for national attention — about 18 months before the Republican convention—that you can almost hear him panting. He got caught short the last time. He's not taking any chances now.

By the time the New Yorker started to drum up support for the 1960 nomination, he found Vice President Richard M. Nixon had the big wheels in the Republican party sewed up. So he bowed out.

At that time he was reported to have a staff of perhaps 70 people —in two old, five-story brownstone houses which had been converted into one big office on 55th Street in New York—pumping out publicity about him.

He still has the two houses and a publicity staff on his personal payroll, plus a staff of policy experts with offices in Rockefeller Center in New York. And he has a well-paid official press relations staff in Albany.

This will give an idea of how his public relations men are trying to keep Rockefeller in the national eye this far ahead of the Republican convention of 1964.

Washington editors and newsmen not only receive copies of Rockefeller's speeches, of which he has been making a lot, but even schedules of where he will be each week.

In 1959 he made himself unpopular with a lot of Republicans by taking some cracks at the Eisenhower administration. This time he's in reverse. He's been working overtime criticizing the Kennedy administration.

This will not only endear him to Republicans but, if he keeps at it long enough and often enough, will give him the appearance of being the party's spokesman.

It's pursuing an erratic foreign policy, it's getting this country into hot arguments with its allies, the U.S. government is using ruthless tactics with its allies, the administration has been "less than forthright about Cuba," it has used gimmickry.

The governor doesn't admit he's an all-out candidate for the presidential nomination. As late as Feb. 7, when asked if he'd be a candidate in 1964, he said that was hard to say.

At his news conference Thursday a questioner reminded Kennedy that Rockefeller had been attacking him "vehemently, giving rise to the suspicion that he wants to be the Republican candidate next year."

Kennedy said he had the same "suspicion" and then lectured Rockefeller and his fellow Republicans, without naming them, for being fast with criticism but slow in offering substitutes for the Kennedy policies they don't like.

People In News

G. P. Williams, Canadian scientist, says dirty snow may be unaesthetic but that it has its good points — including going away faster. Williams, member of the National Research Council, told a snow conference in Quebec that black or dark substances absorb more of the sun's radiant heat than white surfaces, which merely reflect it. Williams said dirty snow absorbs the sun's heat and melts itself.

Richmond Flowers, attorney general of Alabama, says the federal government is hitting the state with so many suits that the state's legal staff is practically snowed under.

Flowers told a civic club in Montgomery that, in the future, the state may have to call on lawyers in private practice to help out. The government has filed numerous suits in Alabama in voter registration and school desegregation cases.

Howard Ketcham, a color consultant to a chemical firm, says the traditional white shirt for men cramps individuality and is best limited to evening wear and major social occasions. Advocating colored shirts for business-day use, Ketcham says: "A man in a colored shirt looks like he's ready to roll up his sleeves and go to work."

Balance this with the thought that all times have been extraordinary to those who lived in them; that the past seems ordinary, placid and problem-free only to those who look back on it with no direct knowledge of what it was like.

Then consider President Kennedy's wrap-up of his ideas for doing something extraordinary about American youth and its problems.

He has submitted a program for congressional consideration that would range from a new version of the depression-days Civilian Conservation Corps to a completely new "national service corps" — a domestic counterpart of the Overseas Peace Corps, which Mr. Kennedy would like to have beefed up.

He also would like to start a "home town youth corps," underwritten with federal money, to enable boys and girls with a desire to lend a hand to hospitals, schools, parks and settlement houses to make themselves useful. Uncle Sam would go paternalistic to the jingle-jangle of 10,000 cash registers.

Simply the thought that all of it, except the Overseas Peace Corps, could be done better by localities and states than it could be done by saddling the federal government with another enormous spending program to swell the federal deficit and the national debt.

Washington is always ready to offer its expensive services — to help the old, the young, the middle - aged, the deserving poor, the deserving little people, even the deserving big people. The more votes the merrier as long as the federal hand is quicker than the taxpaying eye.

Every dollar spent by Washington comes either from the localities in the form of taxes or in the form of interest-bearing additions to the national debt.

Youth needs extraordinary help, as always, but whatever needs to be done would cost infinitely less if it were done without federal intervention.

Communists And Empty Bellies

When U.S. protests are voiced against spending more than $1½ million of United Naitons money to start an agricultural research station in Cuba, the charge will be made that this country is waging cold war with Communism out of bounds.

It will be argued that the hungry bellies of Cubans have no connection with the U.S. program to topple Fidel Castro and make things tough for Communists to carry out their obvious intention of turning Cuba into a New World Communist base.

Bosh!

The Cubans' hungry bellies are a prime weapon in toppling Castro and giving Communists fits. In the entire history of their phony revolution, the Communists never filled any bellies but their own. Cuba will be no exception, unless the United States goes soft in the head.

But no U.S. dollars would be used out of the U.N. Special Fund, where the money is going to come from, it is explained. This fund is presided over by Paul G. Hoffman, the businessman - turned - public philanthropist with other people's money. It midwifed 205 projects in 67 countries its first three years of existence, to the tune of $173 million of U.N. money.

About every other dollar of U.N. money comes from the United States. Therefore, to make sure that no U.S. money is used to help the Communists' food problem in Cuba, why not subtract from the U.S. dues to the United Nations half the cost of the proposed experimental research station in Cuba?

When it was put that way, we'll bet Director Hoffman would be first to grasp the logic of the U.S. position. The United States is not about to help Commies feed Cubans. It can be as tough about things like this as the Soviet Union if it gets sore.

Improvement

By Truman Twill

One thing that keeps my faith strong when things in Washington are going badly is a belief in the inevitability of improvement of government.

It is such a balled-up mess to begin with that it can't help but get better. There is no copyrighted merit in one system of government as opposed to another — everything depends on what kind of men have their hands on the power — but it is a fact that some systems are easier to get along with than others.

One particular thing in the British system always has seemed to me to be worth copying here. There is no reason it shouldn't be or couldn't be, either, because there is infinite latitude in what is permissible under the U.S. Constitution. It does not spell out the way things must be done, only what things can and cannot be done at all.

In Britain, the head of the government —the prime minister — must stand before the House of Commons and explain what he has been doing. He can pick the subject matter of his report. But he knows if he tries to be coy or use evasive tactics his political opponents will corner him and demand straight answers, so he beats them to the punch.

The net result is that he and the House of Commons are on an even footing day by day. The head of the government does not have the option of hiding from questioners and facing the music only when he feels like singing.

One especially good thing this does is to bring out the answers to the questions everybody is asking, without waiting for some newshawk in a mob-scene press conference to ask them in an atmosphere of frenzy and possibly get trampled in the rush.

The presidential press conference as it is carried on here has no counterpart in British government. Whatever needs to be known there is made known as a matter of government routine in the House of Commons. There is no need to have a mob scene; no rush to get on TV so the boss will know who's on the job and who isn't.

I can imagine what would happen if the chief executive of the Unied States had to level with an audience of congressmen, knowing he might be interrupted by a pointed question, or thrown off stride by a rude remark.

I can imagine how much better things would be if every official act here were subject to on-the-spot review by the political opposition.

Anything would be an improvement, and as time goes on it will be desirable to move around the furniture.

I want the chief executive of the United States to be officially answerable to Congress not only for his official acts but for his reasons, excuses, alibis and philosophy. And don't say it can't be done. Anything can be done that promises to be an improvement, if politicians feel like doing it. It is the people's job to make them feel like doing it.

This and That

During the past century, people have been growing in stature and weight. Men are two inches and women more than one and one-fifth inch taller. Better nutrition and medical care are responsible, and industry is now foreseeing future theater seats, cars, and even standard beds designed for longer legs.

Favorite item of fare for the tourist stopping for a snack along the highway is still the hamburger. Second in popularity for lunch are the salad sandwiches — egg, ham, tuna. Following this, travelers choose roast beef, corned beef and bacon, lettuce and tomato.

Snails are luscious tidbits to many Europeans, notably the French, who consume some 600 millions of a garden species of snail yearly. Gourmets eat them out of the shell with a special, narrow, hooked fork.

Congress Eyes Law On Desegregation

By DAVID LAWRENCE

David Lawrence

Since the 1954 desegregation decisions of the Supreme Court, it has often been pointed out that the 14th Amendment specifically provides that Congress alone may enact laws to enforce the provisions of that amendment. Somehow, during the last nine years, no such law has been enacted by Congress to require desegration in the public schools.

It is refreshing, therefore, to see homage paid at last to the idea that Congress should pass a law on the subject. Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., has just introduced a bill which, if passed, would require every school district to file a desegregation plan within three years, and the plan would be put into effect unless it was challenged in the courts as inadequate.

When asked why no such measure had been passed heretofore, Sen. Clark replied that a somewhat similar proposal has been sponsored for several years now by Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., in his civil rights bills but these died in committee. He explained that the new bill "would give legislative teeth to the 1954 decision and make it possible through legislative action to implement what the Supreme Court had ruled in its opinion."

THE PENNSYLVANIA senator said that he had been asked by Mr. Kennedy after the 1960 election to prepare legislation to carry out the Democratic platform pledge on school desegregation.

Sen. Clark was asked why he and others felt that legislation was necessary, especially since, up till now, the Department of Justice seems to have had no hesitancy about using numerous court orders on desegregation which have been as sweeping as if they had been derived from specific statutes. Mr. Clark said:

"It seemed to me, frankly, that the executive has taken a pretty effective and aggressive lead in this business of assuring rights which are set forth in the 14th and 15th Amendments, that the judiciary has similarly moved, and that the legislature has been the laggard—and that those rights cannot be assured or secured, in the words of the Declaration of Independence, unless the legislature also acts to implement the actions of the judiciary and of the executive.

"My philosophical argument is that, under our system of checks and balances, when you undertake to implement a constitutional mandate which has been pretty well ignored for nearly a hundred years, all the various elements of government — executive, legislature and judiciary—must cooperate to that end if the result is going to be effective."

AT LEAST it can be said that Sen. Clark's proposed legislation is more in line with constitutional theory than was the Supreme Court decision of 1954 for this was a ruling based primarily on sociological doctrine and not on constitutional law or precedent.

To put before Congress now a concrete piece of legislation on the integration-desegregation issue is to give the representatives of the American people a chance to vote on the question. If they decide in favor of such a law, the sentiment for enforcing it will at least be supported by a statute, and there would no longer be much discussion of the merits of the court decision itself.

Unhappily, however, even if Congress passed a law requiring desegregation in the public schools, this would not dispose of all of the points raised in the controversy over constitutionalism.

"Ratification" of the 14th Amendment itself was a plain fraud. It was an illegal procedure. Historians do not dispute the facts, though they excuse them as due to the emotional atmosphere of postwar days in 1868.

ODDLY ENOUGH, the Supreme Court has never passed specifically on the legality of the strange method used to "adopt" the 14th Amendment. It has dealt with hundreds of cases arising out of the wording of the amendment itself, but has refused to take any case involving the validity of the irregular and arbitrary procedures used to declare the 14th Amendment "ratified."

The court has simply said that the question is "political." But within the last few years, the Supreme Court broke precedent and accepted cases on the reapportionment of congressional districts, even though this had for decades been characterized by the court itself as a "political" question.

Maybe the way has been opened either for a Supreme Court decision on the legality of the "ratification" process used for the 14th Amendment or to the adoption of a revised 14th Amendment by Congress and the states in the manner prescribed by the Constitution. This would dispose of one of the worst violations of the Constitution ever recorded in the history of the United States.

To use troops, for instance, to compel a legislature to do the bidding of Congress, and for Congress itself to deprive senators and representatives of their seats while a constitutional amendment was voted on—as was done in 1868—is something many Americans would wish to see superseded now by the use of the proper process.

Then maybe the oft-heard phrase, "the law of the land," will have real meaning.

New York Harbors Red Propagandists

By VICTOR RIESEL

New York City, which boasts of having the most of everything, certainly is right on one score—it has the most officially registered Communist foreign agents of all cities in the land.

Victor Riesel

Preaching that capitalism is in its "twilight" zone, the bulk of 79 Communist-bloc agents incessantly pour Sino-Soviet propaganda onto the streets and into other cities.

These 79 propagandists are the official agents of Communist governments. They are registered under the Foreign Agents Registration Act of 1938. I do not report here on the many secret or camouflaged or front operations of pro-Soviet groups.

With characteristic daring — or perhaps gall would be more descriptive — the Mao Tse-tung Peking government actually has four agents officially operating in the United States, three of them here. The Soviet Union has 29.

Fidel Castro's government has 11 agents; Poland operates through nine offices; Yugoslavia has eight; Hungary, relieved from darkness only for a moment by the flashing courage of the 1956 Freedom Fighters, has six.

Czechoslovakia, which now provides Cuba with most of its small arms and machinery, has four agents in the United States; Romania has three. East Germany and Mao's ally Albania each have two. Bulgaria has one.

It is the most politically immoral material I've encountered. Many of the agents pass themselves off as newsmen, publicists, "radio" correspondents and book store operators.

They insult us. They demean the United States as a trigger-happy imperialist. They talk of the inevitable victory of "scientific" socialism.

But the most fascinating operation of all those listed in the most recent registry, issued late in '62, is that of the czar of them all. Chap by name of Edwin S. Smith.

HE IS Foreign Agent 723 on this list. Labor men have a special interest in this man. He is operating out of 24 West 45th St., New York City. They recall the disagreements they had with him when he was a most influential member of the National Labor Relations Board.

He was a power on that board for a long time. Then he dropped out of the public view and the labor men forgot him. Some years ago he turned up as a specialist in the representation of foreign governments. Certain foreign governments, that is.

Look at his accounts: Bulgaria, U.S.S.R., Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Poland, Hungary, Romania, Communist China. And being an eclectic in such Communist circles, he has also taken on Yugoslavia as a client.

He is in the same service for the U.S.S.R. in addition to handling its official magazine here.

FOR HUNGARY he handles the "Interfoto M.T.I." of Budapest. This is his specialty. He also is front man here for the Sofia Bulgarska Photographia.

The Communist Chinese government also pours books into the them through two special agents.

What did all this printed tonnage say? Attorney General Robert Kennedy put it this way:

"Red China propaganda was disseminated during the year by Imported Publications and Products, New York, and China Books and Periodicals, Chicago. Included in this material were the 'Peking Review', a weekly news magazine; two illustrated monthlies, 'China Pictorial' and 'China Reconstructs'; 'Women of China'; numerous bound works by Mao Tse-tung, politically slanted novels, ghost stories and songs."

There is a recurring theme in these publications of the Communist Chinese, now actually shooting at our troops in several Asian lands. In our cities, on our streets, they have been able to sell the line of "American imperialist invasion" of new nations.

IN THESE publications, not too long ago, were the words that praised the Soviet Union for its decision to resume nuclear testing as a "cooling dose for hot-headed war plotters." They meant us, of course.

Just suppose we attempted to sell such attacks on Communist China on the streets of Shanghai, Canton and Peking.

Why, if we permit their propaganda to be peddled here, don't we insist that the source be clearly labeled?

Great Understatement

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

One of the greatest understatements of the year was President Kennedy's remark that he has a "suspicion" New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller wants the Republican presidential nomination in 1964.

Rockefeller is running so hard for national attention — about 18 months before the Republican convention—that you can almost hear him panting. He got caught short the last time. He's not taking any chances now.

By the time the New Yorker started to drum up support for the 1960 nomination, he found Vice President Richard M. Nixon had the big wheels in the Republican party sewed up. So he bowed out.

At that time he was reported to have a staff of perhaps 70 people —in two old, five-story brownstone houses which had been converted into one big office on 55th Street in New York—pumping out publicity about him.

He still has the two houses and a publicity staff on his personal payroll, plus a staff of policy experts with offices in Rockefeller Center in New York. And he has a well-paid official press relations staff in Albany.

This will give an idea of how his public relations men are trying to keep Rockefeller in the national eye this far ahead of the Republican convention of 1964.

Washington editors and newsmen not only receive copies of Rockefeller's speeches, of which he has been making a lot, but even schedules of where he will be each week.

In 1959 he made himself unpopular with a lot of Republicans by taking some cracks at the Eisenhower administration. This time he's in reverse. He's been working overtime criticizing the Kennedy administration.

This will not only endear him to Republicans but, if he keeps at it long enough and often enough, will give him the appearance of being the party's spokesman.

It's pursuing an erratic foreign policy, it's getting this country into hot arguments with its allies, the U.S. government is using ruthless tactics with its allies, the administration has been "less than forthright about Cuba," it has used gimmickry.

The governor doesn't admit he's an all-out candidate for the presidential nomination. As late as Feb. 7, when asked if he'd be a candidate in 1964, he said that was hard to say.

At his news conference Thursday a questioner reminded Kennedy that Rockefeller had been attacking him "vehemently, giving rise to the suspicion that he wants to be the Republican candidate next year."

Kennedy said he had the same "suspicion" and then lectured Rockefeller and his fellow Republicans, without naming them, for being fast with criticism but slow in offering substitutes for the Kennedy policies they don't like.

G. P. Williams, Canadian scientist, says dirty snow may be unaesthetic but that it has its good points — including going away faster. Williams, member of the National Research Council, told a snow conference in Quebec that black or dark substances absorb more of the sun's radiant heat than white surfaces, which merely reflect it. Williams said dirty snow absorbs the sun's heat and melts itself.

Richmond Flowers, attorney general of Alabama, says the federal government is hitting the state with so many suits that the state's legal staff is practically snowed under.

Flowers told a civic club in Montgomery that, in the future, the state may have to call on lawyers in private practice to help out. The government has filed numerous suits in Alabama in voter registration and school desegregation cases.

Howard Ketcham, a color consultant to a chemical firm, says the traditional white shirt for men cramps individuality and is best limited to evening wear and major social occasions. Advocating colored shirts for business-day use, Ketcham says: "A man in a colored shirt looks like he's ready to roll up his sleeves and go to work."

Newsmen Talk With McDonald

Steel-Labor Negotiations, If Staged, Seen Peaceful

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Prospects mounted today that 1963 steel-labor negotiations, if undertaken at all, can be settled on a peaceful and moderate basis, without entangling the Kennedy administration in another furor.

That is the impression gained by newsmen at an hour-long question and answer period with the man most involved, President David J. McDonald of the AFL-CIO Steel Workers Union. McDonald never said as much, but he dropped strong hints.

The union, on or before May 1, is permitted under its two-year contract with the major steel-producing companies to reopen negotiations on wage hikes and other matters, including pensions, insurance and extended vacations.

McDonald insisted there has been no decision whether the reopening option will be exercised. But it would be a major surprise if the union passed up the opportunity for at least some gain.

McDonald said he has had no word from the White House or anyone in the federal government. He said the union is taking into consideration the fact that steel company earning statements for 1962 reflected the worst yield in a decade.

About this time last year, when the government was faced with the prospect of a possible midyear steel strike, Kennedy urged both sides to make an early and moderate settlement.

Kennedy got into hot water with business after the steel industry unexpectedly had raised its prices, only to cancel the increases under strong administration pressure.

McDonald, here for a winter meeting of his union's international executive board, discussed with newsmen plans for the extended vacation proposal the union has negotiated with can manufacturers.

Workers under the plan get three months paid vacation every five years, once they have completed 15 years of service. This is in addition to a regular annual vacation.

Periodically extended vacations is McDonald's test idea to help create jobs for workers displaced by machines. McDonald said he considers the plan feasible and practical for the steel industry.

Tax Cut

for the hemisphere this winter" is to work with Latin-American nations to combat Communist subversion, sabotage and political intrigue directed not only from Cuba but from northeastern Brazil and elsewhere.

In making his new plug for a tax cut, Kennedy argued that inaction by Congress would mean "restricted economic growth, higher unemployment" and a bigger-than-forecast deficit, already estimated at $11.9 billion for the fiscal year that begins July 1.

He described his tax package as "our plan to prevent a recession this year and the years to come."

On other topics, Kennedy:

Said the Western allies haven't decided whether it would be fruitful to resume exploratory talks aimed at a possible Berlin settlement.

Expressed full faith in the qualifications of Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., his choice to be undersecretary of commerce. The nomination has been the target of Republican criticism. "They questioned the qualifications of his father to be president," said Kennedy.

When reminded that he questioned the U.S. image abroad during the 1960 presidential campaign, said he would want to wait and "get clearer ideas in the next two years" before deciding how U.S. prestige has fared since then.

86-Pound Syncom Vanishes

Tracking Network Scans Skies For Lost Satellite

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The United States' worldwide tracking network today scanned the skies in search of the Syncom communications satellite lost in space.

The 86-pound satellite vanished Thursday about five hours after it was launched from Cape Canaveral toward an intented synchronous orbit 22,300 miles high in which it would have seemed to hover stationary over one spot on earth.

Radio contact was lost with the satellite seconds after a small payload rocket fired to transfer Syncom from a highly elliptical orbit into a circular synchronous orbit.

Some officials expressed doubt that even if radar or other tracking devices found the satellite, it could be used as a communications tool.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration has a backup Syncom and Delta booster rocket here. The rocket could be fired within a few weeks if the limited amount of telemetry on Thursday's shot is able to quickly pinpoint the trouble.

In another missile test Thursday night, a tactical model of the Pershing artillery rocket failed to hit its target when the experimental warhead did not separate from the booster.

The Army originally announced success of the flight, but an hour later reported study of data revealed the warhead did not detach from the second stage on the planned 200-mile mission. Explosive charges which detonate automatically normally separate a missile warhead.

Primary

need for primaries was eliminated in Lisbon and Leetonia.

"No contest" slates were filed by both Republicans and Democrats at Lisbon. At the filing deadline, there was no contest on the Democratic ticket in Leetonia and only one race on Leetonia's Republican ticket. Prior withdrawal of a Leetonia Republican aspirant eliminated the need for the GOP primary.

Two-party primaries now are in sight only in East Liverpool, Wellsville and East Palestine. Salem will have only a Republican primary. At the filing deadline, there also was a lone Salem Democratic contest for a ward councilman's seat, but his later withdrawal eliminated the need for Democratic voting.

Despite the lack of contests in the primary, special elections will be held on the same date in the Leetonia and Lisbon Exempted Village School Districts.

Both will be voting on proposed operating levies — one in Leetonia and two at Lisbon. Wellsville will ballot on a levy for purchase of a new fire department pumper, raising to four the number of special issues to be decided May 7.

A vote on a levy is not part of the primary. It is a special election arranged on the same date as the primary, the Election Board explained.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Catcher Frank Foiles and pitcher Bob Heffner brought to 25 the number of Reds who have returned signed contracts, the baseball club announced today.

County Firemen Discuss Training

Tentative plans for state fire training sessions later this year were discussed at a meeting of the Executive Board of the Columbiana County Firemen's Association Wednesday night at East Palestine.

The training will be held on two separate days from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. Further arrangements will be made by the board.

Discussion was also held on obtaining the names of all the original members for permanent records. Paul Adams, chairman, presided. East Palestine Mayor Robert Harding was a guest.

Wetzel Bill Offered

COLUMBUS — Rep. Clarence Wetzel of Lisbon submitted a bill in the House of Representatives Thursday to provide for the appointment of school district library trustees from anywhere in the county rather than from within their school district. His bill stipulates that only a majority need reside within the district, recalling a case in the Leetonia Exempted School District where a member was disqualified after moving outside the district.

Absenteeism Up In Some Area Schools

Some area schools today reported increased absenteeism because of flu and other winter diseases while the remainder listed attendance at about normal for this time of the year.

At the East End school, about 24 per cent of the students were absent compared to normal winter absenteeism of 6 to 7 per cent. Westgate School has about 10 per cent absent and the high school is under 10 per cent, Betts said, with elementary schools virtually normal.

Salineville has absenteeism of 27 per cent in Grades 7 to 12, and Chester High School reported absenteeism was above normal. West Liberty's basketball game with Chester tonight has been postponed because of heavy absenteeism at West Liberty.

Beaver Local High School and Public School reported normal student absenteeism of 8 and 9 per cent.

Stanton Local High School reported 24 pupils absent today, compared to the average of only five. But heavy snow also shares in the blame with sickness, a school spokesman explained.

Supt. Lowell Myers of Wellsville said 222 pupils were absent today, compared to 157 on Thursday. Today's absentee list represents about 12 per cent of the student body. The normal absenteeism is 75 pupils.

70 At Fruit Institute

LISBON — Seventy Columbiana and Mahoning County fruit growers attended the annual winter Orchard Institute Thursday at the Salem Chrisitan Church, according to Don Myers, county extension agent in agriculture.

Pupil Aide Talks At Summitville

SUMMITVILLE — A talk on the guidance program at Southern Local School District was given by Robert Carter, guidance director, at a meeting of the Women's Civic Club Thursday night with Mrs. Paul Karaffa.

A question-and-answer discussion period followed the talk.

A letter was read from Basil Boritzki, communications chief for the Ohio Public Utilities Commission, reporting that the General Telephone Co. is continuing a survey of telephone service in the area and that he would report further. The club pressed last year for phone service improvement.

Mrs. Lewis McCullough, president, was in charge. The tables were decorated in a valentine theme, and Mrs. Robert Carter presided at the tea service.

Steel-Labor Negotiations, If Staged, Seen Peaceful

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Prospects mounted today that 1963 steel-labor negotiations, if undertaken at all, can be settled on a peaceful and moderate basis, without entangling the Kennedy administration in another furor.

That is the impression gained by newsmen at an hour-long question and answer period with the man most involved, President David J. McDonald of the AFL-CIO Steel Workers Union. McDonald never said as much, but he dropped strong hints.

The union, on or before May 1, is permitted under its two-year contract with the major steel-producing companies to reopen negotiations on wage hikes and other matters, including pensions, insurance and extended vacations.

McDonald insisted there has been no decision whether the reopening option will be exercised. But it would be a major surprise if the union passed up the opportunity for at least some gain.

McDonald said he has had no word from the White House or anyone in the federal government. He said the union is taking into consideration the fact that steel company earning statements for 1962 reflected the worst yield in a decade.

About this time last year, when the government was faced with the prospect of a possible midyear steel strike, Kennedy urged both sides to make an early and moderate settlement.

Kennedy got into hot water with business after the steel industry unexpectedly had raised its prices, only to cancel the increases under strong administration pressure.

McDonald, here for a winter meeting of his union's international executive board, discussed with newsmen plans for the extended vacation proposal the union has negotiated with can manufacturers.

Workers under the plan get three months paid vacation every five years, once they have completed 15 years of service. This is in addition to a regular annual vacation.

Periodically extended vacations is McDonald's test idea to help create jobs for workers displaced by machines. McDonald said he considers the plan feasible and practical for the steel industry.

Tax Cut

for the hemisphere this winter" is to work with Latin-American nations to combat Communist subversion, sabotage and political intrigue directed not only from Cuba but from northeastern Brazil and elsewhere.

In making his new plug for a tax cut, Kennedy argued that inaction by Congress would mean "restricted economic growth, higher unemployment" and a bigger-than-forecast deficit, already estimated at $11.9 billion for the fiscal year that begins July 1.

He described his tax package as "our plan to prevent a recession this year and the years to come."

On other topics, Kennedy:

Said the Western allies haven't decided whether it would be fruitful to resume exploratory talks aimed at a possible Berlin settlement.

Expressed full faith in the qualifications of Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., his choice to be undersecretary of commerce. The nomination has been the target of Republican criticism. "They questioned the qualifications of his father to be president," said Kennedy.

When reminded that he questioned the U.S. image abroad during the 1960 presidential campaign, said he would want to wait and "get clearer ideas in the next two years" before deciding how U.S. prestige has fared since then.

86-Pound Syncom Vanishes

Tracking Network Scans Skies For Lost Satellite

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The United States' worldwide tracking network today scanned the skies in search of the Syncom communications satellite lost in space.

The 86-pound satellite vanished Thursday about five hours after it was launched from Cape Canaveral toward an intented synchronous orbit 22,300 miles high in which it would have seemed to hover stationary over one spot on earth.

Radio contact was lost with the satellite seconds after a small payload rocket fired to transfer Syncom from a highly elliptical orbit into a circular synchronous orbit.

Some officials expressed doubt that even if radar or other tracking devices found the satellite, it could be used as a communications tool.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration has a backup Syncom and Delta booster rocket here. The rocket could be fired within a few weeks if the limited amount of telemetry on Thursday's shot is able to quickly pinpoint the trouble.

In another missile test Thursday night, a tactical model of the Pershing artillery rocket failed to hit its target when the experimental warhead did not separate from the booster.

The Army originally announced success of the flight, but an hour later reported study of data revealed the warhead did not detach from the second stage on the planned 200-mile mission. Explosive charges which detonate automatically normally separate a missile warhead.

Pupil Aide Talks At Summitville

SUMMITVILLE — A talk on the guidance program at Southern Local School District was given by Robert Carter, guidance director, at a meeting of the Women's Civic Club Thursday night with Mrs. Paul Karaffa.

A question-and-answer discussion period followed the talk.

A letter was read from Basil Boritzki, communications chief for the Ohio Public Utilities Commission, reporting that the General Telephone Co. is continuing a survey of telephone service in the area and that he would report further. The club pressed last year for phone service improvement.

Mrs. Lewis McCullough, president, was in charge. The tables were decorated in a valentine theme, and Mrs. Robert Carter presided at the tea service.

Shopping for a used car? The best times to hunt are between 9 and 10 in the morning and 4 and 5 in the afternoon. Why? That's the time you get the best selection, according to latest findings which claim that used-car dealers buy their stock from wholesalers either before or after work — and thus the used-car hunter finds his best selections at those times.

Primary

need for primaries was eliminated in Lisbon and Leetonia.

"No contest" slates were filed by both Republicans and Democrats at Lisbon. At the filing deadline, there was no contest on the Democratic ticket in Leetonia and only one race on Leetonia's Republican ticket. Prior withdrawal of a Leetonia Republican aspirant eliminated the need for the GOP primary.

Two-party primaries now are in sight only in East Liverpool, Wellsville and East Palestine. Salem will have only a Republican primary. At the filing deadline, there also was a lone Salem Democratic contest for a ward councilman's seat, but his later withdrawal eliminated the need for Democratic voting.

Despite the lack of contests in the primary, special elections will be held on the same date in the Leetonia and Lisbon Exempted Village School Districts.

Both will be voting on proposed operating levies — one in Leetonia and two at Lisbon. Wellsville will ballot on a levy for purchase of a new fire department pumper, raising to four the number of special issues to be decided May 7.

A vote on a levy is not part of the primary. It is a special election arranged on the same date as the primary, the Election Board explained.

Reds Sign 2 More

CINCINNATI (AP) — Catcher Frank Foiles and pitcher Bob Heffner brought to 25 the number of Reds who have returned signed contracts, the baseball club announced today.

County Firemen Discuss Training

Tentative plans for state fire training sessions later this year were discussed at a meeting of the Executive Board of the Columbiana County Firemen's Association Wednesday night at East Palestine.

The training will be held on two separate days from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. Further arrangements will be made by the board.

Discussion was also held on obtaining the names of all the original members for permanent records. Paul Adams, chairman, presided. East Palestine Mayor Robert Harding was a guest.

Wetzel Bill Offered

COLUMBUS — Rep. Clarence Wetzel of Lisbon submitted a bill in the House of Representatives Thursday to provide for the appointment of school district library trustees from anywhere in the county rather than from within their school district. His bill stipulates that only a majority need reside within the district, recalling a case in the Leetonia Exempted School District where a member was disqualified after moving outside the district.

Absenteeism Up In Some Area Schools

Some area schools today reported increased absenteeism because of flu and other winter diseases while the remainder listed attendance at about normal for this time of the year.

At the East End school, about 24 per cent of the students were absent compared to normal winter absenteeism of 6 to 7 per cent. Westgate School has about 10 per cent absent and the high school is under 10 per cent, Betts said, with elementary schools virtually normal.

Salineville has absenteeism of 27 per cent in Grades 7 to 12, and Chester High School reported absenteeism was above normal.

West Liberty's basketball game with Chester tonight has been postponed because of heavy absenteeism at West Liberty.

Beaver Local High School and Public School reported normal student absenteeism of 8 and 9 per cent.

Stanton Local High School reported 24 pupils absent today, compared to the average of only five. But heavy snow also shares in the blame with sickness, a school spokesman explained.

Supt. Lowell Myers of Wellsville said 222 pupils were absent today, compared to 157 on Thursday. Today's absentee list represents about 12 per cent of the student body. The normal absenteeism is 75 pupils.

70 At Fruit Institute

LISBON — Seventy Columbiana and Mahoning County fruit growers attended the annual winter Orchard Institute Thursday at the Salem Chrisitan Church, according to Don Myers, county extension agent in agriculture.

On Cotton, Feed, Dairy Products

Shadow Over Farm Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Shadows of the fight over the old Brannan farm plan hang over the Kennedy administration's new farm program proposals for cotton, feed grains and dairy products.

One of the features of a plan advanced in 1949 by the Truman administration farm chief, Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan, was broad use of government payments to supplement farm income. The plan would have provided a relatively high price support level, but to keep market prices relatively low would have supplemented farm returns with compensatory payments.

The Brannan plan got little support in Congress. Some critics contended it would cost too much. Others said it would make farmers dependent year after year on the willingness of politically minded congressmen to vote money for the payments.

The Kennedy cotton and dairy programs would make use of payments, already in use for wool and under a temporary program, for feed grains.

But a House agriculture committee has sent back to a subcommittee a cotton bill to authorize payments to make cotton available to domestic users at prices on a par with those charged foreign buyers under an export subsidy.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Weather Bureau's weekly crop bulletin said today that small grains planted last fall benefited considerably from a continuation of above-normal temperatures in the western two-thirds of the nation.

However, top-soil moisture was reported approaching critically low levels in western Kansas and most sections of the southern Great Plains.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department reported today the nation's dairy herd produced an average of 596 pounds of milk in January.

Milk production per cow in 1962 averaged 7,370 pounds, a record high. It compared with the 1961 average of 7,223 pounds and with the 1956 - 60 average of 6,559 pounds.

From such sales the Agriculture Department obtains funds for paying farmers to reduce feed grain acreages under a grain production reduction program.

The agency has outstanding more than $450 million in farm payment certificates under the 1962 grain program. The money has been paid to farmers by the department's banking agency, the Commodity Credit Corporation. This agency must get its money back through sale of surplus feed grains.

Reporting on this situation, a department grain situation report said: "This would indicate that sales of grains by the Commodity Credit Corporation will be somewhat heavier during the remainder of the 1962-63 marketing year than in the same period of 1961-62." The marketing season ends Sept. 30.

For Urgent Talks With Allies

Kennedy To Send Special Aide On NATO A-Force

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy plans to send a special negotiator to Europe in about 10 days for urgent talks with allied governments on creation of a NATO nuclear striking force.

The President made clear at a news conference Thursday that he thinks European members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization are entitled to a greater voice in deciding the nuclear strategy of the West against the Soviet Union. But he emphasized that they must pay an increasing share of the total cost of Western defense.

Special negotiator Livingston T. Merchant, retired diplomat called back to duty for the nuclear mission, will go to Europe in about 10 days, Kennedy told newsmen.

As a result of policy discussions Kennedy is now holding, Merchant is expected to be able to tell allied leaders how the United States believes the nuclear force could be organized.

The most difficult problem, Kennedy said, involves deciding what man or men would decide in a sudden emergency whether nuclear weapons should be used.

Kennedy said the power might be given to the American president or the president of France or the British prime minister or someone else. What he hopes at the moment, he said, is that guidelines on this "life and death" issue can be laid down at an early stage so that the work of setting up the force can go forward. He hopes to have specific proposals worked out by the time foreign ministers of the 15-nation NATO council meet in May at Ottawa, Canada.

The issue lies at the heart of the split between most other allied leaders and French President Charles de Gaulle. He is determined to give France an independent nuclear force, perhaps coordinated with, but not controlled by any kind of NATO command.

Bill Would Permit Side Job For Deputy

A bill that would permit sheriff's deputies to hold additional jobs was introduced in the State Legislature in Charleston Thursday by delegates from Hancock and Brooke Counties.

Miss Callie Tsapis (D-Hancock) and Chester D'Aurora (D-Brooke) submitted the measure that would remove the ban of extra employment by deputies on the staffs of county sheriffs.

Meanwhile, State Sen. William Tompos of Weirton (D-Hancock) introduced bills in the Senate that would outlaw surface mining, and prohibit the attorney general and his assistants from engaging in private law practice. The bill also would provide for removal from office for violation.

Judge Drops 38 Old Cases For Hancock

Judge James G. McClure of Hancock County Circuit Court Thursday ordered dismissed some 38 old indictments returned by Grand Jury panels across the years but never disposed of through legal channels, according to court records.

But he asked an investigation into 11 old cases and prosecution of the defendants if possible in a bid to clear up the jammed court docket.

Judge McClure nolled the 38 old indictments on a recommendation of Atty. Don Donell, assistant county prosecutor, after a study of the old cases. It was decided that "justice could not be served by bringing the old cases before the court at this time."

The Wheeling jurist explained he is attempting to clear the backlog of old cases so that "the defendants will not be damaged by having old cases hanging over their heads."

Many of the cases apparently eluded the legal process of law by failure of defendants to pay court costs, and turn in written orders to the Circuit Clerk's office.

Twenty-five more old cases were reviewed in Circuit Court in New Cumberland yesterday, one dating back to 1924. Ten defendants were indicted in 1929 on charges of possession of moonshine.

Juvenile Officer Speaker For PTA

SALINEVILLE — A talk on juvenile problems in Columbiana County was given by James Miller, juvenile officer, at a meeting of the Parent - Teacher Association Thursday night at the high school.

The meeting followed the annual public chicken dinner attended by about 200. Reports on the overall advance and door ticket sales and profit from the fund-raising project are incomplete.

About 45 attended the PTA meeting at which Martin Adams, vice president, was in charge. The Rev. Allen Rose of the Methodist Church gave prayer.

The second grade taught by Mrs. Edythe Springer won the attendance award. Refreshments were served by the third grade homeroom mothers.

Next meeting is March 14.

The Chester Lions Club Thursday night appointed Walter Jordan as a representative to an organization meeting for a Citizens Scholarship Foundation to be held Tuesday.

William Kozel of the East Liverpool Jaycees spoke on the proposed foundation, which would provide interest-free loans for college, nursing or vocational school students.

Robert Cain reported 30 display spaces have been sold to Chester businesses and industries for a fair and home show to be held by the club June 13-15 at the City Park.

The purchase of spectacles for two area students was authorized.

Charles Mansfield, president, appointed committee chairmen for a district governor's Ladies Night meeting March 28 when Herbert Heft of Elm Grove, district Lions governor, will visit the club.

Last Installment Due Yearbook

Final payment for the 1963 edition of East Liverpool High School's yearbook, "Keramos," will be collected starting Monday, Barrie Smith, editor, announced today.

First payment of $2 of the $4 book was made in October.

The 31-member staff has been working on the material since September, and the 164-page book is due for issuance in May.

The book will feature Snoopy, the Peanuts cartoon, created by Charles Schulz, who gave permission for its use in a personal letter to the staff.

The interpretations of Snoopy in teen-age actions and garb were made by Barbara Hacker, who also designed the cover of white leatherette with blue nameplate and decorations.

230 Passengers Taken Off Ship After Mishap

BREMERHAVEN, Germany (AP)—The Dutch passenger liner Maasdam struck an underwater wreck in fog at the mouth of the Weser River today. Her 230 passengers were taken off in lifeboats to take them into Bremerhaven, which is at the head of the Weser Estuary.

The owner of the 15,024-ton ship, the Holland-America Line, said the Maasham was leaking in tanks of its double bottom and developed a slight list. But the line said the ship was expected to steam slowly into Bremerhaven under its own power for repairs.

Tugs were out to assist the ship if needed.

The shipping line said the passengers were taken off as a precautionary measure.

Holland - America said buoys marking the wreck which the ship hit probably had been torn away by heavy ice.

The liner was en route from Rotterdam to Bremerhaven to inaugurate direct service between the West German port and the United States. She was to have sailed on the inaugural voyage Feb. 18.

County Firms May Seek U.S. Contracts

Procurement specialists, representing the Army, Navy, Air Force, Space Administration and Department of Commerce, will be at the Warren Chamber of Commerce office in the Warner Hotel, Monday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., to answer questions and help area firms obtain prime or secondary government contracts.

These representatives will be available for personal consultation and will explore the potentialities of area firms and advise their officials on ways of getting the kind of contract each can handle.

Industrial firms from Trumbull, Mahoning, Portage and Columbiana Counties are being alerted to this opportunity.

Normally an interested firm would have to go to Cleveland, New York, Chicago or Washington to obtain the answers which will be available at Warren without charge or obligation.

Harold J. Mills, manager of the Warren Area Chamber of Commerce, urged officials of all area firms to take full advantage of this opportunity.

City Agent Scheduled At Insurance Meeting

Ben Feldman of St. Clair Ave., agent for the New York Life Insurance Co., is among several top insurance leaders who will speak at the 14th annual Insurance Conference at Ohio State University at Columbus March 7.

Feldman and Andrew Thomson, vice president of New York Life, will speak on "Selling the Reluctant Dragon." Other speakers will be E. J. Faulkner, president of Woodman Accident & Life of Nebraska, Atty. Robert Hamilton of Chicago, and Dr. Joseph Belth of Indiana University. Theme of the convention is "The Challenge of Change."

Heart Fund Meeting Set For Monday

Team captains will be briefed on the East Liverpool area Heart Fund solicitation and receive campaign material at a meeting Monday night at 8 in the YMCA, Mrs. Austen Moore, drive chairman, announced today.

Mrs. Moore will preside at the session. Her vice chairmen are Mrs. Robert Bourne and Mrs. Robert Brooks. Co-chairmen for the Calcutta area are Mrs. Donald Thompson and Mrs. Kenneth Meyers.

Girls from 4-H clubs and members of the Horizon unit of the Campfire Girls will conduct the canvass in Calcutta.

Heart Fund Sunday will be Feb. 24.

More than 400 letters appealing for contributions already have been mailed in that phase of the drive, Mrs. Moore said.

County Nurse Group Will Hear Consultant

LISBON — Mrs. Alberta Morgan, nursing consultant for the Division of Accident Prevention of the Ohio Department of Health, will be guest speaker at a meeting of the Columbiana School and Public Health Nurses Monday at 1 p. m. in the County Health Department in the Courthouse.

Resuscitation will also be demonstrated to the group. Mrs. Violet Peterson, county health nurse, president, will preside.

45 Attend Installation Held By Rogers Pythian Sisters

Forty-five attended an installation meeting of the Rogers Pythian Sisters Tuesday night which featured a candlelight ceremony.

In charge were Mrs. Margaret McDaniel, installing officer; Mrs. Maine Hall, grand senior, and Mrs. Elsie Dickey, grand representative. Mrs. Lillian Conkle gave prayer, and Mrs. Doris Ward sang "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Edna Seidel.

Installed were Mrs. Veda Cope, past chief; Mrs. Ethel Huston, most excellent chief; Mrs. Catherine Whalen, senior; Mrs. Judith Campbell, junior; Mrs. Ethel Messenger, manager.

Mrs. Jacqueline Eells, secretary; Mrs. Etta Baker, treasurer; Mrs. Harriet Lester, protector; Mrs. Karen Meek, guard, and Margaret Campbell, pianist.

A panel discussion on "To Be a Member, Be Informed" was held at a meeting of the WCTU Tuesday with Mrs. Bessie Pike.

Taking part were Mrs. Ruby McMillan, Mrs. Pike, Mrs. Floda Siers and Mrs. Zora Raley.

It was announced the group has received an honor certificate from national and state WCTU for paying yearly dues before February.

Mrs. Pike led devotions and Mrs. Raley presided. Mrs. Siers was program chairman. Mrs. Pike, treasurer, reported $11.82 in the group's funds.

Lunch was served by the hostess. The March meeting will be held at the Methodist Church with Mrs. Milly Stanley as hostess and Mrs. McMillan as leader.

Card Party Planned

SUMMITVILLE — Further plans have been made for a St. Patrick's Day public card party in March by the Altar and Rosary Society of the St. John's Catholic Church. Mrs. Earl McKarns is chairman. The group will meet at a date to be announced.

Judge Drops 38 Old Cases For Hancock

Judge James G. McClure of Hancock County Circuit Court Thursday ordered dismissed some 38 old indictments returned by Grand Jury panels across the years but never disposed of through legal channels, according to court records.

But he asked an investigation into 11 old cases and prosecution of the defendants if possible in a bid to clear up the jammed court docket.

Judge McClure nolled the 38 old indictments on a recommendation of Atty. Don Donell, assistant county prosecutor, after a study of the old cases. It was decided that "justice could not be served by bringing the old cases before the court at this time."

The Wheeling jurist explained he is attempting to clear the backlog of old cases so that "the defendants will not be damaged by having old cases hanging over their heads."

Many of the cases apparently eluded the legal process of law by failure of defendants to pay court costs, and turn in written orders to the Circuit Clerk's office.

Twenty-five more old cases were reviewed in Circuit Court in New Cumberland yesterday, one dating back to 1924. Ten defendants were indicted in 1929 on charges of possession of moonshine.

Juvenile Officer Speaker For PTA

SALINEVILLE — A talk on juvenile problems in Columbiana County was given by James Miller, juvenile officer, at a meeting of the Parent - Teacher Association Thursday night at the high school.

The meeting followed the annual public chicken dinner attended by about 200. Reports on the overall advance and door ticket sales and profit from the fund-raising project are incomplete.

About 45 attended the PTA meeting at which Martin Adams, vice president, was in charge. The Rev. Allen Rose of the Methodist Church gave prayer.

The second grade taught by Mrs. Edythe Springer won the attendance award. Refreshments were served by the third grade homeroom mothers.

Next meeting is March 14.

SEX-LINKED HEREDITY

Q. I recently heard my college daughter talking to a boy about sex-linked heredity. I was absolutely shocked! Can you advise me privately what this is all about? I want to have a talk with that young lady!

A. Before you do any talking, brush up on your science. The kids were no doubt discussing some new and exciting developments in genetics. Every cell in the human body contains 23 pairs of chromosomes (rod-like structures) which carry hereditary factors (genes). Normally, both male and female have 22 pairs of autosomes plus one pair of "sex" chromosomes consisting of two X chromosomes in the female . . . one X and one Y in the male. Sex-linked heredity usually implies that the trait is due to a gene carried by an X ("sex") chromosome. Clear? If not, perhaps you should have a talk with your daughter . . . but you do the listening!

MUSCULAR DYSTROPHY

Q. I have two brothers who are victims of muscular dystrophy. Can the disease be inherited? If so, would my children be afflicted even though I show no signs of the disease?

A. Muscular dystrophy has been defined as genetically determined primary degenerative myopathy. In other words, an inherited disorder of the muscles. There are several varieties of the disease. One, the Duchenne type, occurs almost exclusively in young boys and is inherited as a sex-linked recessive character. Efforts are now being made to identify female carriers of the inheritable factor responsible for most cases of the Duchenne type. If an accurate test can be developed it would then be possible to predict which female relatives of patients with this type of muscular dystrophy would pass on the disease to their sons.

The card party will be held Feb. 23 at 8 p. m. in the East Liverpool Country Club and the dinner meeting April 22 at the Beaver Local Public School.

Lee Kirkland, principal of Beaver Local High Schoool, presided last night in the absence of Judge Louis Tobin, who was ill.

The following were named to the center's Advisory Committee: Mrs. Lilyan Alpern and Paul Blair, co-chairmen, Mrs. J. Donald Thompson and Judge Tobin. A fifth member will be selected later, with a discussion of further expansion of the committee scheduled at the March meeting.

Cubs At Chester Stage Program

Fifteen boys of Chester Cub Scout Pack 25 presented a program at a meeting of the Washington Home and School Association Thursday night at the Chester school.

Mrs. Raymond Register, den mother, directed the program, which included scout questions and answers. Dale Hoyt, institutional representative, introduced the group.

Mrs. Richard Milner, president, announced registration for preschool age children will be held at a tea April 24 at the school.

The attendance award was shared by the first grade of Mrs. Dorothy Pattison and the third grade of Mrs. Grace Evarts.

Refreshments were served 30 by the social committee, headed by Mrs. Register. Next meeting is March 14.

SEX-LINKED HEREDITY

Q. I recently heard my college daughter talking to a boy about sex-linked heredity. I was absolutely shocked! Can you advise me privately what this is all about? I want to have a talk with that young lady!

A. Before you do any talking, brush up on your science. The kids were no doubt discussing some new and exciting developments in genetics. Every cell in the human body contains 23 pairs of chromosomes (rod-like structures) which carry hereditary factors (genes). Normally, both male and female have 22 pairs of autosomes plus one pair of "sex" chromosomes consisting of two X chromosomes in the female . . . one X and one Y in the male. Sex-linked heredity usually implies that the trait is due to a gene carried by an X ("sex") chromosome. Clear? If not, perhaps you should have a talk with your daughter . . . but you do the listening!

MUSCULAR DYSTROPHY

Q. I have two brothers who are victims of muscular dystrophy. Can the disease be inherited? If so, would my children be afflicted even though I show no signs of the disease?

A. Muscular dystrophy has been defined as genetically determined primary degenerative myopathy. In other words, an inherited disorder of the muscles. There are several varieties of the disease. One, the Duchenne type, occurs almost exclusively in young boys and is inherited as a sex-linked recessive character. Efforts are now being made to identify female carriers of the inheritable factor responsible for most cases of the Duchenne type. If an accurate test can be developed it would then be possible to predict which female relatives of patients with this type of muscular dystrophy would pass on the disease to their sons.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Is it in good taste to have all sorts of religious art on display in every room of the house?

I'm engaged to a young man whose religion is the same as mine. Whenever I go to his home (he lives with his parents) I feel as if I'm in a church. There are dozens of religious pictures on the walls, statues in every corner and even the crocheted doilies have biblical sayings on them.

I've always felt that religion is sacred and highly personal. This gross overdisplay makes me uncomfortable.

I've discussed my feelings with my fiance and he says he has never given it a thought because he grew up in the house and is accustomed to it. May I have your views on this?—PATRICIA.

Dear Pat: There is good art and bad art. Regardless of the subject, bad art does nothing for a room.

A home is the reflection of the people who live in it. Your taste obviously is not the same as your future mother-in-law's. But you ought not to criticize her home. When you have a place of your own, decorate it as you wish.

A Tramp Is A Tramp

Dear Ann: A friend of my husband has taken up with a tramp. I will call the man Mr. Jerk. The man's wife has had a difficult time being both mother and father to their children. She has the respect and sympathy of everyone who knows her.

Mr. Jerk is not only my husband's friend, he is a good client. My husband feels that for both reasons we should continue to be hospitable to him.

At first I agreed, on the theory that what he does with his life is his own business. But last week my husband told me that Mr. Jerk invited us to join his girl friend and him on a short trip to the Keys. I refuse to go because I don't want to be in the tramp's company.

My husband says I am naive, adolescent and narrow-minded. Am I?—SPEAKING MY PIECE.

Dear Speaking: By accepting the invitation you give tacit approval to the whole shabby affair—as if it were just peachy.

Mr. Jerk has a right to live as he pleases but if he chooses to behave in a scandalous manner he should not be surprised when he gets the name with the game.

If your husband wishes to keep Mr. Jerk's friendship for business reasons he can take the guy to lunch.

Envies Career Wife

Dear Ann: That letter from the happily married career girl knocked me off my pins. She must be some kind of a nut or something. I can't imagine a single girl not being delighted that her friends and relatives are thoughtfully trying to fix her up with eligible men. It should only happen to me.

My friends and relatives think of me only when the baby sitter folds out, or when they need someone to go to the hospital with them. Sometimes they think of me when they need a little errand run, because I have a car and "nothing to do evenings."

Most single girls put up a cheerful front because they have too much pride to let the world know they are wretched and lonely. I'll bet my red flannel nightgown that 9 out of 10 "deliriously happy" career girls would pitch it all if they had the chance. I would—EMPTY EXISTENCE.

Dear Empty: Some married women have an "empty existence," too. The grass isn't always greener, you know. Sometimes it just looks that way.

It may be that your personality is better suited for the single life—so cheer up.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

DAVE PHILIPS
Speaker For Sunday Night.

Society To Hear Seminarian Tell Of Mission Duty

Dave Philips, a student at the Pittsburgh Theological Seminary, will speak to the Ethel Chambers Missionary Society at the Second United Presbyterian Church Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Born in Egypt of missionary parents, he assisted Don McClure, United Presbyterian missionary to Ethiopia. He will tell of his work with the Anuak tribes and show slides.

He is a graduate of Muskingum College and will graduate from the Seminary in May.

With McClure and four others he assisted in establishing the Gila River Mission Station in western Ethiopia.

The Anuaks are a primitive Nilotic tribe and the government of Ethiopia is interested in civilizing and Christianizing them.

Members of all Presbyterian Churches of the area have been invited to attend and those from other churches are welcome, sponsors said.

New Fredericktown Church Officers Given Certificates

Appreciation certificates were presented to newly-elected officers and Sunday School teachers at a dinner Wednesday evening at the Fredericktown Christian Church.

The 1963 officers include James Craig, Donald Lipp, Charles Burgess and White, elders; Bill Allen, John Rambo, Jay Lyons, Howard Rambo, Robert Smith and David Walker, deacons.

Other officers are Roberta Allen, clerk; Mollie Craig, treasurer; Ursula Walker, organist; Dolores Craig, pianist, and Laura Mae Smith, assistant pianist.

Teachers appointed include Mollie Craig and Martha Burgess, Nursery Department; Ursula Walker, and Glenda Hampson, Sunshine Class; Hazel Meek and Louise Heddleson, Joy Class; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lipp, class for 8-9-year-old students; Thelma Thomas and Dorothy Hess, True Blue; Thomas White and James Craig, Friendly Boosters, and Thomas Hess and Jay Lyons, Willing Workers.

Thomas Hess of Columbiana has been recalled as minister.

If You Keep Things

DUMAS, Ark. (AP) — When Uncle Sam began charging 5 cents for first class letters this year, the Stimson Lumber Co. was ready. In 1940 when the firm was exporting lumber, it had purchased quite a few 5-cent stamped envelopes for use on export mail. Twenty-three years later, the envelopes were handily put to use.

Hargraves Appointed To Principals' Group

George Hargraves, East Liverpool High School principal, has been appointed to an eight-member committee to plan the summer conference of the Ohio Association of Secondary School Principals.

In announcing the appointment, Dr. Hugh D. Laughlin, executive secretary, said the conference will be held July 31-Aug. 2 at Ohio State University.

Hargraves has served for two years on the five-man committee on professional standards.

Rhodes Names 3

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — New appointments by Gov. James A. Rhodes include Don R. Goddard, Washington County banker, to the Banking Advisory Board and Dr. Donald F. Bowers of Upper Arlington, Columbus suburb, and Mrs. Etheline W. Alexander of Columbus to the Cosmetology Board.

Midland Junior Women's Club Honors 'Girls Of Month'

Miss Jeanne Waddingham and Judy Skrenski, Midland High School seniors selected "Girl of the Month," were honored at a meeting of the Midland Junior Women's Club Wednesday evening in Midland American Legion Post 481 home. Selected for January and February, both girls spoke on their school activities. The project is sponsored by the Beaver County Junior Women's Club.

Miss Skrenski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Skrenski of Beaver Ave., demonstrated playing of the clarinet.

The teachers will select a girl for March and April. Later this spring a "Girl of the Year" will be named.

Business was conducted by Mrs. Maurice Newman, president, who announced that a Mad Hatters brunch will be held by the Beaver County Federation March 23 at Beaver Falls with a fashion show.

Mrs. Charles Smith, American home chairman, said that the Federation sewing contest will be judged at the brunch.

The club will sponsor a rummage sale Tuesday beginning at 8:30 a. m. at the vacant storeroom at 4th St., and Midland Ave. Easter candy also is being sold and Mrs. Thomas Doyle and Mrs. John Kilcoyne are co-chairmen of the fund-raising projects.

Mrs. John Shovlin and Mrs. James Vesco, co-chairmen, distributed a new club newsletter, "Junior Addition."

The association will continue to sponsor the Midland Ave. improvement project with Mrs. Louis Hallett, chairman of community affairs, in charge. A business place will be chosen for this month, March and April and a plaque will be presented.

The annual penny art fund collection was made by Mrs. John Hineman, fine arts chairman.

Mrs. Richard Sodders, chairman of conservation and garden, announced that baltic ivy will be planted in the spring at the triangle plot at Maryland and Virginia Aves. this spring. The club will continue to take care of the flower beds at Lincoln Park.

The president announced that the Federation welfare project is the remedial reading class at Geneva College and each member will be assessed.

The club received an invitation to attend a reciprocity meeting of the Beaver Falls club April 9.

As part of the program, movies of the 1962 Midland July 4th parade were screened.

Refreshments were served from a table decorated in a valentine theme. Nosegays of red and pink tissue carnations were favors.

Mrs. Hallett was social chairman, assisted by Mrs. Joseph Patrick, Mrs. Edward Richards and Mrs. Francis Vallera.

Next meeting March 13 will feature election of officers and a coverdish dinner at 6:30 in the Legion rooms.

The Executive Board will meet March 6 at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Robert Katich of Midland Ave.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average five to eight degrees below normal. Normal high 34-40, normal low 19-23. Moderating slowly over weekend, colder toward mid-week. Precipitation will average one-half to three-fourths of an inch melted as occasional periods of snow first of next week.

Class Of 3 Initiated By IOOF In East End

A class of three candidates received the initiatory degree at a meeting of the Pennova Lodge Odd Fellows Lodge 880 Thursday evening at the East End Temple.

Refreshments were served 25. Next meeting is Thursday night.

James Powell of East Liverpool, Mrs. Angela Nola of Industry, and Drew Nance and Thomas Tray of Midland were admitted Thursday to Rochester General Hospital. Mrs. Margaret Krovisky, Gabriel Pantoni and Mrs. Aretha Slappy of Midland were discharged.

Drive For Members

LISBON — The Columbiana County Farm Bureau, 16 members short of the quota goal of 656, has extended the membership drive, Allan Chamberlain of Leetonia, president, announced.

At a meeting Thursday night at the bureau offices here, it was decided to extend the drive to March 1. The present enrollment is 549.

The group went on record as opposing the scheduled dates for the County Fair Aug. 22-26, because a session is slated Aug. 25—a Sunday.

Deaths and Funerals

Retired Ware Employe Dies

Thomas Michael Hindes, 827 Phoenix Ave., Chester, a retired pottery employe, died this morning at 3:15 at City Hospital, after a long illness. He was 88.

Mr. Hindes was born in Manorville, Pa., Oct. 28, 1874, to the late Samuel L. Hindes and Hanna Hartman Hindes.

He came to Chester from Ford City in 1917. He retired from the Taylor Smith & Taylor Co. in 1947, where he was employed as a night watchman and boiler fireman. At one time he worked at the former American Sheet & Tin Plate Co. He was a lifetime members of the Eagles Lodge of East Liverpool. His wife, Mrs. Hanna Hindes, died in December 1954.

He leaves seven daughters, Mrs. Aida McDevitt of Ft. Services will be held Monday at 10:30 a. m. at the Chester Arner Funeral Chapel by Earliss Gleaton, minister of the Chester Christian Church. Burial will be in Riverview Cemetery.

Friends may call at the chapel Saturday and Sunday.

John Earley, Ex-City Hall Custodian, Dies

John William Earley, 1045 Pennsylvania Ave., retired City Hall custodian, died this morning at 3:05 in his home after an illness of six months. He was 87.

He was born June 7, 1875, in Lynchburg, Va., and resided in East Liverpool for 65 years.

Mr. Earley retired in 1957 after 13 years at City Hall.

He was a member of the Second Baptist Church and its 50-year club, chairman of the Board of Deacons for 25 years, and had served as Sunday School superintendent many years. He was also a member of the Beleek St. Civic League.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Mary Florence Earley at home; two daughters, Mrs. Lenore Mitchell of Jamaica, N. Y., and Mrs. Flossie Blue of Baltimore; a foster daughter, Mrs. Amanda Graham of South Bend, Ind., and two grandchildren.

Services will be held Monday afternoon at 1 at the church by the Rev. E. B. Arrington, pastor, and the Rev. E. H. Harris of Youngstown Silo Baptist Church. Place of burial will be announced.

Friends may call at 1187 Pennsylvania Ave. Saturday afternoon and Sunday, and Monday at the church from 10 a. m. until time of services.

Elmer Mackall

Elmer G. Mackall, 313 Peterson Rd., Wellsville R. D., a retired potter, died this morning at 3 at the Oakland Veterans Hospital in Pittsburgh, where he had been a patient three weeks. He was 74.

A World War I veteran, Mr. Mackall was born Aug. 18, 1888, in St. Clair Township to the late George Mackall and Selinda Rauch Mackall. He resided in the area his lifetime. He worked in a number of district potteries before retiring. He was an honorary member of the IBOP.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Vera Jones Mackall at home; two daughters, Mrs. Gladys Hunter of East Liverpool and Miss Ruth Mackall at home; two step-daughters, Mrs. Winona Wolfe of Wellsville R. D. and Miss Olive Glover at home; two sons, Robert L. Mackall and George W. Mackall, both of Wellsville; a step-son, Ralph E. Glover of Phoenix, Ariz., and 20 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

The Haugh Funeral Home in Wellsville is in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. J. R. Crawford

NEGLEY — Mrs. Alice L. Crawford, 52, of R.D., wife of James Robert Crawford, died this morning at 12:30 at Salem City Hospital, where she had been a patient since Jan. 5.

Mrs. Crawford was born April 21, 1910, in Fostoria, to Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Clapp, who reside in Niles. She was a member of the Niles Baptist Church. She was married Oct. 8, 1927.

Besides her husband and parents she leaves two daughters, Miss Imogene Crawford of Cleveland and Miss Joan Crawford of Salem; two sons, James R. Crawford Jr. of Albion, Pa., and Everett F. Crawford of Columbiana; a brother, Harry T. Clapp of Niles and three grandchildren.

Services will be held Monday at 1:30 p.m. at the Warrick Funeral Home in Columbiana. Burial will be in Columbiana County Memorial Park at East Liverpool.

Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday evening.

De Gaulle Provoked Atlantic Crisis

French Hamper NATO

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

LONDON (AP)—The North Atlantic Treaty Organization has everything it needs in France except the French.

"It's a little like running a boat with the anchor down," says a NATO source.

The heart and nerve center of NATO are in France and probably will remain there indefinitely. That is where headquarters is, where planning is done, where the NATO Council sits.

Right now, France's major contribution to NATO is geography. The French delegate sits in the council, but that's about all he does.

The Atlantic crisis provoked by France's blunt rejection of Britain's bid to enter the European Economic Community or Common Market turned a spotlight on NATO's problems with France. NATO sources say French attitudes hamper planning, that French failure to cooperate in defense systems and French insistence on acting exclusively of the other allies can cause more harm.

Military planning will go on, even if NATO in effect must operate virtually without France. But recent events pose new dangers for NATO.

A split among the six Common Market nations over France's veto of Britain might make the French "empty chair" a full reality, at least for a time, and that would weaken the alliance.

"I think it would be a disaster if we should divide," President Kennedy has said. "The forces in the world hostile to us are powerful."

He has responded softly to De Gaulle thunderbolts, but he has made it clear any division between the United States and Europe is a serious danger to Western security.

The possibility of a weakening is painfully present. France's veto brings grave economic problems to Britain. She may feel obliged to review her NATO commitments. Britain's three divisions—55,000 men plus support troops—in Germany cost her in the neighborhood of $200 million a year.

France herself has made no move to restore to NATO the two divisions withdrawn in pre-De Gaulle days for the Algerian crisis. She has withdrawn her dozen ships from NATO's Mediterranean force. Her contribution now amounts to two divisions in Germany, and that's it.

NATO is still nearly six divisions short of the 30 which planners hold necessary to proceed with the forward defense program for Europe.

He rejects integration, which means blending defense forces under a single command. That suggests to De Gaulle a surrender of sovereignty. On that issue France caused the collapse of the European Defense Community in 1954.

De Gaulle has refused to permit stockpiling of atomic weapons in France. Striking-force squadrons must be located in Germany and Britain.

De Gaulle rejects Kennedy's proposal for a multination nuclear force. He wants his own atomic striking force. His idea is getting to be known Europe by the curious name of "the little deterrent."

Eventually, in De Gaulle's words, France's deterrent "will have the somber and terrible capability of destroying in a few seconds millions and millions of men."

De Gaulle says the Cuban crisis showed that America's nuclear weapons are ready to go into action for "something other than the defense of Europe," and nobody can say "where, when, how and to what extent the American nuclear weapons would be employed to defend Europe."

France's policy is not to turn French weapons over to a multination force under foreign command, but "to construct and if necessary use atomic forces ourselves—without refusing cooperation, technical or strategic, if it is desired by France's allies."

By the end of this year, De Gaulle intends to have on wheels an atom bomb about three times the size of the one dropped on Hiroshima in 1945. It will be carried by Mirage IV planes, which need U.S. refuelling planes.

By 1966 De Gaulle hopes to have 50 Mirage IVs. He plans a force of solid fuel missiles of 900 to 1,200-mile range, and eventually underwater missiles with three submarines.

It would do no good, NATO sources say, to deny France the U.S. KC135 refuelling planes, or to make other threats against De Gaulle. Such actions would only serve to underscore De Gaulle's complaint that the United States wants to dominate Europe.

Nor can the United States threaten to withdraw its 425,000 troops from Europe. De Gaulle knows Washington would not leave Europe stripped. The very thought frightens West Germans. Even now Germans express worry about reaction in Congress to French-German reconciliation, in the light of France's attitudes toward the United States and the alliance.

So far as military men are concerned, the 14-nation alliance has been a miraculous success since its creation in 1949. They are ready to sit it out and carry on business as usual.

De Gaulle's impact, in the opinion of many responsible Europeans, has created a situation which arouses resentment in the United States and which could generate pressure for a review of American commitments to Europe.

Two Rockefeller Aides Talk With Printer Officials

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Two executives in the administration of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller have conferred with top officials of the printers' union about the 70-day-old blackout of New York's nine major newspapers.

William J. Ronan, Rockefeller's executive secretary, and Vincent McDonnell, executive secretary of the State Mediation Board, did not bring "any new word from the New York publishers, Elmer Brown, president of the AFL-CIO International Typographical Union, told newsmen.

"We'll be on our way to the bargaining table within two hours after they (the publishers) notify us they are ready to talk business," said Brown.

New York publishers were not available immediately for comment on Brown's remarks.

Other union officials here for the top-level talks included Bertram A. Powers, president of ITU Local 6, whose strike against four New York City newspapers led to the shutdown of the nine, and Thomas Laura, president of New York Newspapers Mailers Local 6, an ITU affiliate which also is involved in the strike.

There was no public announcement of the nature of the talks or of what—if anything—was accomplished.

Injury At Home Seen Cause Of Woman's Death

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—Injuries suffered before leaving her home here apparently caused the death in Uniontown, Pa., of Mrs. Jean Wagner Francis, whose sister-in-law was murdered in Ohio last December, sheriff's investigators say.

Officers quoted the woman's husband, Paul Sr., as saying Thursday that a suitcase slipped and struck his 49-year-old wife on the head as she took it from a closet to pack for a visit in Lancaster, Ohio.

It was in Lancaster that the wife of Mrs. Francis' brother, Mrs. Virginia Wagner, was murdered on or after Dec. 19. Her body was found in a creek Jan. 5.

Police said Mrs. Francis became ill after arriving two weeks ago at the home of her brother, Chris, a glass company executive. She was taken to a Uniontown hospital Tuesday. She died there Thursday of a brain hemorrhage which medical authorities said resulted from a blow to the head.

Mrs. Wagner's killer still is being sought.

Pedestrian Loses Claim For Injury

A directed verdict for the defendant was ordered Thursday afternoon in Common Pleas Court by Judge Raymond Buzzard in a $50,000 injury suit involving an East Liverpool pedestrian and an area driver in a traffic accident nearly five years ago.

Arthur Lightfoot, 42, of Boring Ln. sued Paul Thomas Cooper, 25, of East Liverpool R.D., driver of a car which struck the plaintiff on Route 267 about 300 feet north of the city limits.

Judge Buzzard, after a motion was filed by the defense for a directed verdict, ordered the jury of nine women and three men to return a verdict for Cooper, ruling testimony indicated the plaintiff was negligent in the accident.

Atty. George Aronson and Bernard Fineman, representing the plaintiff, said they plan to file an appeal with the 7th District Appellate Court.

Fewer Bills Introduced

Assembly Eyes Economy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—It appears the pleas of legislative leaders for economy through a reduction in the number of bills are beginning to pay off.

As of Valentine's Day 1961, the Senate had received 243 bills, compared with 106 as of Thursday. The House score on Feb. 14, 1961, stood at 400, while Thursday the House received bill No. 370.

The deadline for bill introduction will be in about another month and, of course, no one can control the lawmakers and their bill-introducing tendencies. But it appears now that the proposed laws laid before the 105th General Assembly will not approach the total of 1,713 presented to the 1961 legislature.

The printing of bills is a major item of expense during a legislative session, and leaders have asked members to cut down as much as possible on filing duplicate bills in both the House and Senate.

The legislature ended its sixth work week Thursday. Both Houses will meet again Monday night.

Three Republicans and a Democrat introduced in the House Thursday an interesting measure dealing with school finance. It came from Reps. B. A. Broughton, R-Geauga; Kenneth Beckwith, R-Morgan; Theodore Boring, D-Vinton, and C. E. Strader Jr., R-Lake.

They propose that school foundation program payments be increased for school districts with relatively low per-pupil real estate valuations and that additional help be given districts which indicate they are willing to tax themselves heavily to meet their own financial problems.

The House received two measures which would cut the life of driver licenses back from three years to one. The present fee is 75 cents for the three - year license. One of the House proposals —by Reps. Walter White, R-Allen, and Dale Hildebrand, R-Morrow —would continue the same fee for a one-year license.

The Ohio AFL - CIO Council came in with its own unemployment compensation measure designed to restore the depleted benefits funds. The proposal, it is estimated, would put about $297 million a year into the fund and build it up to $455 million within five years. The fund now stands at about $124 million.

The AFL-CIO proposal would wipe out the $3,000 - per - worker base on which jobless insurance premiums are paid now in favor of a sliding scale.

Weldon said he was halted for a traffic signal when Frey backed from the curb, hitting the right rear door of his car.

Another mishap was reported by Clyde Lambright, 609 College St. He said his 1959 four-door sedan was parked on College St. between 8 and 9 a. m. when a 1955 four-door registered in the name of the Bargain Booth of Carolina Ave., Chester, apparently drifted or was pushed against the rear of his auto. Lambright said the rear bumper of his car was damaged.

Two Rockefeller Aides Talk With Printer Officials

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Two executives in the administration of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller have conferred with top officials of the printers' union about the 70-day-old blackout of New York's nine major newspapers.

William J. Ronan, Rockefeller's executive secretary, and Vincent McDonnell, executive secretary of the State Mediation Board, did not bring "any new word from the New York publishers, Elmer Brown, president of the AFL-CIO International Typographical Union, told newsmen.

"We'll be on our way to the bargaining table within two hours after they (the publishers) notify us they are ready to talk business," said Brown.

New York publishers were not available immediately for comment on Brown's remarks.

Other union officials here for the top-level talks included Bertram A. Powers, president of ITU Local 6, whose strike against four New York City newspapers led to the shutdown of the nine, and Thomas Laura, president of New York Newspapers Mailers Local 6, an ITU affiliate which also is involved in the strike.

There was no public announcement of the nature of the talks or of what—if anything—was accomplished.

Injury At Home Seen Cause Of Woman's Death

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—Injuries suffered before leaving her home here apparently caused the death in Uniontown, Pa., of Mrs. Jean Wagner Francis, whose sister-in-law was murdered in Ohio last December, sheriff's investigators say.

Officers quoted the woman's husband, Paul Sr., as saying Thursday that a suitcase slipped and struck his 49-year-old wife on the head as she took it from a closet to pack for a visit in Lancaster, Ohio.

It was in Lancaster that the wife of Mrs. Francis' brother, Mrs. Virginia Wagner, was murdered on or after Dec. 19. Her body was found in a creek Jan. 5.

Police said Mrs. Francis became ill after arriving two weeks ago at the home of her brother, Chris, a glass company executive. She was taken to a Uniontown hospital Tuesday. She died there Thursday of a brain hemorrhage which medical authorities said resulted from a blow to the head.

Mrs. Wagner's killer still is being sought.

Pedestrian Loses Claim For Injury

A directed verdict for the defendant was ordered Thursday afternoon in Common Pleas Court by Judge Raymond Buzzard in a $50,000 injury suit involving an East Liverpool pedestrian and an area driver in a traffic accident nearly five years ago.

Arthur Lightfoot, 42, of Boring Ln. sued Paul Thomas Cooper, 25, of East Liverpool R.D., driver of a car which struck the plaintiff on Route 267 about 300 feet north of the city limits.

Judge Buzzard, after a motion was filed by the defense for a directed verdict, ordered the jury of nine women and three men to return a verdict for Cooper, ruling testimony indicated the plaintiff was negligent in the accident.

Atty. George Aronson and Bernard Fineman, representing the plaintiff, said they plan to file an appeal with the 7th District Appellate Court.

Fewer Bills Introduced

Assembly Eyes Economy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—It appears the pleas of legislative leaders for economy through a reduction in the number of bills are beginning to pay off.

As of Valentine's Day 1961, the Senate had received 243 bills, compared with 106 as of Thursday. The House score on Feb. 14, 1961, stood at 400, while Thursday the House received bill No. 370.

The deadline for bill introduction will be in about another month and, of course, no one can control the lawmakers and their bill-introducing tendencies. But it appears now that the proposed laws laid before the 105th General Assembly will not approach the total of 1,713 presented to the 1961 legislature.

The printing of bills is a major item of expense during a legislative session, and leaders have asked members to cut down as much as possible on filing duplicate bills in both the House and Senate.

The legislature ended its sixth work week Thursday. Both Houses will meet again Monday night.

Three Republicans and a Democrat introduced in the House Thursday an interesting measure dealing with school finance. It came from Reps. B. A. Broughton, R-Geauga; Kenneth Beckwith, R-Morgan; Theodore Boring, D-Vinton, and C. E. Strader Jr., R-Lake.

They propose that school foundation program payments be increased for school districts with relatively low per-pupil real estate valuations and that additional help be given districts which indicate they are willing to tax themselves heavily to meet their own financial problems.

The House received two measures which would cut the life of driver licenses back from three years to one. The present fee is 75 cents for the three - year license. One of the House proposals —by Reps. Walter White, R-Allen, and Dale Hildebrand, R-Morrow —would continue the same fee for a one-year license.

The Ohio AFL - CIO Council came in with its own unemployment compensation measure designed to restore the depleted benefits funds. The proposal, it is estimated, would put about $297 million a year into the fund and build it up to $455 million within five years. The fund now stands at about $124 million.

The AFL-CIO proposal would wipe out the $3,000 - per - worker base on which jobless insurance premiums are paid now in favor of a sliding scale.

Hints from Heloise

Dear Heloise: I made my own scouring sponge! It is extremely simple to make.

I wrapped several thicknesses of nylon net—cut about two inches wider than the lenght of the sponge itself—around a sponge and then turned under the edges. Sew the folded edges down securely. This is good for dish-washing as well as scouring!

MARION LEONG.

You could just use a safety pin on each edge to hold the net instead of sewing. This way the net could be removed for easy washing of the sponge.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When making any kind of salad that calls for pickles, hard boiled eggs, celery, onions, green peppers and so forth, I use the coarse side of my grater. This is the side with the big holes.

I find it much faster and easier and it makes a very neat salad.

MRS. GEORGE LANDO

Cabinet Restorer

DEAR HELOISE: When we started to remove the white enamel from our kitchen cabinet doors, we found that they were composition wood. We could not afford to buy all new cabinet doors made to order, so we covered them with a knotty pine design of adhesive plastic paper and then varnished them with clear varnish. Everyone thinks they are natural wood!

On the wooden part of the cabinets we removed all of the paint and finished it with clear varnish. They are perfectly beautiful. The varnish gives a shine and when I wax them, they are so easy to wipe off and to keep clean.

We also covered an old card table that was watermarked from glasses and so forth. The table is now as good as new, for the rest of it was in good shape.

DEAR HELOISE: If the hem of your dress is accidentally pulled loose at the office, or you happen to be in a hurry, just use a piece of tape and stick it back.

This works so well that at times I have forgotten to put the hem in properly when I get home!

MRS. MARSHALL F. BEVINS

Hint For Hemmers

DEAR HELOISE: Here's a hint for hemmer-uppers. There is a secret to taking the hem out of "store-bought" clothes. With the hemlines changing this is a real time-saver.

Most store-bought clothes are hemmed with a machine. The secret is to catch the top thread on the hem and pull . . . Your hem is out in a jiffy and you can save all the thread.

MRS. K.S.W.

DEAR FOLKS: If you are one to use "iron-on" tape to mend clothing but always forget it and don't want to stop and go to your sewing box to find it in the middle of your ironing job . . . take a safety pin and pin a piece of tape to the end of your ironing board along with a small pair of scissors.

This way, as you come along a rip or a tear, just whack a piece off and iron it on. Mending done the lazy, easy way not only saves steps but a few words in this house . . .

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I keep a kettle of water over my pilot light on our gas stove and always have hot water ready without turning the hot water faucet on.

By doing this, it only takes a few minutes to get the water completely boiling for coffee, or any boiled water.

Plain Dealer Guildsmen Set To OK Pact

CLEVELAND (AP) — Striking Newspaper Guild members at the Plain Dealer were expected to approve today a two-year contract proposal which is essentially the same as one already approved by members of the Press and News unit.

Acceptance by the Plain Dealer unit will bring the Guild a step nearer to a contract settlement in the strike—now in its 12th week. The Guild is one of five striking unions.

However, Charles Thomson, head of the unity group composed of 10 craft unions, said Thursday night that the Guild action would have "no bearing on negotiations with other unions."

Craft unions on strike are the Printers, Mailers and Machinists. The fifth striking union is the independent Teamsters Local 473.

"Regardless of what the Guild does on management proposals from here on in won't change the positions of the other unions," Thomson said.

The non - striking Stereotypers Union Thursday night rejected the $10 package proposal from the publishers in a unanimous vote, according to William Pustai, union president.

"We're still far apart," Pustai said. The contract for 70 stereotypers working at both newspapers expired Dec. 31.

The publishers' money offer to the Stereotypers matched the amount the non - striking Paper Handlers and Pressmen accepted earlier in two-year contract agreements with management.

Dieters Can Pull Out Of Self-Pity Rut

A challenge can stiffen the will-to-do. A 22-year-old with 40 bulging pounds to lose asks for morale boosters when the going gets tough. She writes:

Ida Jean Kain

"I'm just a little frightened that I'll fail again. I know there will be days when I think 'Oh what's the use' and want to give up. Can you give us dieters a magic phrase to use when discouragement overwhelms us?"

When the goal is 40 pounds off, there is no blinking the fact that it takes gumption to carry through. So what to do on blue days? When you reach the giving-up point, grab hold of this thought: "I'm going to fight this through sometime and it might as well be now!"

SAY IT OUT loud, looking right at yourself in the mirror, if there is one handy. This sort of challenge is often unexpectedly energizing — it can help you to pull out of the self-pity rut.

Of course there will be other hurdles too. What to do when tempted by a rich dessert or some other favorite that you know from experience will get you clear off the slimming track? Let's say you're out with friends and they order something festive.

This can be a trying situation since it is easy to take the attitude that you are being left out of the fun. Recognize that the pleasure is so fleeting! When you can take the view that eating some particularly delicious dish is really no favor to yourself, you are half-way to your goal!

It is excellent psychology to reason this way: "If I take that chocolate fudge sundae it will just make things tougher for me!" Quite suddenly you can be set free. Try it!

Psychologists point out that in any particular situation the tendency is to do exactly the same as you did the last time. That's the way habit works. What is the most important thing in breaking a habit and making a new habit? No exceptions! When you make an exception you break the new rhythm.

The classic illustration is the ball of yarn. If you drop a ball of yarn and it rolls clear across the room, you have to re-wind from the spot were it was dropped. Well, that's the way it is with a habit. Break the rhythm on the new habit and you have to almost start all over again.

No diet talk! You count on friends to rally round with "Just this once won't count." That is probably the most fattening phrase in the English language... or any language.

Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for "Teen-Age Challenge." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of The Review.

Prosecution Due To End Case In Sheriff's Trial

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio (AP) —Testimony by three more witnesses was expected to complete the case for the prosecution today at the bribery trial of Belmont County Sheriff George E. Neff.

Eleven witnesses took the stand Thursday as assistant prosecutor Joseph Livorno sought to prove that Neff tried to collect payoff money from four clubs that sold beer in Barnesville, a dry community.

The courtroom was packed with spectators as testimony began in Common Pleas Court with Judge Delbert L. Tedrick of Guernsey County sitting by assignment.

Judge Tedrick admonished the crowd several times and particularly at one point when they applauded for the defendant.

50 At Scout Roundtable

Bill Jones, roundtable commissioner, presided. Paul Waite of Hillcrest, Wellsville, a commissioner, monitored the Explorer section, assisted by Frank Rossi. The annual Explorer Ball in May was discussed.

The council and district awards applications were discussed and explained by Bob Gray, district executive.

The units were thanked for the aid in the Boy Scout Week display.

Don Theiss, training chairman, reported on a training institute scheduled March 23 at Kent State University. All district personnel are invited. The fee is $4.

Rossi introduced members of the district Explorer Cabinet. Larry Mick is chairman.

Mrs. Doris Duke was awarded a large cake. Dale Craven of Troop 41 also received a cake. Mrs. Mary Jones was in charge of the handicraft session for den mothers.

Jones reminded the group the commissioners' staff is ready to assist any unit needing help. The assignments were listed. Mr. and Mrs. Jones served refreshments.

This may be difficult to prove, but certain scientists maintain that your mind can store 600 memories per second for a lifetime of 75 years.

Minister Relates Experiences On Greenland Trip

Rev. Mase spent about three months on a geological expedition north of Thule in the summer of 1956 during which a study was made of a tributary glacier of the Greenland icecap.

The small group of civilian specialists and soldiers was supplied by helicopter from the SAC base about 40 miles away.

Rev. Mase was a geology student at Ohio State University, and went on the trip to assist and to "encounter some adventure," he said.

He described the geological and meteorological measurements of the area about the glacier which moves about 3½ feet a year, but melted slightly more than that in the summers.

Rev. Mase said his experiences on the expedition, including a trip during a storm in which he and a companion almost lost their lives, helped him to decide to turn to the ministry in which "there is also an adventure and which also reveals how much our lives depend upon the Grace of God."

Man Gets Life Term For Slaying Woman

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — George (Sammy) Haynes, 21, has been sentenced to life in prison for the shotgun slaying of Mrs. Suzanne Barley, 28, in her South Amherst home Dec. 9. A three-judge Common Pleas Court returned the second - degree murder verdict against Haynes Thursday after deliberating one hour.

Haynes, indicted for first-degree murder, testified Mrs. Barley's husband, 31, beat and robbed him of $200 after both were out drinking. He said he fired the shotgun at the Barley house to scare Barley, who was asleep. The blast struck Mrs. Barley.

Court Rejects Wife's Plea For Ex-Mobster

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Thomas Licavoli has failed in an attempt to have U.S. District release her husband, a one-time notorious Purple Gang Mobster, from Ohio Penitentiary. Judge Mell G. Underwood denied a writ of habeas corpus for "Yonnie" Thursday.

Atty. Gen. William Saxbe opposed the move based on grounds his indictment supposedly was faulty. Licavoli of Toledo entered the penitentiary in November 1934 under a life sentence for first-degree murder.

Large Group Of Area School Officials To Attend Sessions

A large delegation of Tri-State District school officials expect to attend the annual meeting of the American Association of School Administrators Saturday through Wednesday at Atlantic City.

The Hancock County delegation will number 12. Architects' drawings of two of the modern buildings planned under the county's expansion program will be on display.

Others who will attend include George VanHorne, executive head of Beaver Local District; Jack Baker, executive head of Southern Local District, and Joseph Driscoll, executive head of Fairfield - Waterford District.

County Supt. James McBride and Lisbon Supt. Oliver Payne will also attend.

Dr. Ralph H. Jewell and Samuel Rosatone, maintenance supervisor, in Midland; Frank Meredith, supervising principal of Western Beaver County schools, and Victor Thomas, supervising principal of Southern Beaver County Schools, will make the trip.

Horace Mann Group Gives $100 For Child Counseling

A contribution of $100 to the Child Counseling Center was authorized at a meeting of the Horace Mann Home and School Association Wednesday afternoon. Business was conducted by Mrs. Ellen Johnson, president.

Mrs. Anna MacDonald, treasurer, announced that $304 has been received towards the membership drive.

Jack Woomer and Jack Conley will represent the group at a meeting of the Jaycees Tuesday evening at the Westgate School concerning the scholarship movement.

Entertainment was provided by the pupils, including Mrs. Mary North's first grade, Mrs. Elizabeth Hist, second grade, Mrs. Alice Skidmore, third grade, and the fifth and sixth grade choir under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Langdon.

The president announced that a public card party will be held Feb. 23 at the Country Club for the Child Counseling Center.

The attendance banner was won by Mrs. North's room.

Neville Operetta Slated March 22

Plans for an operetta March 22 at East Junior High School were outlined at a meeting of the Neville Home and School Association Tuesday evening. The pupils will participate in the performance.

Keith Langdon, speech - arts teacher at East Liverpool High School, gave the invocation and a brief talk on "History of the Spoken Word."

Langdon introduced Dr. M. A. Alpern, who urged members to consider the fluoridation of city water.

Jack Alpern, a senior at East Liverpool High School, spoke on "We Will Bury You."

Bill Kozel of the Jaycees explained the proposed scholarship program.

Business was conducted by Richard Davis, president. Mrs. Helen Armstrong gave the secretary's report and Ted Seevers, the financial report.

Next meeting is March 12.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's a hint for hemmer-uppers. There is a secret to taking the hem out of "store-bought" clothes. With the hemlines changing this is a real time-saver.

Most store-bought clothes are hemmed with a machine. The secret is to catch the top thread on the hem and pull . . . Your hem is out in a jiffy and you can save all the thread.

MRS. K.S.W.

DEAR FOLKS: If you are one to use "iron-on" tape to mend clothing but always forget it and don't want to stop and go to your sewing box to find it in the middle of your ironing job . . . take a safety pin and pin a piece of tape to the end of your ironing board along with a small pair of scissors.

This way, as you come along a rip or a tear, just whack a piece off and iron it on. Mending done the lazy, easy way not only saves steps but a few words in this house . . .

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I keep a kettle of water over my pilot light on our gas stove and always have hot water ready without turning the hot water faucet on.

By doing this, it only takes a few minutes to get the water completely boiling for coffee, or any boiled water.

ALICE PERRY.

Plain Dealer Guildsmen Set To OK Pact

CLEVELAND (AP) — Striking Newspaper Guild members at the Plain Dealer were expected to approve today a two-year contract proposal which is essentially the same as one already approved by members of the Press and News unit.

Acceptance by the Plain Dealer unit will bring the Guild a step nearer to a contract settlement in the strike—now in its 12th week. The Guild is one of five striking unions.

However, Charles Thomson, head of the unity group composed of 10 craft unions, said Thursday night that the Guild action would have "no bearing on negotiations with other unions."

Craft unions on strike are the Printers, Mailers and Machinists. The fifth striking union is the independent Teamsters Local 473.

"Regardless of what the Guild does on management proposals from here on in won't change the positions of the other unions," Thomson said.

The non - striking Stereotypers Union Thursday night rejected the $10 package proposal from the publishers in a unanimous vote, according to William Pustai, union president.

"We're still far apart," Pustai said. The contract for 70 stereotypers working at both newspapers expired Dec. 31.

The publishers' money offer to the Stereotypers matched the amount the non - striking Paper Handlers and Pressmen accepted earlier in two-year contract agreements with management.

Dieters Can Pull Out Of Self-Pity Rut

A challenge can stiffen the will-to-do. A 22-year-old with 40 bulging pounds to lose asks for morale boosters when the going gets tough. She writes:

Ida Jean Kain

"I'm just a little frightened that I'll fail again. I know there will be days when I think 'Oh what's the use' and want to give up. Can you give us dieters a magic phrase to use when discouragement overwhelms us?"

When the goal is 40 pounds off, there is no blinking the fact that it takes gumption to carry through. So what to do on blue days? When you reach the giving-up point, grab hold of this thought: "I'm going to fight this through sometime and it might as well be now!"

SAY IT OUT loud, looking right at yourself in the mirror, if there is one handy. This sort of challenge is often unexpectedly energizing — it can help you to pull out of the self-pity rut.

Of course there will be other hurdles too. What to do when tempted by a rich dessert or some other favorite that you know from experience will get you clear off the slimming track? Let's say you're out with friends and they order something festive.

This can be a trying situation since it is easy to take the attitude that you are being left out of the fun. Recognize that the pleasure is so fleeting! When you can take the view that eating some particularly delicious dish is really no favor to yourself, you are half-way to your goal!

It is excellent psychology to reason this way: "If I take that chocolate fudge sundae it will just make things tougher for me!" Quite suddenly you can be set free. Try it!

Psychologists point out that in any particular situation the tendency is to do exactly the same as you did the last time. That's the way habit works. What is the most important thing in breaking a habit and making a new habit? No exceptions! When you make an exception you break the new rhythm.

The classic illustration is the ball of yarn. If you drop a ball of yarn and it rolls clear across the room, you have to re-wind from the spot were it was dropped. Well, that's the way it is with a habit. Break the rhythm on the new habit and you have to almost start all over again.

No diet talk! You count on friends to rally round with "Just this once won't count." That is probably the most fattening phrase in the English language... or any language.

Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for "Teen-Age Challenge." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of The Review.

Prosecution Due To End Case In Sheriff's Trial

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio (AP) —Testimony by three more witnesses was expected to complete the case for the prosecution today at the bribery trial of Belmont County Sheriff George E. Neff.

Eleven witnesses took the stand Thursday as assistant prosecutor Joseph Livorno sought to prove that Neff tried to collect payoff money from four clubs that sold beer in Barnesville, a dry community.

The courtroom was packed with spectators as testimony began in Common Pleas Court with Judge Delbert L. Tedrick of Guernsey County sitting by assignment.

Judge Tedrick admonished the crowd several times and particularly at one point when they applauded for the defendant.

50 At Scout Roundtable

Bill Jones, roundtable commissioner, presided. Paul Waite of Hillcrest, Wellsville, a commissioner, monitored the Explorer section, assisted by Frank Rossi. The annual Explorer Ball in May was discussed.

The council and district awards applications were discussed and explained by Bob Gray, district executive.

The units were thanked for the aid in the Boy Scout Week display.

Don Theiss, training chairman, reported on a training institute scheduled March 23 at Kent State University. All district personnel are invited. The fee is $4.

Rossi introduced members of the district Explorer Cabinet. Larry Mick is chairman.

Mrs. Doris Duke was awarded a large cake. Dale Craven of Troop 41 also received a cake. Mrs. Mary Jones was in charge of the handicraft session for den mothers.

Jones reminded the group the commissioners' staff is ready to assist any unit needing help. The assignments were listed. Mr. and Mrs. Jones served refreshments.

This may be difficult to prove, but certain scientists maintain that your mind can store 600 memories per second for a lifetime of 75 years.

Minister Relates Experiences On Greenland Trip

Rev. Mase spent about three months on a geological expedition north of Thule in the summer of 1956 during which a study was made of a tributary glacier of the Greenland icecap.

The small group of civilian specialists and soldiers was supplied by helicopter from the SAC base about 40 miles away.

Rev. Mase was a geology student at Ohio State University, and went on the trip to assist and to "encounter some adventure," he said.

He described the geological and meteorological measurements of the area about the glacier which moves about 3½ feet a year, but melted slightly more than that in the summers.

Rev. Mase said his experiences on the expedition, including a trip during a storm in which he and a companion almost lost their lives, helped him to decide to turn to the ministry in which "there is also an adventure and which also reveals how much our lives depend upon the Grace of God."

Man Gets Life Term For Slaying Woman

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — George (Sammy) Haynes, 21, has been sentenced to life in prison for the shotgun slaying of Mrs. Suzanne Barley, 28, in her South Amherst home Dec. 9. A three-judge Common Pleas Court returned the second - degree murder verdict against Haynes Thursday after deliberating one hour.

Haynes, indicted for first-degree murder, testified Mrs. Barley's husband, 31, beat and robbed him of $200 after both were out drinking. He said he fired the shotgun at the Barley house to scare Barley, who was asleep. The blast struck Mrs. Barley.

Court Rejects Wife's Plea For Ex-Mobster

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Thomas Licavoli has failed in an attempt to have U.S. District release her husband, a one-time notorious Purple Gang Mobster, from Ohio Penitentiary. Judge Mell G. Underwood denied a writ of habeas corpus for "Yonnie" Thursday.

Atty. Gen. William Saxbe opposed the move based on grounds his indictment supposedly was faulty. Licavoli of Toledo entered the penitentiary in November 1934 under a life sentence for first-degree murder.

Large Group Of Area School Officials To Attend Sessions

A large delegation of Tri-State District school officials expect to attend the annual meeting of the American Association of School Administrators Saturday through Wednesday at Atlantic City.

The Hancock County delegation will number 12. Architects' drawings of two of the modern buildings planned under the county's expansion program will be on display.

Others who will attend include George VanHorne, executive head of Beaver Local District; Jack Baker, executive head of Southern Local District, and Joseph Driscoll, executive head of Fairfield - Waterford District.

County Supt. James McBride and Lisbon Supt. Oliver Payne will also attend.

Dr. Ralph H. Jewell and Samuel Rosatone, maintenance supervisor, in Midland; Frank Meredith, supervising principal of Western Beaver County schools, and Victor Thomas, supervising principal of Southern Beaver County Schools, will make the trip.

Horace Mann Group Gives $100 For Child Counseling

A contribution of $100 to the Child Counseling Center was authorized at a meeting of the Horace Mann Home and School Association Wednesday afternoon. Business was conducted by Mrs. Ellen Johnson, president.

Mrs. Anna MacDonald, treasurer, announced that $304 has been received towards the membership drive.

Jack Woomer and Jack Conley will represent the group at a meeting of the Jaycees Tuesday evening at the Westgate School concerning the scholarship movement.

Entertainment was provided by the pupils, including Mrs. Mary North's first grade, Mrs. Elizabeth Hist, second grade, Mrs. Alice Skidmore, third grade, and the fifth and sixth grade choir under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Langdon.

The president announced that a public card party will be held Feb. 23 at the Country Club for the Child Counseling Center.

The attendance banner was won by Mrs. North's room.

Neville Operetta Slated March 22

Plans for an operetta March 22 at East Junior High School were outlined at a meeting of the Neville Home and School Association Tuesday evening. The pupils will participate in the performance.

Keith Langdon, speech - arts teacher at East Liverpool High School, gave the invocation and a brief talk on "History of the Spoken Word."

Langdon introduced Dr. M. A. Alpern, who urged members to consider the fluoridation of city water.

Jack Alpern, a senior at East Liverpool High School, spoke on "We Will Bury You."

Bill Kozel of the Jaycees explained the proposed scholarship program.

Business was conducted by Richard Davis, president. Mrs. Helen Armstrong gave the secretary's report and Ted Seevers, the financial report.

DST Bill Has One Hurdle

CHARLESTON (AP) — The Legislature has almost — but not quite — passed an act requiring 21 weeks of statewide Daylight Saving Time in West Virginia each year.

The one remaining loose end, the matter of the bill's effective date, remained to be coped with in the House today.

The Senate barely passed the bill yesterday, 16-15. Then the Senate mustered the required two-thirds majority and voted 24-7 to make the bill effective from final passage.

That sent the bill back to the House for action on the changed effective date. As passed 60-37 by the House last month, the bill would have taken effect 90 days from final enactment.

Two-thirds majorities in both houses are required to make a bill take effect on any date other than 90 days from passage. That meant at least 67 votes were needed in the House to concur with the Senate - approved date.

The bill would require the governor to proclaim observance of DST from the fourth Sunday in April through the fourth Sunday in September each year.

As a 90-day bill, the measure-assuming approval by Gov. Barron — would become law May 16. That is 19 days after the fourth Sunday in April, which falls on the 28th this year.

It is not completely clear whether the bill would apply this year unless it is in effect ahead of the specified starting date for fast time. Presumably the governor could, however, defer the proclamation this year until the measure actually is law.

That would mean switching to fast time a little over two weeks after the fourth Sunday in April.

The Senate had five bills up for passage today in a 1 p.m. session. They included a House - approved measure to write the minimum entrance age for public schools into law. The age at present is governed by State Board of Education regulation.

The bill would restrict first-grade enrollment to children who will have reached age 6 by Nov. 1 of the school year.

The existing board regulation also calls for enrollees to be 6 by Nov. 1, but permits registration of younger children on the basis of physical and psychological tests taken at parents' expense.

Legislative action yesterday included 31-0 Senate passage of a bill to provide State Police pay increases ranging from $25 a month for troopers to $100 for the department's major - inspector. The bill now goes to the House.

Passed by a 96-1 House vote and sent to the Senate was a bill calling for compulsory polio immunization of school children. Del. Jack R. Nuzum, D-Randolph, cast the dissenting vote.

Say, 20 Cents On The Dollar

Tax Collectors Shudder At Settlements Of Debts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Tax collectors shudder every time they read in the papers or hear on the air that the government settled a debt with a well-known personality for, say, 20 cents on the dollar.

From experience they know losers in past disputes with Uncle Sam will write letters demanding to know why this big shot got off for one-fifth when they had to pay something like one-half.

Angry taxpayers will stand up at meetings, denounce the government for compromising with wrongdoers and ask if honesty really pays.

Lawyers at the Internal Revenue Service insist there was no surrender. What really happened, they say, was that the government finally ascertained and accepted all it could expect if the case went through court.

"It is a false impression that we are giving away something and not getting all we are entitled to," says Rudy P. Hertzog, associate chief counsel at IRS.

"Who the taxpayer is, whether he is prominent or unknown, has absolutely nothing to do with it," puts in Leo Bardenheuer, assistant director of the appellate division.

Then why is there frequently such a difference between the amount the government asserts an individual owes in back taxes and penalties and the amount it eventually accepts?

Hertzog says its mainly because in this kind of dispute IRS is unable to obtain sufficient data to derive an accurate figure. Sometimes it may result from a court decision modifying the law. But primarily, Hertzog contends, it's because available records are incomplete and the taxpayer or his attorney is unwilling until the case reaches the court stage to make a full disclosure.

Two Washington attorneys who are always on the other side in tax contests find themselves generally supporting the government's case. One says it puts an "unfair slant" on the tax collector's job to complain that he settled for so much on the dollar.

Occasionally, this lawyer says, he has felt IRS entered some items in its bill "for trading purposes." He also expresses doubt the government suffers seriously from lack of information except in fraud cases.

The other attorney—both asked to remain anonymous—said most difficulties arise from agents in district offices, particularly for the little guy who is unaware he has rights of appeal. In this lawyer's opinion, "The government is much tougher on the big shot than on the little people."

"Part of the difficulty," Bardenheuer says, "is the general impression that we have already determined on the basis of full information how much an individual owes and take less than we had determined. In fact, we make a determination as to how much he may owe. What is determined in the settlement is how much he does owe."

Just this week the government settled an initial claim of about $315,000 against former Gov. Earle C. Clements of Kentucky for some $62,000 plus interest.

IRS says that for lack of records, the government was unsure in which year certain items were taxable so played safe by assigning them to more than one year. When the right years were established, a duplication of more than $93,000 was eliminated. Furthermore, IRS relates, conclusion that fraud could not be proved resulted in dropping claims for another $146,000 in penalties and back taxes.

IRS attorneys point to files indicating they have many more problems on a lesser scale. Uncertainty over some bank deposits led to a $9,687 assessment against a West Virginia couple. When records were produced, the government settled for $98. In Corpus Christi, Tex., a $3,405 case was settled without any payment when later evidence substantiated charitable contributions.

All these are settlements of disputed tax liability. In a different type of case, the government will compromise for a smaller amount when liability is undisputed if, Hertzog says, "This is all we can reasonably hope to collect in the foreseeable future."

Thus a chap in California who owes $7,290 won a compromise for $1,800. He must pay $700 at once and the balance at $40 a month. His income is estimated at $500 a month.

Practice Session Held By Firemen

Twelve attended a meeting of the Glenmoor fire department Thursday night when a portable pump practice was held by pumping a flooded cellar at the home of George Hamilton, a fireman.

The group authorized purchase of badges and firemen's license plate identification tags.

Fire Chief Leonard Congrove announced the next meeting slated Feb. 28 has been canceled because the group will be host to the Tri-State Firemen's Association that night.

It was announced a teen - age dance will be sponsored Saturday night at the fire station. Firemen are continuing the 50 - cent a month drive in the area for funds for the department. Joe Arcuragi is in charge.

Phone Firm's Movie Shown Midland Club

Frank Thompson, a representative of the Bell Telephone Co., spoke and showed movies at a meeting of the Midland Rotary Club Thursday evening at the New Riviera Restaurant. He was introduced by William Moll.

Business was conducted by Sal Glorioso, president, and the invocation was given by Thomas Fanning.

Test Planned For City Post

The Municipal Civil Service Commission announced today it will hold an examination Wednesday, March 20, at 8 p. m. in the Council chamber at City Hall to make up a new eligibility list for the post of utility supplyman at the water department pumping and filtration plant.

Donald T. Duke, superintendent of the water department, explained the test was requested to make up a new eligibility list, as there are no vacancies at present. The former eligibility list expired, he pointed out. The post pays $390 monthly.

Applications will be received until Saturday, March 9, at noon. Application blanks are available from the office of Mayor Bert H. Goodballet or from any member of the commission—Donal I. Burcham, chairman, Atty. Ben H. Berman and A. A. Fiorello. P. K. Calhoon is clerk.

The eligibility list will remain in effect a year, the commission announced. Applicants must be at least 21 but not more than 60 on the examination date. They must be citizens of the U. S. and residents of East Liverpool for at least six months prior to the exam.

Applications must be notarized and accompanied by a $1 fee. Physical examinations will be required before an applicant's name is certified for appointment, the commission added.

The commission keeps "standing" lists of eligibles in its files for many city positions, so that names can be certified quickly in the event of a vacancy.

Hancock County Signup Begins For Feed Grains

Carl Allison of Chester, chairman of the Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said the signup started Feb. 1 and will continue through March 22.

The program covers the three major feed grains of corn, grain sorghum and barley. In general, provisions follow those for 1961 and 1962 crops by giving feed grain producers an opportunity to participate by reducing acreages at least 20 per cent and devoting the land to an approved conservation use.

Farmers receive diversion payments and price-support payments by participating, and they will also be eligible to take part in the price support-loan programs.

Price support payments have been set at 18 cents a bushel on corn, 16 cents per bushel on grain sorghum and 14 cents on barley.

Part of the estimated payment to be earned for such diversion may be paid in advance when the producer signs up in New Cumberland. The rest of the diversion payment and all of the price - support payment will be made next summer, Allison said.

There will be a wheat referendum this spring in which county wheat growers will have a choice of two programs for 1964.

Legislative action yesterday included 31-0 Senate passage of a bill to provide State Police pay increases ranging from $25 a month for troopers to $100 for the department's major - inspector. The bill now goes to the House.

Passed by a 96-1 House vote and sent to the Senate was a bill calling for compulsory polio immunization of school children. Del. Jack R. Nuzum, D-Randolph, cast the dissenting vote.

"It is a false impression that we are giving away something and not getting all we are entitled to," says Rudy P. Hertzog, associate chief counsel at IRS.

"Who the taxpayer is, whether he is prominent or unknown, has absolutely nothing to do with it," puts in Leo Bardenheuer, assistant director of the appellate division.

Then why is there frequently such a difference between the amount the government asserts an individual owes in back taxes and penalties and the amount it eventually accepts?

Hertzog says its mainly because in this kind of dispute IRS is unable to obtain sufficient data to derive an accurate figure. Sometimes it may result from a court decision modifying the law. But primarily, Hertzog contends, it's because available records are incomplete and the taxpayer or his attorney is unwilling until the case reaches the court stage to make a full disclosure.

Two Washington attorneys who are always on the other side in tax contests find themselves generally supporting the government's case. One says it puts an "unfair slant" on the tax collector's job to complain that he settled for so much on the dollar.

Occasionally, this lawyer says, he has felt IRS entered some items in its bill "for trading purposes." He also expresses doubt the government suffers seriously from lack of information except in fraud cases.

The other attorney—both asked to remain anonymous—said most difficulties arise from agents in district offices, particularly for the little guy who is unaware he has rights of appeal. In this lawyer's opinion, "The government is much tougher on the big shot than on the little people."

"Part of the difficulty," Bardenheuer says, "is the general impression that we have already determined on the basis of full information how much an individual owes and take less than we had determined. In fact, we make a determination as to how much he may owe. What is determined in the settlement is how much he does owe."

Just this week the government settled an initial claim of about $315,000 against former Gov. Earle C. Clements of Kentucky for some $62,000 plus interest.

IRS says that for lack of records, the government was unsure in which year certain items were taxable so played safe by assigning them to more than one year. When the right years were established, a duplication of more than $93,000 was eliminated. Furthermore, IRS relates, conclusion that fraud could not be proved resulted in dropping claims for another $146,000 in penalties and back taxes.

IRS attorneys point to files indicating they have many more problems on a lesser scale. Uncertainty over some bank deposits led to a $9,687 assessment against a West Virginia couple. When records were produced, the government settled for $98. In Corpus Christi, Tex., a $3,405 case was settled without any payment when later evidence substantiated charitable contributions.

All these are settlements of disputed tax liability. In a different type of case, the government will compromise for a smaller amount when liability is undisputed if, Hertzog says, "This is all we can reasonably hope to collect in the foreseeable future."

Thus a chap in California who owes $7,290 won a compromise for $1,800. He must pay $700 at once and the balance at $40 a month. His income is estimated at $500 a month.

Practice Session Held By Firemen

Twelve attended a meeting of the Glenmoor fire department Thursday night when a portable pump practice was held by pumping a flooded cellar at the home of George Hamilton, a fireman.

The group authorized purchase of badges and firemen's license plate identification tags.

Fire Chief Leonard Congrove announced the next meeting slated Feb. 28 has been canceled because the group will be host to the Tri-State Firemen's Association that night.

It was announced a teen - age dance will be sponsored Saturday night at the fire station. Firemen are continuing the 50 - cent a month drive in the area for funds for the department. Joe Arcuragi is in charge.

Phone Firm's Movie Shown Midland Club

Frank Thompson, a representative of the Bell Telephone Co., spoke and showed movies at a meeting of the Midland Rotary Club Thursday evening at the New Riviera Restaurant. He was introduced by William Moll.

Business was conducted by Sal Glorioso, president, and the invocation was given by Thomas Fanning.

Test Planned For City Post

The Municipal Civil Service Commission announced today it will hold an examination Wednesday, March 20, at 8 p. m. in the Council chamber at City Hall to make up a new eligibility list for the post of utility supplyman at the water department pumping and filtration plant.

Donald T. Duke, superintendent of the water department, explained the test was requested to make up a new eligibility list, as there are no vacancies at present. The former eligibility list expired, he pointed out. The post pays $390 monthly.

Applications will be received until Saturday, March 9, at noon. Application blanks are available from the office of Mayor Bert H. Goodballet or from any member of the commission—Donal I. Burcham, chairman, Atty. Ben H. Berman and A. A. Fiorello. P. K. Calhoon is clerk.

The eligibility list will remain in effect a year, the commission announced. Applicants must be at least 21 but not more than 60 on the examination date. They must be citizens of the U. S. and residents of East Liverpool for at least six months prior to the exam.

Applications must be notarized and accompanied by a $1 fee. Physical examinations will be required before an applicant's name is certified for appointment, the commission added.

The commission keeps "standing" lists of eligibles in its files for many city positions, so that names can be certified quickly in the event of a vacancy.

Hancock County Signup Begins For Feed Grains

Carl Allison of Chester, chairman of the Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said the signup started Feb. 1 and will continue through March 22.

The program covers the three major feed grains of corn, grain sorghum and barley. In general, provisions follow those for 1961 and 1962 crops by giving feed grain producers an opportunity to participate by reducing acreages at least 20 per cent and devoting the land to an approved conservation use.

Farmers receive diversion payments and price-support payments by participating, and they will also be eligible to take part in the price support-loan programs.

Price support payments have been set at 18 cents a bushel on corn, 16 cents per bushel on grain sorghum and 14 cents on barley.

Part of the estimated payment to be earned for such diversion may be paid in advance when the producer signs up in New Cumberland. The rest of the diversion payment and all of the price - support payment will be made next summer, Allison said.

There will be a wheat referendum this spring in which county wheat growers will have a choice of two programs for 1964.

Cline Can Shoot Outside, Too . . .

It hasn't been a pleasure watching all the Potter basketball games this season, but for the most part the campaign has been an exciting one.

East Liverpool, short on height, was up to its neck in all but four of the games lost. Massillon, Steubenville Big Red, New Philly and Canton McKinley measured the Potters by good margins.

Two defeats on the schedule were overtime losses, and to pretty good clubs. Midland has gone on to compile a 17-2 record, while Warren is ranked ninth in the state among the Class AA basketball powers.

Of course, the Salem, Wellsville victories on the same weekend were the highlight of the campaign which is drawing to a close.

It has been a pleasure to watch the performances of Dean Cline. And last Saturday night at Niles he answered a big question for us.

Cline has scored the majority of his 342 points from under the basket with his clever moves and Coach Eddie Melvin of Toledo University, along with a couple other college mentors, popped the question, "At 6-1, could Cline play outside?" His height practically leaves him out as an "inside" man in college.

After Saturday night, the answer is yes. For one of the few times this season Cline was forced out 25 and 30 feet away from the basket, but he hammered the hoop for 22 points, sinking 9 of 16 shots. Seven were from the corner or out from the basket.

Cline has been the biggest surprise of the current campaign for he was only an average player a year ago.

Pirates, Indians Have Big ? . . .

THE MAJOR LEAGUE clubs are ready to head South in full force. What can be expected of the local teams — Cleveland and Pittsburgh — when they return North?

Unless you are a full-fledged gambler, it wouldn't be smart to bet your money on either one of those clubs because both lineups are dotted with question marks.

The Pirates are putting their faith in an untried rookie and a spot player who is expected to play almost a full season.

The rookie is Bob Bailey, who is scheduled to take the place of Don Hoak at third base. He made great strides in one year at Columbus, improving steadily, but as far as the Major Leagues go, it will be a wait-and-see policy.

Another member of the Pirates "new look" infield on the left side is Dick Schofield. The question here is, can he play a full season in the same manner he has performed at shortstop in a fill-in role for Dick Groat?

While Groat was a consistant hitter, coming up with that base knock every three or four times at bat, Schofield is a streak hitter. He may come up with 10 out of 12, then the next few games go 0-for-24. That is the factor that bothers us at this time.

Last season Schofield played in 54 games and hit .288. He battde 104 times and compiled 30 hits.

If Schofield can't fill the bill, then Julio Gotay, who came to the Pirates from St. Louis in the Groat trade, will be used, but his label is "good field, no hit".

Pittsburgh's pitching staff can't be considered the best in the National League by a long shot. If Schofield and Bailey come through and if a few surprises pop up along the pitching lines, then look for the Buccos to be a contender. They finished eight games off the pace last season.

Tebbetts Names Starting SS . . .

TURNING to the Indians, Manager Birdie Tebbetts has emphasized over and over at his talks to the press around Ohio that the balance of the season lies in the hands of three rookies.

He already has announced that his starting shortstop in Minneapolis on opening day will be Tony Martinez, a rookie who has never played a major league game.

Tebbets said, "I saw this youngster play in Puerto Rico in December and I told him that even if he hits only .150 during all the spring exhibition games he still will be my shortstop on opening day."

Just about every major league scout who watched Martinez help spark Jacksonville to the International League pennant last year put a "can't miss major league stardom" tag on him.

He's considered an excellent fielder with fine range and a strong arm. Not a bad hitter either. He hit .302 at Reading and .287 at Jacksonville last season while driving in 72 runs.

The other two rookies are Max Alvis and Vic Davalillo. Alvis figures prominently in the Cleveland picture. By trading away Bubba Phillips, the Tribe brass in other words told Alvis he would get the first crack at the third base job.

Davalillo was one of the biggest surprises last year. Formerly a pitcher, he was converted into an outfielder at Jacksonville and won the International League batting title with .346 average.

The Indians are in about the same boat as Pittsburgh. They are gambling with untried rookies and Jim Grant and Dick Donovan can't carry the pitching load alone.

Here's District Cage Schedule This Week

TONIGHT

East Liverpool at Martins Ferry
Wellsville at Toronto
Rochester at Midland
Mingo Junction at Stanton Local Greenford at Salineville
Lisbon at East Palestine
Lake at Crestview
Beaver Local at New Cumberland

8 Area Teams End Seasons This Week

20 Contests Are Slated In District

Eight of the district's 18 schools will bring down the curtain on the 1962-63 basketball season this weekend.

Twenty contests are on tap in the next two days as tournament time nears.

Rounding out their regular season schedules this week are Stanton Local, Salineville, Crestview, Beaver Local and the Tri-County participants East Palestine, Lisbon, Columbiana and Leetonia.

The big race is still on in the Tri-County League where Lisbon and Columbiana are deadlocked with two games to go. Lisbon travels to East Palestine tonight while Columbiana visits Poland. Saturday Lisbon plays host to Sebring and Leetonia goes to Columbiana.

Victories in both games by both schools would mean co-champions for the Tri-County crown.

East Liverpool goes to Martins Ferry tonight then returns to Memorial Auditorium Saturday for its final home game with Youngstown East.

Wellsville should be on the lookout for an upset-minded Toronto five tonight. The Tigers play at Toronto and were extended in winning the first contest between the two schools, 51-45.

Toronto's standout, Tom Coulter, fouled out in the third quarter of that game and if he hadn't Wellsville could have found itself in trouble. Coulter is averaging over 20 points a contest and is one of the better outside shots in the Ohio Valley.

Midland will attempt to overcome its only Section 8 loss administered Tuesday night at New Brighton when Hank Kuzma's team meets Rochester tonight at Midland. After tonight's game, the Leopards have contests remaining with Riverside and Monaca.

Stanton Local closes its season tonight in entertaining Mingo Junction. Stanton currently holds a 7-0 mark, first losing season in three years under Coach Harry Diehl.

A strong Greenford team moves into Salineville tonight where the Indians will be seeking their third win against 14 defeats. Salineville finishes the season at home Saturday night, opposing Conotton Valley.

In other contests, Lake visits Crestview in the final game for the Rebels who hold a brilliant 12-5 mark.

Beaver Local (1-15) plays at New Cumberland tonight then puts the finishing touches on the season at home Saturday night facing West Branch.

Chartiers-Houston is at South Side tonight while the strong West Branch team visits United.

3 Potter Seniors To Make Final Appearance At Home

Three Potter seniors will play their final game on the Memorial Auditorium floor as East Liverpool rings down the curtain on their 1962-63 home season Saturday night.

Cline, who is being boomed for all-Ohio honors, has been the mainstay of the current Potter outfit which is laboring with a 5-10 record.

In 15 games, the 6-1 deadeye, has fired in 342 points and is averaging 22.8 per game. In Big 8 Conference play which the Potters concluded last Saturday at Niles, Cline averaged 24.4 points per contest.

Linville and Prentice are both starters. Linville broke into the starting lineup as a junior and Prentice has been a starter since his sophomore season.

Both opponents the Potters will face this weekend hold 9-7 records but Youngstown East has a game with Woodrow Wilson tonight.

Kraft Dropped Off Potter Cage Squad

Potter basketball coach Jim Harris announced Thursday that Tom Kraft, a senior letter winner and considered the no. 1 substitute for the Potters, has been dropped from the squad for keeping late hours. Kraft was considered a fine spot player and one of the better shots on the squad.

AL LOPEZ, Chicago White Sox manager, digs his way out of a trap in the first day of play in the National Baseball Players golf tourney at Miami Thursday. Lopez shot a 35-44-79 for 13th place standing. (UPI Telephoto)

Ivy Signs New Pact As Coach Of Oilers

HOUSTON (AP) — Frank (Pop) Ivy signed a new contract as head coach and general manager of the Houston Oilers of the American Football League Thursday, receiving more authority and a raise in salary.

The two-year contract ended speculation that he would take a similar job with the Montreal Alouettes of the Canadian League.

Wichita Has Eye On Cincy Streak

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

"He's smart and knows how to keep them running their patterns. Often he makes the key play in the game. Durham sends Nate Bowman (6-10 Wichita sophomore) to the right spots."

Miller pointed out that Durham missed the first Tulsa game with an injury and played only a few minutes of the North Texas game.

"We lost both of 'em by two points," Miller said. "I think we would have won both with Durham in there."

Wichita's other Missouri Valley Conference defeats were at Cincinnati 63-50 and at St. Louis 68-61. Miller's club has a 15-6 record against one of the nation's toughest schedules and would become certain of a bid to the National Invitation Tourney at New York by beating Cincy.

Ed Jucker, Cincinnati coach, said:

"They'll be waiting for us. They'll be thinking about that buzzer business."

He referred to the first meeting of the two teams, when Miller said Jucker punched the timekeeper's buzzer as play was going on to get the officials to talk to him.

But Miller had little to say about the incident. He was concerned about the condition of Leonard Kelley, speedy 6-1 backliner who hurt his right shoulder in the Drake game here Monday.

Kelly is on the doubtful list and Miller plans to start sophomore Dave Leach in his place. Kelley's 12.1 season average is second on the club only to Dave Stallworth's 20.2.

Kansas City pitchers were hit for 199 home runs in 1962.

He already has announced that his starting shortstop in Minneapolis on opening day will be Tony Martinez, a rookie who has never played a major league game.

Tebbets said, "I saw this youngster play in Puerto Rico in December and I told him that even if he hits only .150 during all the spring exhibition games he still will be my shortstop on opening day."

Just about every major league scout who watched Martinez help spark Jacksonville to the International League pennant last year put a "can't miss major league stardom" tag on him.

He's considered an excellent fielder with fine range and a strong arm. Not a bad hitter either. He hit .302 at Reading and .287 at Jacksonville last season while driving in 72 runs.

The other two rookies are Max Alvis and Vic Davalillo. Alvis figures prominently in the Cleveland picture. By trading away Bubba Phillips, the Tribe brass in other words told Alvis he would get the first crack at the third base job.

Davalillo was one of the biggest surprises last year. Formerly a pitcher, he was converted into an outfielder at Jacksonville and won the International League batting title with .346 average.

The Indians are in about the same boat as Pittsburgh. They are gambling with untried rookies and Jim Grant and Dick Donovan can't carry the pitching load alone.

8 Area Teams End Seasons This Week

20 Contests Are Slated In District

Eight of the district's 18 schools will bring down the curtain on the 1962-63 basketball season this weekend.

Twenty contests are on tap in the next two days as tournament time nears.

Rounding out their regular season schedules this week are Stanton Local, Salineville, Crestview, Beaver Local and the Tri-County participants East Palestine, Lisbon, Columbiana and Leetonia.

The big race is still on in the Tri-County League where Lisbon and Columbiana are deadlocked with two games to go. Lisbon travels to East Palestine tonight while Columbiana visits Poland. Saturday Lisbon plays host to Sebring and Leetonia goes to Columbiana.

Victories in both games by both schools would mean co-champions for the Tri-County crown.

East Liverpool goes to Martins Ferry tonight then returns to Memorial Auditorium Saturday for its final home game with Youngstown East.

Wellsville should be on the lookout for an upset-minded Toronto five tonight. The Tigers play at Toronto and were extended in winning the first contest between the two schools, 51-45.

Toronto's standout, Tom Coulter, fouled out in the third quarter of that game and if he hadn't Wellsville could have found itself in trouble. Coulter is averaging over 20 points a contest and is one of the better outside shots in the Ohio Valley.

Midland will attempt to overcome its only Section 8 loss administered Tuesday night at New Brighton when Hank Kuzma's team meets Rochester tonight at Midland. After tonight's game, the Leopards have contests remaining with Riverside and Monaca.

Stanton Local closes its season tonight in entertaining Mingo Junction. Stanton currently holds a 7-0 mark, first losing season in three years under Coach Harry Diehl.

A strong Greenford team moves into Salineville tonight where the Indians will be seeking their third win against 14 defeats. Salineville finishes the season at home Saturday night, opposing Conotton Valley.

In other contests, Lake visits Crestview in the final game for the Rebels who hold a brilliant 12-5 mark.

Beaver Local (1-15) plays at New Cumberland tonight then puts the finishing touches on the season at home Saturday night facing West Branch.

When East Visits Saturday

3 Potter Seniors To Make Final Appearance At Home

Three Potter seniors will play their final game on the Memorial Auditorium floor as East Liverpool rings down the curtain on their 1962-63 home season Saturday night.

Cline, who is being boomed for all-Ohio honors, has been the mainstay of the current Potter outfit which is laboring with a 5-10 record.

In 15 games, the 6-1 deadeye, has fired in 342 points and is averaging 22.8 per game. In Big 8 Conference play which the Potters concluded last Saturday at Niles, Cline averaged 24.4 points per contest.

Linville and Prentice are both starters. Linville broke into the starting lineup as a junior and Prentice has been a starter since his sophomore season.

Both opponents the Potters will face this weekend hold 9-7 records but Youngstown East has a game with Woodrow Wilson tonight.

Kraft Dropped Off Potter Cage Squad

Potter basketball coach Jim Harris announced Thursday that Tom Kraft, a senior letter winner and considered the no. 1 substitute for the Potters, has been dropped from the squad for keeping late hours. Kraft was considered a fine spot player and one of the better shots on the squad.

AL LOPEZ, Chicago White Sox manager, digs his way out of a trap in the first day of play in the National Baseball Players golf tourney at Miami Thursday. Lopez shot a 35-44-79 for 13th place standing. (UPI Telephoto)

Ivy Signs New Pact As Coach Of Oilers

HOUSTON (AP) — Frank (Pop) Ivy signed a new contract as head coach and general manager of the Houston Oilers of the American Football League Thursday, receiving more authority and a raise in salary.

The two-year contract ended speculation that he would take a similar job with the Montreal Alouettes of the Canadian League.

Wichita Has Eye On Cincy Streak

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Durham is my traffic cop out there," says Coach Ralph Miller. "He's smart and knows how to keep them running their patterns. Often he makes the key play in the game. Durham sends Nate Bowman (6-10 Wichita sophomore) to the right spots."

Miller pointed out that Durham missed the first Tulsa game with an injury and played only a few minutes of the North Texas game.

"We lost both of 'em by two points," Miller said. "I think we would have won both with Durham in there."

Wichita's other Missouri Valley Conference defeats were at Cincinnati 63-50 and at St. Louis 68-61. Miller's club has a 15-6 record against one of the nation's toughest schedules and would become certain of a bid to the National Invitation Tourney at New York by beating Cincy.

Ed Jucker, Cincinnati coach, said:

"They'll be waiting for us. They'll be thinking about that buzzer business."

He referred to the first meeting of the two teams, when Miller said Jucker punched the timekeeper's buzzer as play was going on to get the officials to talk to him.

But Miller had little to say about the incident. He was concerned about the condition of Leonard Kelley, speedy 6-1 backliner who hurt his right shoulder in the Drake game here Monday.

Kelly is on the doubtful list and Miller plans to start sophomore Dave Leach in his place. Kelley's 12.1 season average is second on the club only to Dave Stallworth's 20.2.

Kansas City pitchers were hit for 199 home runs in 1962.

Official Nationwide Consumer Testing Institute Report:

PLYMOUTH WINS PERFORMANCE TEST. PLYMOUTH WINS GAS ECONOMY TEST.

It happened in the second big meeting of Ford Galaxie "500", Chevrolet Impala and Plymouth Fury at Riverside, Cal.—in a "Showdown" Plymouth asked for. The cars were all V-8s, comparably equipped. And Nationwide Consumer Testing Institute was there to conduct the competition and see to it that its strict rules were followed. When it was over, Plymouth had victories in almost every performance test, plus victory in the all-important economy run. Plymouth for '63 also has the only 5-year/50,000-mile warranty* in the tough Plymouth-Ford-Chevrolet league. See your dealer. Plymouth's on the move.

Westgate, Columbiana In Jr. High Finals

Wildcats Top Wellsville; East Defeated

Defending champion Columbiana and Westgate will tangle Saturday about 2 p.m. for the championship of the East Liverpool Junior High Basketball tourney.

Westgate had a red hot shooting night to eliminate Wellsville, 49-36, and Columbiana defeated East Junior High, 35-28, in the semi-final round Thursday at Memorial Auditorium.

Westgate jumped out to an 11-0 lead and had control the rest of the way. Coach Dan Fisher's team grabbed a 14-5 first period lead, led 26-16 at halftime and 36-24 after three periods.

Len Walker paced a balanced Westgate attack as he hit for 14 points all coming from the field. Jerry Vaughn also hit the double figures with 11.

The Columbiana - East game saw the Panthers bounce back in the second half after falling behind in the first quarter. Columbiana took a 14-7 first quarter edge and led at halftime 20-14. East Junior rallied to pull in front, 23-22 but lost the lead in the final six minutes.

East Junior had a 9-8 edge in field goals but Columbiana converted 19 fouls to the Panthers 10.

Tallies 38 Points

NYU Is Happy To Have 6-7 Standout Back In Lineup

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

"About 25 points a game."

That was the reply of New York University basketball coach Lou Rossini Thursday when asked how big a difference it made to have big, smooth Happy Hairston back on the squad.

The 6-foot-7 Hairston combined with his favorite running mate, Barry Kramer, for 73 points in an important 102-71 rout of a good Holy Cross team Thursday. Both Rossini and Holy Cross coach Frank Oftring called the Madison Square Garden match "one of the big ones."

Hairston tossed in 38 points and Kramer, the Nation's No. 2 major college scorer, added 35 in an awesome display against the Crusaders, who were operating under a decided height disadvantage.

Nick Werkman, national scoring leader, hampered by foul trouble most of the game, scored only 19 points in Seton Hall's 81-74 upset of Niagara, winner of 10 straight at the start of the season but now 11-3.

In some of the other major games, Wake Forest pushed its Atlantic Coast Conference record to 10-2 in a 75-54 triumph over Maryland, North Texas State edged St. Louis 64-62, Tulsa outlasted Bradley 67-62, Wyoming beat Denver 78-71 and Creighton handed Colorado College its 17th consecutive loss, 81-43.

Ogilvie Five Scores 7th Straight Win

over winless Coca-Cola to run its victory string to seven straight in the Little Potters Sixth Grade League Thursday.

In another contest, Hune Co. registered a 16-4 win over Columbiana Finance. Kinsey was the point leader with five while Van Meter and Renner had two each for Hune's.

Ferrier, January Share Golf Lead

By GORDON PETERSON

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Jim Ferrier and Don January were tied for first with 7-under-par 65s as the Tucson Open Golf Tournament swung into second-round play today.

As the round started, 15 golfers were to complete the first round, halted by darkness Thursday.

Butch Baird had a 67 and was closest to the co-leaders.

TUCSON, Ariz.—Add Golf 104: The leaders:

Jim Ferrier	33-32—65
Don January	31-34—65
Butch Baird	32-35—67
Al Geiberger	33-35—68

Jim Brown Cleared Of Assault, Battery

CLEVELAND (AP)—A Common Pleas Court jury has found in favor of Cleveland Browns' football star Jim Brown in a 4-year-old $10,000 assault and battery action.

Bridges Should Be Ready To Pitch By Opening Day

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—New York Yankee relief ace Marshall Bridges, shot in the leg by a 21-year-old woman in an Elks Club bar, may be ready to pitch by the opening day of the baseball season.

Dr. George Rahilly, a surgeon and bone specialist, said no surgery was planned for Bridges, still in a Fort Lauderdale hospital, and the pitcher should be able to return to practice in about a month.

The pitcher was shot in the left leg Wednesday night by a woman identified by police as Carrie Lee Raysor, as they sat next to each other in the Negro Club. Both are Negro.

If Bridges can begin working out in a month, he will probably be ready when the Yankees open April 9 against the Kansas City Athletics. At first it was feared he would miss two months.

Dr. Rahilly said the .25 caliber slug chipped a bone and damaged muscles between the ankle and the knee, but said he did not consider it a serious injury.

Bridges, 31-year-old father of three from Jackson, Miss., had an 8-4 record for the Yanks in 52 games last season and played a big part in the pennant drive.

Police officers quoted Miss Raysor as saying Bridges "put his arm around me and pulled me over and I didn't like that kind of mugging."

Midland Works Pistol Team Wins 1st Match

Flu In Cincinnati Seen To Be Waning

CINCINNATI (AP) — The influenza-like epidemic which has gripped Cincinnati for more than a week appeared to be waning today after killing at least three persons.

The deaths were attributed to flu by private physicians who made out death certificates. Health authorities will not designate the disease officially until tests taken from samples here are completed by the State Department of Health.

One indication that the disease is waining were admissions to the emergency ward of General Hospital.

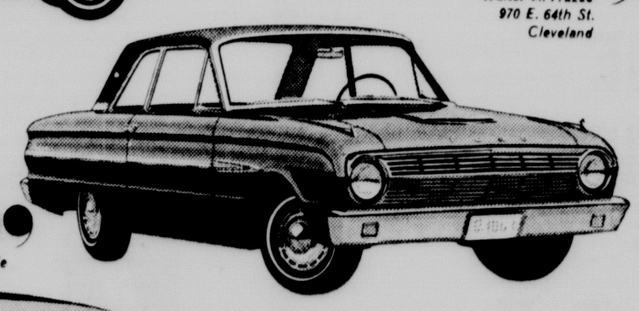
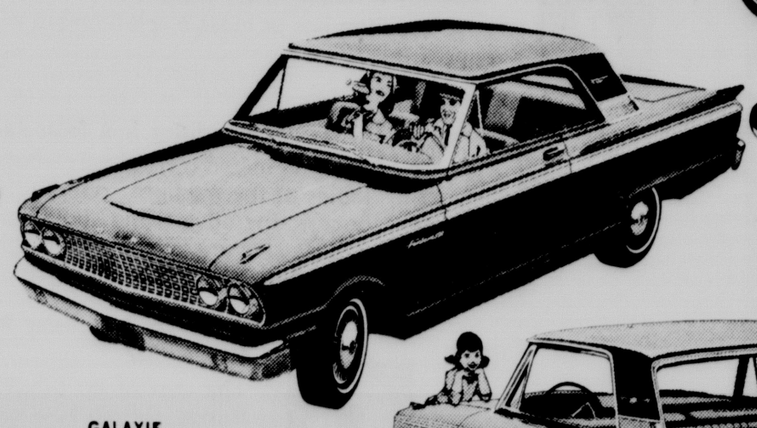
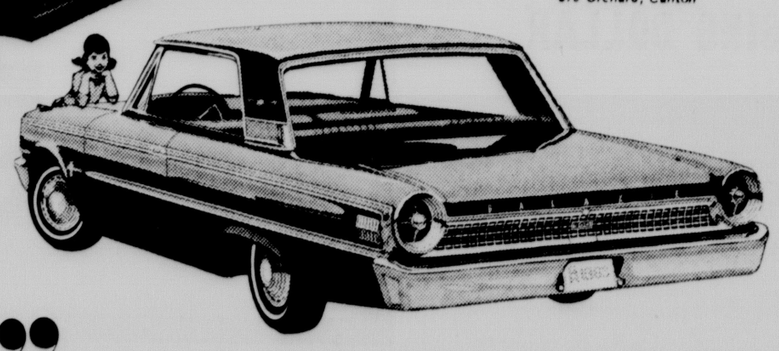
THUNDERBIRD . . .
"I have purchased four Thunderbirds and expect to buy more. No other luxury car gives you as much for your money. No matter how you look at it you get something different and outstanding in a Thunderbird. The trade-in allowance is significant of the sustained built-in value. Maintenance costs are fair and surprisingly below other luxury class cars."
Walter A. Frazee, 970 E. 64th St., Cleveland

FALCON . . .
"My Falcon is just about the best-looking car in the compact class built today. It is very comfortable on trips, it's easy to park around town, and we must be saving a lot of money on gas. The day we looked at this Falcon was a lucky one for us. From now on, I'm buying Falcons."
Robert W. Mallett, 328 Mentor Ave., Painesville





FAIRLANE . . .
"Frankly, we looked very carefully, and I'm glad we did. That's why we got our Fairlane. This Fairlane we bought is just what we needed, and I'm glad we found out about it. I would recommend it to anyone."
Nancy Sheehan, 810 Orchard, Canton



GALAXIE . . .
"We always used to buy what we called "big" cars. Then we got interested in this Super Torque Ford. Took a ride in one, just to see. Big car? This is it. And it gives you a ride like the angels promise you on pink clouds. It's way out front on power, too, and yet the price seems hardly enough by comparison with other cars. We're really sold."
Mrs. Howard O'Dell, 697 Wesley Ave., Newark

Westgate, Columbiana In Jr. High Finals

Wildcats Top Wellsville; East Defeated

Defending champion Columbiana and Westgate will tangle Saturday about 2 p.m. for the championship of the East Liverpool Junior High Basketball tourney.

Westgate had a red hot shooting night to eliminate Wellsville, 49-36, and Columbiana defeated East Junior High, 35-28, in the semi-final round Thursday at Memorial Auditorium.

Saturday's championship battle at the MA will be preceeded by a consolation tilt at 1 p.m. matching East Junior and Wellsville.

Westgate jumped out to an 11-0 lead and had control the rest of the way. Coach Dan Fisher's team grabbed a 14-5 first period lead, led 26-16 at halftime and 36-24 after three periods.

Len Walker paced a balanced Westgate attack as he hit for 14 points all coming from the field. Jerry Vaughn also hit the double figures with 11.

Wright and Comparetta combined for 31 of Wellsville's 36 markers. Wright hit for 17 and Comparetta 14.

The Columbiana - East game saw the Panthers bounce back in the second half after falling behind in the first quarter. Columbiana took a 14-7 first quarter edge and led at halftime 20-14. East Junior rallied to pull in front, 23-22 but lost the lead in the final six minutes.

East Junior had a 9-8 edge in field goals but Columbiana converted 19 fouls to the Panthers 10.

Tallies 38 Points

NYU Is Happy To Have 6-7 Standout Back In Lineup

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

"About 25 points a game."

That was the reply of New York University basketball coach Lou Rossini Thursday when asked how big a difference it made to have big, smooth Happy Hairston back on the squad.

Actually it may be more.

The quick, deft junior scored 119 points in the four games he has played since sitting out a semester's scholastic ineligibility. That's an average of almost 30 a game.

The 6-foot-7 Hairston combined with his favorite running mate, Barry Kramer, for 73 points in an important 102-71 rout of a good Holy Cross team Thursday. Both Rossini and Holy Cross coach Frank Oftring called the Madison Square Garden match "one of the big ones."

Hairston tossed in 38 points and Kramer, the Nation's No. 2 major college scorer, added 35 in an awesome display against the Crusaders, who were operating under a decided height disadvantage.

Nick Werkman, national scoring leader, hampered by foul trouble most of the game, scored only 19 points in Seton Hall's 81-74 upset of Niagara, winner of 10 straight at the start of the season but now 11-3.

In some of the other major games, Wake Forest pushed its Atlantic Coast Conference record to 10-2 in a 75-54 triumph over Maryland, North Texas State edged St. Louis 64-62, Tulsa outlasted Bradley 67-62, Wyoming beat Denver 78-71 and Creighton handed Colorado College its 17th consecutive loss, 81-43.

Ogilvie Five Scores 7th Straight Win

over winless Coca-Cola to run its victory string to seven straight in the Little Potters Sixth Grade League Thursday.

Second place George Bright's scored a 21-15 victory over American Vit, with Christian scoring 12 points. Montgomery topped the losers with five.

In another contest, Hune Co. registered a 16-4 win over Columbiana Finance. Kinsey was the point leader with five while Van Meter and Renner had two each for Hune's.

Ferrier, January Share Golf Lead

By GORDON PETERSON

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Jim Ferrier and Don January were tied for first with 7-under-par 65s as the Tucson Open Golf Tournament swung into second-round play today.

As the round started, 15 golfers were to complete the first round, halted by darkness Thursday.

Butch Baird had a 67 and was closest to the co-leaders.

Par meant little on the new mesquite and cactus lined 6,749-yard course, as 55 competitors made or broke it.

TUCSON, Ariz.—Add Golf 104: The leaders:

Jim Ferrier	33-32—65
Don January	31-34—65
Butch Baird	32-35—67
Al Geiberger	33-35—68
Harold Kneece	36-32—68

Jim Brown Cleared Of Assault, Battery

CLEVELAND (AP)—A Common Pleas Court jury has found in favor of Cleveland Browns' football star Jim Brown in a 4-year-old $10,000 assault and battery action.

Bridges Should Be Ready To Pitch By Opening Day

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—New York Yankee relief ace Marshall Bridges, shot in the leg by a 21-year-old woman in an Elks Club bar, may be ready to pitch by the opening day of the baseball season.

Dr. George Rahilly, a surgeon and bone specialist, said no surgery was planned for Bridges, still in a Fort Lauderdale hospital, and the pitcher should be able to return to practice in about a month.

The pitcher was shot in the left leg Wednesday night by a woman identified by police as Carrie Lee Raysor, as they sat next to each other in the Negro Club. Both are Negro.

Yankee manager Ralph Houk said there would be no disciplinary action against Bridges.

If Bridges can begin working out in a month, he will probably be ready when the Yankees open April 9 against the Kansas City Athletics. At first it was feared he would miss two months.

Dr. Rahilly said the .25 caliber slug chipped a bone and damaged muscles between the ankle and the knee, but said he did not consider it a serious injury.

Bridges, 31-year-old father of three from Jackson, Miss., had an 8-4 record for the Yanks in 52 games last season and played a big part in the pennant drive.

Police officers quoted Miss Raysor as saying Bridges "put his arm around me and pulled me over and I didn't like that kind of mugging."

Flu In Cincinnati Seen To Be Waning

CINCINNATI (AP) — The influenza-like epidemic which has gripped Cincinnati for more than a week appeared to be waning today after killing at least three persons.

The deaths were attributed to flu by private physicians who made out death certificates. Health authorities will not designate the disease officially until tests taken from samples here are completed by the State Department of Health.

One indication that the disease is waining were admissions to the emergency ward of General Hospital.

The normal case load of 300 a day rose to 500 during the week but fell to 400 Thursday.

Talk about lively conversations!

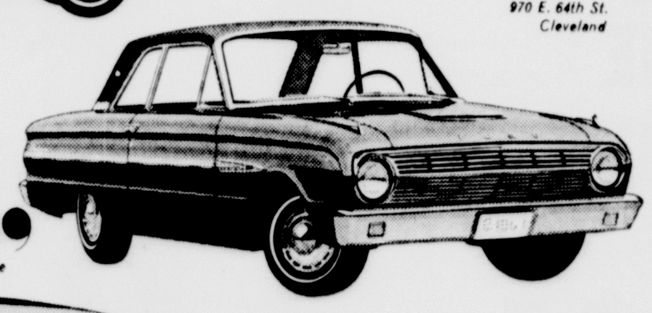
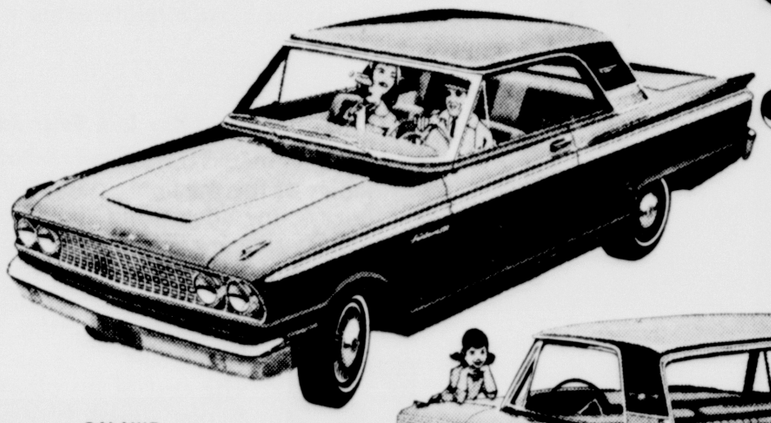
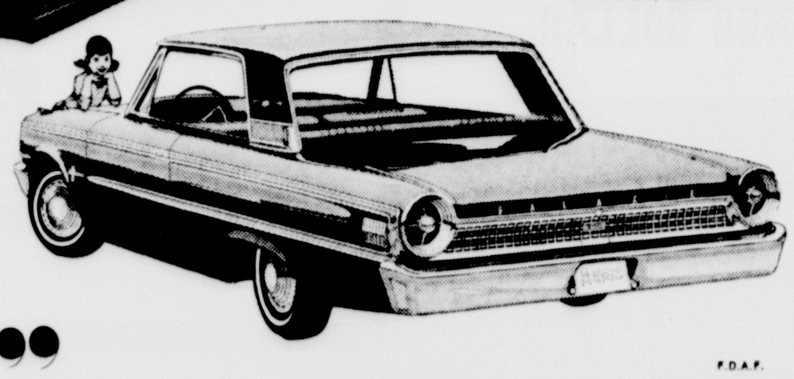
THUNDERBIRD . . .
"I have purchased four Thunderbirds and expect to buy more. No other luxury car gives you as much for your money. No matter how you look at it you get something different and outstanding in a Thunderbird. The trade-in allowance is significant of the sustained built-in value. Maintenance costs are fair and surprisingly below other luxury class cars."
Walter A. Frazee, 970 E. 64th St., Cleveland



FALCON . . .
"My Falcon is just about the best-looking car in the compact class built today. It is very comfortable on trips, it's easy to park around town, and we must be saving a lot of money on gas. The day we looked at this Falcon was a lucky one for us. From now on, I'm buying Falcons."
Robert W. Mallett, 328 Mentor Ave., Painesville



FAIRLANE . . .
"Frankly, we looked very carefully, and I'm glad we did. That's why we got our Fairlane. This Fairlane we bought is just what we needed, and I'm glad we found out about it. I would recommend it to anyone."
Nancy Sheehan, 810 Orchard, Canton



GALAXIE . . .
"We always used to buy what we called "big" cars. Then we got interested in this Super Torque Ford. Took a ride in one, just to see. Big car? This is it. And it gives you a ride like the angels promise you on pink clouds. It's way out front on power, too, and yet the price seems hardly enough by comparison with other cars. We're really sold."
Mrs. Howard O'Dell, 697 Wesley Ave., Newark

The East Liverpool REVIEW

Gives You More For Your Advertising Dollar

THE REVIEW GIVES YOU MORE THAN ANY OTHER MEDIUM FOR YOUR ADVERTISING DOLLAR

1 Review Advertising Reaches More People Than Any Other Medium.
People rely on the Review for the kind of news they can get nowhere else. Over 17,000 Review families are interested in "News of Our Town; news of people and places and things they know; births and deaths; weddings and social events; baseball and football and other sports; local politics, etc., etc." . . . the kind of news that satisfies people's human craving to know what's going on among people they know best. This reliance is OPPORTUNITY for the advertiser who needs coverage, selectivity and timeliness.

2 Pople Like Advertising in Newspapers Better Than In Any Other Medium.
People feel friendly toward advertising in newspapers. Surveys show that far fewer people want advertising in other media. An advertiser wants his customers to like him, so it stands to reason he will benefit if he runs his ads where they please instead of annoy people.

3 Review Delivers More "Ready To Buy" Prospects Than Any Other Medium.
Newspapers offer something for everybody—information, entertainment, editorials, advertising. And the reader is attracted to the ad that interests him. This means that readership ratings on ads represent live prospects for the advertiser. These people are easy to sell because they have a product interest. The Review covers all the interests of all the people. It doesn't aim at different factions of the public, but aims at the whole public and just about everybody does read the Review.

4 Newspaper Advertising Gets More Action Than Any Other Medium.
As a news medium, the Review gives advertising an atmosphere of action and believability. People have confidence in and believe in newspapers. This PROMPTS action on the part of the reader.

5 Newspaper Advertising Offers More Local Selling Flexibility Than Any Other Medium.
National and Distributor advertisers can use newspapers market-by-market—to protect strong markets, to bolster weak markets, to vary advertising where potential varies, to meet competitive attacks, to get better timing with their sales and merchandising programs than is possible in any other medium.

6 The Review Gives More Flexibility In Selling Copy Than Any Other Medium.
An advertiser can tell his story in the size that suits his needs. He can use a two-page spread to tell a detailed copy story, or he can tell his story in the same or smaller space with just a few words. He can run a 100-line or a 1,000-line ad, depending on his budget and strategy. A newspaper offers advertisers more physical and creative flexibility than any other medi[illegible]

7 Newspaper Advertising Offers Better Retail Merchandising Than Any Other Advertising.
Four million U. S. retailers invest about 2½ billion dollars in the daily newspaper—more than they spend in all other media combined. No other medium has as close a relationship with retailers as the daily newspaper.

8 Newspaper Advertising Is A Safer And Surer Investment.
In some media a good percentage of the results are affected by the variables of the medium., and by the medium's own competition. In newspapers, the advertising stands on its own feet, unaffected by such variables. Review advertising is always ready and waiting to suit the time, place and pleasure of the consumer. The daily Review is always selling.

9 Newspaper Advertising Produces More Sales Per Dollar Of Advertising Cost Than Do Other Media.
The cost of an advertising medium depends on a combination of two things: First, how much it costs to reach a person with a sales story. Second, what action that sales story causes the person to take—or, how much it costs to make a sale.
The best figures available indicate that the newspaper delivers a message to a person at a cost at least as low as the cost of delivering the message in any other medium.

Damage Suits Ask $300,000

Two traffic damage suits totaling $300,000 were filed Thursday in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon as a result of mishaps on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Superroad and in Wellsville.

Mrs. Geraldine Ann Cain, 2238 St. Clair Ave., filed a suit for $250,000 on behalf of her son, William, 5, against Richard Gray, 18, of 1603 Chester Ave., Wellsville.

Mrs. Cain's petition claims her son suffered injuries Sept. 13, 1961, while crossing 10th St. at Chester Ave. in Wellsville when struck by an auto operated by Gray.

She said the child received a fractured skull and internal injuries and was unconscious for two months and in the hospital for six and a half months.

Paul E. Watson of Rogers R. D. 1, a state highway employe, filed a $50,000 suit against John E. Rardon of East Liverpool as a result of a mishap Feb. 23, 1962, on the super-road.

Watson said he was working at clearing rocks from a slide on the highway when struck by a car operated by Rardon.

Watson's petition claims he suffered fractures of both legs, concussion and internal injuries and still is hospitalized.

Ohio Gives Warning On Insurance Firm

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Department of Insurance has warned that unauthorized attempts have been made by the Time Life Insurance Co. of Dallas, Texas, to sell insurance in Ohio.

The department says the company is not licensed in Ohio and is not subject to the state's regulation.

Killed In Collision

MARYSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Horace L. Davidson, 51, Columbus salesman, was killed Thursday night when his car collided with one driven by Marysville Probate Court Judge Robert F. Allen on U.S. 33 six miles east of here.

Correct Spelling Of 'Centennal' To Be On Stamp

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Post Office Department promises to spell centennial correctly on the stamp commemorating the 100th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg. The winning design had it spelled "centennal."

"The design was selected on its artistic merit, not for the correctness of the inscription," the Post Office Department said in Washington Thursday.

"Correction, of course, will be made on the stamp engraving."

Artist Roy Gjertson, 36, of San Pedro, Calif., who won $500 for the design, said, "I can really spell it correctly. I spelled it right on the originals, but just omitted a letter when I made my final design. As far as the misspelling is concerned, I'm laughing all the way to the post office."

A high school senior from suburban Lansdowne, Pa., Carlton W. Greve, was among those who noticed the error. Pictures of six of the top stamps in the judging appeared in a supplement of Sunday's Philadelphia Bulletin.

Gjertson's entry for the 5-cent stamp shows a Confederate soldier and a Union soldier in close-quarter combat with bayonets fixed to their rifles. The blue, gray and black stamp will be issued July 1 at Gettysburg, Pa.

Lausche Urges Tax Exemption On Transit Units

WASHINGTON (AP) — A tax exemption bill to aid public transit systems has been introduced by Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio.

Lausche said his bill would make income put into equipment reserve funds free from the federal income tax.

The senator said his bill "will help transit systems pay their own way while avoiding starting a new federal subsidy program for mass transit that could mount to tens of billions."

The bill also would permit states to set up joint mass transit compacts and would create a division of urban transportation in the Commerce Department. The present experimental urban transit program would be transferred to the new division from the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Three Plan To See Vote Counting System

CINCINNATI (AP) — Three members of the Hamilton County Board of Elections plan to travel to Bakersfield, Calif., to see a demonstration of the Coleman vote counting system next Thursday.

The Coleman system is electronic and was used at Bakersfield in last November's general elections. Most of Hamilton County's voters cast paper ballots that were counted by hand. Some Cincinnati suburbs have voting machines and three electronic vote - count devices made by the Coyle Voting Machine Co., Hamilton, were tested last November.

Medal Cites Retiring Marietta College Head

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP) — An award which in the future will recognize student achievement has been presented to Dr. W. Bay Irvine, retiring president of Marietta College.

Irvine, president since 1948, received the medal named in his honor Thursday night at the college's 128th Founders Day convocation.

Man Free On Bond On Numbers Charge

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Anthony Gianfrancesco, 39, of Youngstown was free under $1,500 bond today pending appeal of his conviction on a numbers charge.

A Common Pleas Court jury Thursday found Gianfrancesco guilty of promoting a numbers game. Police said they found $20 and other papers believed to be numbers slips in his car after he was arrested in a Youngstown parking lot last Aug. 17.

Damage Suits Ask $300,000

Two traffic damage suits totaling $300,000 were filed Thursday in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon as a result of mishaps on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Superroad and in Wellsville.

Mrs. Geraldine Ann Cain, 2238 St. Clair Ave., filed a suit for $250,000 on behalf of her son, William, 5, against Richard Gray, 18, of 1603 Chester Ave., Wellsville.

Mrs. Cain's petition claims her son suffered injuries Sept. 13, 1961, while crossing 10th St. at Chester Ave. in Wellsville when struck by an auto operated by Gray.

She said the child received a fractured skull and internal injuries and was unconscious for two months and in the hospital for six and a half months.

Paul E. Watson of Rogers R. D. 1, a state highway employe, filed a $50,000 suit against John E. Rardon of East Liverpool as a result of a mishap Feb. 23, 1962, on the super-road.

Watson said he was working at clearing rocks from a slide on the highway when struck by a car operated by Rardon.

Watson's petition claims he suffered fractures of both legs, concussion and internal injuries and still is hospitalized.

Ohio Gives Warning On Insurance Firm

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Department of Insurance has warned that unauthorized attempts have been made by the Time Life Insurance Co. of Dallas, Texas, to sell insurance in Ohio.

The department says the company is not licensed in Ohio and is not subject to the state's regulation.

Killed In Collision

MARYSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Horace L. Davidson, 51, Columbus salesman, was killed Thursday night when his car collided with one driven by Marysville Probate Court Judge Robert F. Allen on U.S. 33 six miles east of here.

Correct Spelling Of 'Centennal' To Be On Stamp

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Post Office Department promises to spell centennial correctly on the stamp commemorating the 100th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg. The winning design had it spelled "centennal."

"The design was selected on its artistic merit, not for the correctness of the inscription," the Post Office Department said in Washington Thursday.

"Correction, of course, will be made on the stamp engraving."

Artist Roy Gjertson, 36, of San Pedro, Calif., who won $500 for the design, said, "I can really spell it correctly. I spelled it right on the originals, but just omitted a letter when I made my final design. As far as the misspelling is concerned, I'm laughing all the way to the post office."

A high school senior from suburban Lansdowne, Pa., Carlton W. Greve, was among those who noticed the error. Pictures of six of the top stamps in the judging appeared in a supplement of Sunday's Philadelphia Bulletin.

Gjertson's entry for the 5-cent stamp shows a Confederate soldier and a Union soldier in close-quarter combat with bayonets fixed to their rifles. The blue, gray and black stamp will be issued July 1 at Gettysburg, Pa.

Lausche Urges Tax Exemption On Transit Units

WASHINGTON (AP) — A tax exemption bill to aid public transit systems has been introduced by Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio.

Lausche said his bill would make income put into equipment reserve funds free from the federal income tax.

The senator said his bill "will help transit systems pay their own way while avoiding starting a new federal subsidy program for mass transit that could mount to tens of billions."

The bill also would permit states to set up joint mass transit compacts and would create a division of urban transportation in the Commerce Department. The present experimental urban transit program would be transferred to the new division from the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Three Plan To See Vote Counting System

CINCINNATI (AP) — Three members of the Hamilton County Board of Elections plan to travel to Bakersfield, Calif., to see a demonstration of the Coleman vote counting system next Thursday.

The Coleman system is electronic and was used at Bakersfield in last November's general elections. Most of Hamilton County's voters cast paper ballots that were counted by hand. Some Cincinnati suburbs have voting machines and three electronic vote - count devices made by the Coyle Voting Machine Co., Hamilton, were tested last November.

Medal Cites Retiring Marietta College Head

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP) — An award which in the future will recognize student achievement has been presented to Dr. W. Bay Irvine, retiring president of Marietta College.

Irvine, president since 1948, received the medal named in his honor Thursday night at the college's 128th Founders Day convocation.

Man Free On Bond On Numbers Charge

A Common Pleas Court jury Thursday found Gianfrancesco guilty of promoting a numbers game. Police said they found $20 and other papers believed to be numbers slips in his car after he was arrested in a Youngstown parking lot last Aug. 17.

"Saw your old boy friend—He sure has a lot of polish—in fact he sold me a bottle."

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I remove wine stains from materials?

A. On washable materials, stretch the stained portion over a bowl and secure with a rubber band. Sprinkle salt on the stain, then pour boiling water on it from a height of two or three feet. Fresh stains on unwashable materials can sometimes be removed with an absorbent such as French chalk, cornstarch, or fuller's earth. Apply the absorbent, let remain for some time, then brush it off.

Q. What is a simple and effective substitute for shoe polish I can improvise for either black or brown shoes?

A. Try simply sprinkling some lemon juice over the shoes, then polishing them vigorously.

Q. How can I clean some pans that have been scorched by food adhering to them?

A. Sprinkle some baking soda into the pans, allow to stand for awhile, then scour them clean.

Q. How can I clean combs that are made of hard rubber or bone?

A. Let them stand for 10 minutes in a basin of warm water containing a couple of tablespoons of household ammonia. Scrub with a small brush. Rinse and dry. Alcohol solutions are also good cleaners and disinfectants for hard rubber and bone. Nylon combs can be sterilized by boiling.

Q. How can I clean glazed brick floors?

A. Dust them with a push broom or dry mop. Wash with a sponge or cloth wrung out of warm, sudsy water. Rinse and wipe dry. For a very dirty floor, use one ounce of sodium hydrosulphite dissolved in one gallon of warm water.

Junior Editors Quiz on ICE BERGS

QUESTION: What makes icebergs and where are they found?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Icebergs are huge pieces which break off from the slowly moving rivers of ice called glaciers when these finally meet the sea (top pictures). Toppling over into the water with a cracking, thundering sound, the iceberg floats away. As you can see, only a small part, about one ninth of its bulk, remains above the water, this makes an iceberg very dangerous. If a ship comes to close, it may strike a submerged part of the berg. Many icebergs are formed in the Antarctic, but the ones with which we are most familiar come from glaciers breaking up off the west coast of Greenland (see map). Driven southeast by the polar current, they meet warmer water in the open Atlantic and melt away. Now and then a particularly large berg may cross the Atlantic steamer lanes; it was in a collision with an iceberg that the huge liner Titanic went down, with a loss of many lives. Since that 1912 disaster, the U.S. Coast Guard has kept watch on large icebergs and reports the position of dangerous ones. Pieces of ice which break off the Arctic ice sheet are also sometimes called icebergs, but these are not nearly as large or dangerous as the glacial kind.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: You can make a miniature iceberg very simply by floating an ice cube in a glass of water. The interesting point to notice is how much of the cube stays underwater.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

On this day in 1813, the English journalist, Leigh Hunt, and his brother, John, were sentenced to two years' imprisonment for libel. In their journal, The Examiner, the two men had called the prince regent a "fat Adonis of 50." The prince regent later became King George IV.

On this day:

In 1564, the Italian astronomer, Galileo, was born.

In 1840, New Jersey passed a law providing for the gradual extinction of slavery.

In 1870, work was begun on the Northern Pacific Railroad.

Composer Harold Arlen is 58.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Art Linkletter Rides Again

Something old, something blue, something borrowed, but very little that is new would seem to be the order for NBC's Monday night program overhaul. Old movies laced with commercials were dumped into the hours vacated by "Man's World" and "Saints and Sinners" earlier this month.

Hal Humphrey

It's on Channel 3 at 9:30.)

THE "BLUE" part of NBC's "new" Monday night will be either the network or outside producers who would dearly love to have that two and a half hours of time for their own shows. Which it turns out to be will depend on the ratings netted by the old movies and Linkletter.

Perhaps it is unfair to say that Art Linkletter has borrowed anything for his return to nighttime TV. He always has been given credit for inventing the audience participation show. In one form or another, Art has been at it for 30 years, and after all of that time one begins to run out of gags and stunts.

In his opening show Monday, Art has Bobby Darin snapping his fingers (probably one of the lad's most - developed talents), then Bobby is introduced to a model and asked to decide if she is the type who would pose sharing an ice cream soda (two straws) with a chimpanzee.

A member of the audience is given a second problem, this time about doctors' fees. He misses the answer, but there is some bric-a-brac awaiting him offstage as a consolation prize.

Next a lady from the audience (remember how the usher used to yell at Dr. I.Q.—"I have a lady in the audience!" is shown a film of a phony cop nailing pedestrians on Hollywood Blvd. for speeding.

The film is stopped suddenly and the lady must decide if the first victim accepted the "speeding" ticket or not. She is allowed to interview him in person before making up her mind.

THROUGHOUT this study of "humantics," as producer Wilbur Stark likes to call it, Art moves as easily and knowingly as a department store floorwalker with his 15-year pin.

Years of meeting people and joshing them has made Art a pro at this business. And, if we're to go on playing games on TV, I wish the Bill Cullens, Hugh Downses and Bud Collyers would take a few lessons from Art on how to avoid being fatuous and precious.

By the way, those of you who generally get your jollies watching Cullen's "The Price Is Right" on Monday night will have to wait for Friday night now. Cullen and his avaricious bidders take over for the defunct "Don't Call Me Charlie," a so-called comedy which deserved to die.

IN FACT, if "Don't Call Me Charlie" hadn't been scuttled by NBC, Jack Paar was threatening to picket NBC's board chairman, Bobby Sarnoff.

The Paar show on Friday followed "Charlie," and since hardly anyone but the relatives of the cast members on the show were watching it, Paar's "rating inheritance" is lower than that picked up by an acrobat following Yehudi Menuhin.

As an interviewer of people—oddball and otherwise—Paar is in the same pro league with Linkletter. His handling of the precipitous Oscar Levant last week was expert and allowed Oscar to perform his annihilation of himself and friends with total perfection.

Linkletter, Paar and Levant would make an interesting parlay for a "People Are Peculiar" show, come to think of it.

Beaver Mental Health Survey Will Continue

The survey of childhood mental illness being conducted by the Beaver County Mental Health Society as part of a statewide program of Pennsylvania Mental Health, Inc., is scheduled to move into all areas of Beaver County within the next two weeks.

The purposes of the survey are to discover the extent and nature of services for mentally ill children, estimate the number of mentally ill and assess the need for services, and to devise a plan of action.

The survey of the Beaver Area schools has been completed as a pilot study to establish the pattern of the survey to be used in other schools. Teams of workers, all members of the childhood mental illness committee of the Mental Health Society, will direct the study with the co-operation of school administrators, guidance counsellors, nurses, teachers and local physicians.

The final report of the results of the study will be statistical and will involve no personal identification, according to Dr. Robert A. Yee, New Brighton psychiatrist and chairman.

West Virginia Bares 8,255 Cases Of Flu

CHARLESTON (AP) — The State Health Department announced that 8,255 cases of influenza-like diseases were reported in West Virginia last week compared to 4,120 the previous week.

Not included in the totals is a reported high incidence of the respiratory illness in Brook County where about 700 students and 10 teachers were absent from classes in Wellsburg yesterday. Schools outside Wellsburg in the county were operating but school officials reported heavy absenteeism.

The slang word "booze" for whisky was derived from the name of E. C. Booz, a 19th - century distiller in Kentucky. Booz bottled his whisky in square flasks of dark brown glass shaped like log cabins and people began calling his product "booze".

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Social Pressures Burden Teen-Agers

About this time of year committees of senior students in high school are choosing class pins and commencement invitations and other matters relating to commencement. For some months, a yearbook has been developing. Though the committees may have teacher - advisers the cost involved for these items is often left chiefly to the respective committees. What happens is that the total cost is usually enormous. Every member of the class is pressured to order and pay for the items chosen by the committee. Consider the hardship to many of their parents and the humiliation to the students whose parents can't afford the cost.

THE RESPECTIVE committees, it's safe to assume, are made up of a larger proportion of students from well-to-do- homes than from homes of low income.

Like the bellwether of a flock of sheep, one or two students on the committees with affluent parents propose the cost level. How dare the rest on the committee oppose? Besides, the entire class rarely has an opportunity to vote on the selections. Even if they did, those students wishing to vote against very expensive items would hesitate to do so for fear of mockery.

As the enterprise usually works out, it's hardly democratic. Two burdens are placed on many students and their parents:

1. They are expected to buy what they can't afford and 2. they are pressured and denied the opportunity to choose.

A good deal may be said in defense of a yearbook of modest cost. It's something the owner may cherish for years.

One or more teachers may have to spend many hours in addition to their regular teaching load to develop it, and students working with them can get valuable experience.

BUT ITS COST, usually, is excessive and the student who doesn't purchase a copy knows he will be dubbed a disloyal member of his class and of his "dear old school".

The school principal and the whole teaching staff, especially the advisers, should be concerned and aim to influence the judgment of these committee members.

A few very influential teachers might profitably discuss with their students the principles involved. Or some student or faculty leader might present the whole problem objectively before the student council.

After all, teen-agers are idealists and might be led to arrive at consideration of the rights and wishes of all the students. The Board of Education might also help in setting reasonable standards.

With some idealists on the school paper it, too, might help shape more wholesome school opinion. How wonderful it would be if the local public newspaper aired these matters editorially.

Speaker Chosen For Program Of Ceramic Society

Dr. E. F. Osborn, vice president for research at Pennsylvania State University, will be principal speaker at the 16th annual Bleininger Award dinner of the Pittsburgh Section of the American Ceramic Society Friday, March 8, at 7 p. m. at the Pittsburgh Athletic Association.

The program will mark presentation of the Albert Victor Bleininger Memorial Award to Dr. Herbert Insley of Washington, retired head of the mineral products division of the National Bureau of Standards.

Dr. Insley's selection for the award was announced in December. It is symbolized by a gold medal and scroll, presented for "distinguished achievement in the field of ceramics." The award was established in honor of the late Dr. A. V. Bleininger, who was director of research at the Homer Laughlin China Co.

The ceramists' dinner will be preceded by cocktails at 6:15. Dr. Henry H. Blau of Ohio State University will be toastmaster.

Dr. Thomas W. Smoot of the Harbison - Walker Refractories Co.'s Garber Research Center in Pittsburgh, is in charge of registrations.

Two Ohio Ordnance Plants Due For Sale

WASHINGTON (AP) —The ordnance steel foundry in Lima, Ohio, and the Cleveland ordnance plant are reported to be among 10 surplus plants to be offered for sale to private industry in the near future.

The announcement of the future sale was made Thursday by Rep. John J. McFall, D-Calif., who named six other plants for which disposal proposals will be submitted to the Senate and House Armed Services Committees by the end of the month. None of these is in Ohio.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Art Linkletter Rides Again

Something old, something blue, something borrowed, but very little that is new would seem to be the order for NBC's Monday night program overhaul. Old movies laced with commercials were dumped into the hours vacated by "Man's World" and "Saints and Sinners" earlier this month.

Hal Humphrey

Next Monday the old movie will be followed by Art Linkletter in a repainted model of his old "People Are Funny" show with a borrowed accessory or two from "Candid Camera."

It's on Channel 3 at 9:30.)

THE "BLUE" part of NBC's "new" Monday night will be either the network or outside producers who would dearly love to have that two and a half hours of time for their own shows. Which it turns out to be will depend on the ratings netted by the old movies and Linkletter.

Perhaps it is unfair to say that Art Linkletter has borrowed anything for his return to nighttime TV. He always has been given credit for inventing the audience participation show. In one form or another, Art has been at it for 30 years, and after all of that time one begins to run out of gags and stunts.

In his opening show Monday, Art has Bobby Darin snapping his fingers (probably one of the lad's most - developed talents), then Bobby is introduced to a model and asked to decide if she is the type who would pose sharing an ice cream soda (two straws) with a chimpanzee.

A member of the audience is given a second problem, this time about doctors' fees. He misses the answer, but there is some bric-a-brac awaiting him offstage as a consolation prize.

Next a lady from the audience (remember how the usher used to yell at Dr. I.Q.—"I have a lady in the audience!" is shown a film of a phony cop nailing pedestrians on Hollywood Blvd. for speeding.

The film is stopped suddenly and the lady must decide if the first victim accepted the "speeding" ticket or not. She is allowed to interview him in person before making up her mind.

THROUGHOUT this study of "humantics," as producer Wilbur Stark likes to call it, Art moves as easily and knowingly as a department store floorwalker with his 15-year pin.

Years of meeting people and joshing them has made Art a pro at this business. And, if we're to go on playing games on TV, I wish the Bill Cullens, Hugh Downses and Bud Collyers would take a few lessons from Art on how to avoid being fatuous and precious.

By the way, those of you who generally get your jollies watching Cullen's "The Price Is Right" on Monday night will have to wait for Friday night now. Cullen and his avaricious bidders take over for the defunct "Don't Call Me Charlie," a so-called comedy which deserved to die.

IN FACT, if "Don't Call Me Charlie" hadn't been scuttled by NBC, Jack Paar was threatening to picket NBC's board chairman, Bobby Sarnoff.

The Paar show on Friday followed "Charlie," and since hardly anyone but the relatives of the cast members on the show were watching it, Paar's "rating inheritance" is lower than that picked up by an acrobat following Yehudi Menuhin.

As an interviewer of people—oddball and otherwise—Paar is in the same pro league with Linkletter. His handling of the precipitous Oscar Levant last week was expert and allowed Oscar to perform his annihilation of himself and friends with total perfection.

Linkletter, Paar and Levant would make an interesting parlay for a "People Are Peculiar" show, come to think of it.

Beaver Mental Health Survey Will Continue

The survey of childhood mental illness being conducted by the Beaver County Mental Health Society as part of a statewide program of Pennsylvania Mental Health, Inc., is scheduled to move into all areas of Beaver County within the next two weeks.

The purposes of the survey are to discover the extent and nature of services for mentally ill children, estimate the number of mentally ill and assess the need for services, and to devise a plan of action.

The survey of the Beaver Area schools has been completed as a pilot study to establish the pattern of the survey to be used in other schools. Teams of workers, all members of the childhood mental illness committee of the Mental Health Society, will direct the study with the co-operation of school administrators, guidance counsellors, nurses, teachers and local physicians.

The final report of the results of the study will be statistical and will involve no personal identification, according to Dr. Robert A. Yee, New Brighton psychiatrist and chairman.

West Virginia Bares 8,255 Cases Of Flu

CHARLESTON (AP) — The State Health Department announced that 8,255 cases of influenza-like diseases were reported in West Virginia last week compared to 4,120 the previous week.

Not included in the totals is a reported high incidence of the respiratory illness in Brook County where about 700 students and 10 teachers were absent from classes in Wellsburg yesterday. Schools outside Wellsburg in the county were operating but school officials reported heavy absenteeism.

The slang word "booze" for whisky was derived from the name of E. C. Booz, a 19th - century distiller in Kentucky. Booz bottled his whisky in square flasks of dark brown glass shaped like log cabins and people began calling his product "booze".

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Social Pressures Burden Teen-Agers

About this time of year committees of senior students in high school are choosing class pins and commencement invitations and other matters relating to commencement. For some months, a yearbook has been developing. Though the committees may have teacher - advisers the cost involved for these items is often left chiefly to the respective committees. What happens is that the total cost is usually enormous. Every member of the class is pressured to order and pay for the items chosen by the committee. Consider the hardship to many of their parents and the humiliation to the students whose parents can't afford the cost.

THE RESPECTIVE committees, it's safe to assume, are made up of a larger proportion of students from well-to-do- homes than from homes of low income.

Like the bellwether of a flock of sheep, one or two students on the committees with affluent parents propose the cost level. How dare the rest on the committee oppose? Besides, the entire class rarely has an opportunity to vote on the selections. Even if they did, those students wishing to vote against very expensive items would hesitate to do so for fear of mockery.

As the enterprise usually works out, it's hardly democratic. Two burdens are placed on many students and their parents:

1. They are expected to buy what they can't afford and 2. they are pressured and denied the opportunity to choose.

A good deal may be said in defense of a yearbook of modest cost. It's something the owner may cherish for years.

One or more teachers may have to spend many hours in addition to their regular teaching load to develop it, and students working with them can get valuable experience.

BUT ITS COST, usually, is excessive and the student who doesn't purchase a copy knows he will be dubbed a disloyal member of his class and of his "dear old school".

The school principal and the whole teaching staff, especially the advisers, should be concerned and aim to influence the judgment of these committee members.

A few very influential teachers might profitably discuss with their students the principles involved. Or some student or faculty leader might present the whole problem objectively before the student council.

After all, teen-agers are idealists and might be led to arrive at consideration of the rights and wishes of all the students. The Board of Education might also help in setting reasonable standards.

With some idealists on the school paper it, too, might help shape more wholesome school opinion. How wonderful it would be if the local public newspaper aired these matters editorially.

Speaker Chosen For Program Of Ceramic Society

Dr. E. F. Osborn, vice president for research at Pennsylvania State University, will be principal speaker at the 16th annual Bleininger Award dinner of the Pittsburgh Section of the American Ceramic Society Friday, March 8, at 7 p. m. at the Pittsburgh Athletic Association.

The program will mark presentation of the Albert Victor Bleininger Memorial Award to Dr. Herbert Insley of Washington, retired head of the mineral products division of the National Bureau of Standards.

Dr. Insley's selection for the award was announced in December. It is symbolized by a gold medal and scroll, presented for "distinguished achievement in the field of ceramics." The award was established in honor of the late Dr. A. V. Bleininger, who was director of research at the Homer Laughlin China Co.

The ceramists' dinner will be preceded by cocktails at 6:15. Dr. Henry H. Blau of Ohio State University will be toastmaster.

Vilji Heino of Finland ran for one full hour in 1945 and covered a distance of 12 miles, 29 yards, which is a record.
